MUSEUM ATTRACTION FOR IOWA UNIVERSITY

LAWYON ISLAND TO BE REPRO-DUCED IN MINIATURE.

Expedition Will Start in About

Fours Months. In Charge of Gigantic Scheme.

The greatest and most novel attraction of any kind in the world is about to be undertaken by C. G. Jeussen, curator of the museum of natural history of the University. The plan is to produce in one large room one island which has the demands of population at any region known in our country. This island is attracting the attention of the students from the whole country.

In the middle of the Pacific ocean island which lies in the middle of the Indian Ocean. This island is called Jeussen Island, which covers less than six square miles. This island has always been a favorite spot for a few islanders, but it has been chosen for the purpose of selecting candidates for the various offices of the University, and the committee has made the following selection:

president, R. H. Slesser

secretary, J. W. Smith county attorney, W. W. McCall county auditor, W. H. Hand county treasurer, W. L. Kiser county commissioner, W. W. Blakemore

The expedition will be headed by C. G. Jeussen, who will have charge of the island. The expedition will undertake to build the island, and to provide all the necessary facilities for the students who desire to study the island.

The expedition is appointed by the University, and will be financed by the University and the students.

Gentlemen Tonic
At the semi-annual business meeting of the Gentlemen Tonic society, the following officers were elected for the coming semester: President, Bertha Williams, Vice president, Elizabeth Martin, Recording secretary, Helen Williams, Treasurer, Margaret Thompson. Member of program committee, Zella Palmer. All are well known to you, but do not wish to take their degrees at the close of the first semester, but do wish to take their degrees in June, may secure a certificate from the registrar which will enable them to register in the Graduate College for the second semester.

DURING TONIGHT

To the student thoughtful of what would become of him after his work at the University, the preliminary debates tonight have much significance. They will hold primacy for the purpose of placing some one ideally to win the debating honors of the school. It is very well known that the class which does the best work should enjoy the fruits of its endeavor. But this is merely an incident to the main idea of this debate. More important than this is the interest which is assured by an interest in controversy. There is no exhibition about which must sooner or later draw these men into this line than ever before.

Perhaps the greatest effect of these contests was shown in the debates which Iowa won from Wisconsin and Minnesota last fall, championship debates, in which twelve men are trained almost as thoroughly as for an international team, cannot but produce an abundance of strong material for the University teams. The debates and the audience back of these teams are to be expected in every practical way by both students and faculty.

SUMMER BASE BALL

Brown University has taken a stand in favor of summer base ball for the students. This is certainly a commendable move.

Why change the rules as Brown has done, and give the poor student at least, a chance to earn his vacation, the reason necessary for college expenses? College students are allowed to enjoy their skill in other ways, the same ways, less earning pursuits than base ball without being charged with degrading ambition.

Baseball is now as generally recognized as a vocation in which to earn a living that it can be classed with other callings. Now the average student base ball player can earn more of his college expenses in this way than in working on the farm or any of the other jobs open to him.

Plenty of Power Again. Owing to the increased volume of the river plenty of power is being furnished the University Estate plant again, and a full load is being carried at the power house. Though for a time, the supply of current necessary to meet the University's needs was curtailed seriously, it is thought now that no more difficulty will be had this winter. Probably the present section of the legislature will make an appropriate adjustment to install an engine and crane for the purpose of meeting just such emergencies.
