The meeting of Ames and Nebraska on Saturday is locked up in Iowa football circles as the most crucial one in Missouri football this year. Four teams are still undecided in conference, Ames, Nebraska, Kansas and Drake. It is generally conceded that Nebraska is better than all but Kansas in the next week. Also predictions made that Drake will meet one of the best teams at either Kansas or Missouri, thus giving Ames or Drake the claim to being better. It will be seen that this is if Nebraska wins they have but to defend their fine field to pass as Missouri Valley champions, while if Ames wins, the Aggies will have to defend their title from Drake alone.

Ame is in good condition for the first day of his training to meet Saturday. The big fellow's plays to teach his games of his career. The Iowa game left on the schedule, as Purdue, is an easy game. Maybe they will have to work hard to win. The boys are ready, Dr. Henry Herbert, who saw the team go to practice last week to train the backs to start in the Missouri Valley football this year. The team is in better shape. Reports from other states have said that Maryland has gone up in spirit. The team is playing hard with the ability to meet the backfield of the teams.

THIRTY-TWO INSTITUTIONS WILL BE IN CONTEST

Find Preliminaries are scheduled for December 19. Questions for Debate will be announced later. There will be a good practice for the debate.

The team is expected to meet Saint Louis in another week. Also predictions by last Saturday. Bremer last year when they won from Saint Louis and the report was unfounded.

The freshmen's goal last week was the title of the school. The freshmen's goal last week was the title of the school. They are both on the best teams in the nation.

Amusements To Night

The "Three Twins" which closes to the Colddren this evening with the full prestige of a Metropolitan success, having had a run of 5 months in Chicago at the Whitley Opera House, and 8 months in New York at the Herald Square Theatre, where it scored several tremendous success with its beautiful music and wonderful -"edical novelties. It is said to be the handsomest realistic company in America, including eight Persian gowns given to Mr. Joe H. Gales purchased in Paris especially for this production. The company is a tremendously large one and evin- ing to the vast amount of heavy elec­ trical equipment and scenery it re­ quires, two baggage cars to transport it.

Another Liebler Triumph

In the last few days Liebler Co., have presented the fullest dra­ matic attractions ever given in this portion of the country by a single musical. As Old Jack Hurvitz used to say, "Count "em." Here are a few: Eleanor Robbin, Viola Allen, Win. M. Craven, and Miss Bille Jefforys, Yvette Guilbert and Albert Chevalier "The Square Man," "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cottage Paths," Isidore Irving, Mrs. Patrick Campbell and her Lon­ don Company, and greatest of all American play successes, "The Man from Home" which achieved the ac­ tualizing Chicago run last year of 314 performances and is now break­ ing records at the Astor Theatre New York. It is a glad news that "The Man from Home" plays here Thursday. The play is an essentially American, and so essentiality of the small­ est sort, that it may be fairly con­ sidered a part of its soil.

Freshmen Notice

The sixth lecture of the course on Hygiene for the Fresh­ men Class, to be given by Mrs. W. W.ld, will be postponed from Tuesday evening, November 2nd, to Friday evening, November 6th, at seven o'clock in the Assembly Room of the Hall of Liberal Arts. Attendance upon this lecture is re­ quired of all freshmen women in the College of Liberal Arts.

"Man from Brodick's":

"The Man from Brodick's is my and, the least, of entertaining tales of life fiction by the author of "Greenland" and "This Day of the Year." Dr. McCreadie in his forth book lends the name of the story and includes in it all of his favorite ingredients: pretty women, love stories, and, of course, advance for sports. The story plot pours out of a will left by two old men who had amassed a huge fortune in the mines of the Island. The terms of the will require the marriage of two of their grandchildren before they can claim the inheritance; otherwise it is to revert to the sisters. A complication arises in the story plot.
