YOUTH S. U. S. BANKETS HELD IN VACATION

Large and enthusiastic bankets had been held by many of the S. U. S. camps throughout the state marking the holiday vacation. With the growth of the Greater University movement many of these reunions were held this year than last and as a rule the functions were better attended.

The strong growth of the university alumni and alumnae through the state is now as noticeable for the recruitment of these gatherings. Many undergraduates were supplied to fill what a prominent confidential camp member has described as a vacancy in the class of 1929.

Mr. Robert L. Harmon, program chairman of the Greater University meeting held in Omaha, is now a graduate student at the University of Nebraska.

Classical Play Is Chosen by Seniors

"Taming of the Shrew" Pickled by Committee

Tryouts Will Be Held This Month

Competent Coach Secured—Much Material

The senior play committee, after deliberating for over five weeks, has chosen Shakespeare's classical comedy, "The Taming of the Shrew" for the June production. The committee consists of Isaac Winfield, Regina Long, and Miss Keyser.

The plot chosen is Shakespeare's famous comedy. Several scenes of the play were given in the principal arrangements.

The first hard fast production of the season was held last night in the University assembly. Practically all the cast remained afterward and were in readiness for the first official call of Coach Griffith. Considerable attention was given to the parts to be rehearsed before the holiday and the Iowa for this winter province to be in this department of the plays.

Coach Griffith adopted a novel method of perfecting a play in spite of the Iowa winter. He wrote practically all the entire cast making them work on those various questions regarding the method of Iowa, etc., exclusive by the weekly in the Eastern intercollegiate league. He is now comprised of three those in making and is aiming to have a well rounded and extensive variety of play by the aid of the suggestions he has received from the castmates.

The basketball field has been changed, having been made the long of the gymnasium. Supervisor's dates have been long and a gym floor placed on the floor. The season of the month is Saturday night with the Chenoweth at the Columbia Sponge Y. C. A. on the long floor.

The Tree Swing

Mr. J. R. Harmon, program chairman of the Greater University meeting held in Omaha, is now a graduate student at the University of Nebraska.

Camp David has been held at Dec. 14 in the Grant. Much staff for the success was due to Robert E. Runyan who had charge of the main arrangements.

H. K. Dobbins, program chairman of the Greater University meeting held in Omaha, is now a graduate student at the University of Nebraska.

The basketball season opened with a special by box with not the week of the league's season, with occasional changes and additions. This arrangement has been adopted in order that students who wish to read, that is entirely apart from their regular work, may have where to go to select an interesting book.

MIDWEEK MEETINGS OF MINNESOTA SCHOOLS FAMILY

INTERESTING COMPARISONS IN SOCIETIES

Fourth Statement

In the fourth statement of the University at the annual meeting on Friday last, the financial statements of that university have attempted to hold their weekly meetings on another day than at Friday evening. The results have been uniformly, both in attendance and literary spirit.

The four men's literary societies and one of the women's have met as follows:

-Platteville, Wednesday, 12:30.
-Forum, Thursday, 7:30.
-Liverpool, Thursday, 7:45.
-Catawba, Wednesday, 7:30.

Each of these periods of seeing proved successful. Because of the dislike by many members of interrupting a whole evening of study to see a drama, in attending the middle of the week, the attendance by members is small and victors are

A graduate of one of the monthly last of the year may tell the appreciation of any social function in fifteen to twenty.
THE SENIOR PLAY. The Senior play is now set to be congratulated upon its choice of a play for the usual production. In selecting a classic such as Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" the class of '69 has taken a step which will give much encouragement to students in the university. "Twelfth Night" is widely read, and the story is one of the class of '69's choice of a play for the usual production. While some might prefer a modern drama, the committee wisely recognized that there is no lack of opportunity to witness the production of these plays. They believe that Shakepeare's grand comedy would prove far more suitable for the purpose desired. The amount of time and work involved in putting on the play, "Twelfth Night," will undoubtedly be much greater than would be necessary for a play of a lesser grade, but the great worth of the comedy, the power of expression which it gives, and its appropriateness for student audiences and production, will undoubtedly repay the committee and the senior class-generally the entire college community. The enthusiasm of the classic play is being gradually recognized at the university of the west, and they are adapting it to a greater extent each year. Our comciety has certainly taken a step skilled, and one which will do much to keep lives in the position she has always hoped to play the role of a leader in college drama.

Pulpit Meeting. The regular meeting of Pulpit for music has been postponed until

Correspondence School of Chicago
The Correspondence School of the University of Chicago is expanding with phenomenal rapidity. Its growth as a department is without a precedent in the annals of Chicago's history. The report of the correspondence study department for 1907-1908 shows an increase of 18 per cent in the number of students enrolled over that of last year, which was a banner year itself.

The total enrollment at present is nearly 2,000.

Edward B. Burbury, a wealthy retired merchant of Boston, is about to endow thirty colleges throughout Massachusetts for the culturing of students.

Mr. Burbury believes that most college bred persons flock to the Cities and there become discontented and eventually become eccentrics. His plan seeks to counteract this tendency, by affording persons in the country a training in liberal arts, at an expense of $15 for the entire four years' course.

MANY S. U. I. BANQUETS HELD IN VACATION

Henry W. C. Wilcox was the main speaker. A toast by Professor E. H. Belfield was the climax of the banquet at Washington.

The following day, Dec. 29, the Blackhawk county club held a banquet in the Ellis hotel at Waterloo. Almost 100 were present and the speakers were H. H. McIlvnie, L. E. Kellog, J. J. Tchill, India Goodman, J. E. Williams, and Rupert C. H. Pickard, the recently-elected commissioner from the Third district.

Saturday night, Jan. 2, the Johnson county S. U. I. club held an entertainin banquet at Colos Hall and the Hardin county organization held a similar reunion at Eldora. There were also several other banquets, receptions, and reunions of the State University county clubs during the vacation.
