JAILS REVEAL MOST SHAMEFUL CONDITION

PROF. ESTBISBISH MAKES REVELATIONS AT STATE MEETING.

A Week Paper on Iowa City and State Prison—Reprints Re-Form Measures.

Defining the jails of Iowa as "cells for crime" Professor P. S. Estwish, the professor who often read a paper before the State legislature of Charleston and correctness at the meeting.

"There is found surprising difference everywhere on jail conditions, no matter how deplorable," said for the resolution of these number of persons confined in the prisons of Iowa cannot be ascertained from any means gathered by law. That the facts may be large, however, is shown in the reports voluntarily made by the writer from various counties, doubling the figures up into the thousands. Polk county alone reports 4600 cases as in prison records during the year 1908, given names, however, appearing more than once.

Prof. Estwish described with considerable detail night or any similar jail, first poring tributes to the sheriffs and jailers of the state, who, he believed, are much more equal in seeing an improvement in our jail system than are the people who elect them. Furthermore, have often been asked in seeing an improvement in our jail system, which has been brought about by the present condition.

CHUB CERTAIN TEAM NO MATCH FOR GRIFFITHS' MEN.

Newspaper Play Whitfield Baskets; Dawes an Assailant; Notre Dame Second Team.

Iowa defeated Chicago last night in a game marked by improved play on the part of Coach Griffiths' men.

The game was a close one, played in a vigorous style of attack and defense.

Iowa played hard, fast ball from start to finish, Coach Griffiths keeping the same line up throughout and the men showed the oomph of the undergraduates.

Rome, too, was a tale of three players, one of whom scored a touchdown on the Iowa goal line.

The freshmen defeated the varsity second team by a score of 10 to 5 in the closing game.

The Iowa team consisted of the following players: Goals from field: Stewart; 2; Brown; 1; Hyland; 1; Squire; 1; Bennett; 1; Stillman; 1; and W. P. Anderson.

The game came on the second day of the University of Chicago games.

The Iowa team was an interesting one, being composed of Iowa students.

Wise Talks By the Office Boy

I was reading, Ed. said, count yourself rich if you have health, a choice of work, and a few real friends. For accounting, just look up, sufficient clothing and sufficient time: do not bring real happiness, rather wardship, for there is no such thing as happiness. Pursue health and do these things for you by making the right things at the right time.

... and the secretary of the woman's department. Most of the jails described range from poor to horrible conditions, and the women who come to these places are often kept there for very personal reasons, being withheld. Prof. Ewing, however, is ready to give full data and specifications in any way he himself can to do so.

As a speaker, Iowa jails required membership in only one of the tools that should apply to them, that of security. If the purpose of the jail is accomplished when men like the disgraceful animals may be kept securely behind its walls, this discussion is a success.

The system is most severely criticized for its absence of any reformatory features. There is no education, prayer in the prisoners, decent area, in a luxury. Young and old, first soldiers and professional thieves, devoted inmates and despicable vagabonds, innocent suspects and real prisoners in crime, meet on common ground. The jail becomes a school for crime, and is to be known as a reformatory center.

There is little systematic employment, no productive labor beyond the stock yard, and very few jails calculated even at all.

This condition is not left to be taken to the notice of the community, but a general study of the institutions.

Pictures Rapidly Coming In.
"The pictures for the 1918 Haw­ keyes are coming in fast and there is every promise that from the point of view of illustrating and ex­ panding the Junior Book is going to be a great success," was the state­ ment of Manager Carl E. Snyder yester­ day.
"There seem to be many people who think that the final date for turning in pictures is only to mark the announcement of the business depart­ ment but the Hawkeyes is going to press early this year and the first part of the book that will be closed in the part containing the Junior pic­ tures and the organizations. The book is practically all planned new and final dates as already set are final dates unless special arrange­ ments are made." Some difficulty has been experi­ enced in securing a gold ink for use in the section devoted to the Junior pictures as this paper has not been used and most prior uses were a cancer yellow for gold effect. How­ ever the designs in the Hawkeyes will be in black and gold and the gold ink will be a real gold.
Many special features are being planned that will be experienced with in the next few weeks as soon as they are definitely incorporated in the book.
