A CALL FOR HELP

In a university like this there are so many interesting demands on the attention of the students that it is often a difficult problem to determine which things shall be given prominence.

The average student's success as a college man will depend largely on his solution of this problem. No greater opportunity for the exercise of judicious selection exists in the entire college course.

Among these varied interests, that of the Y. M. C. A. occupies a place, on high a place. The religious life of the University cannot be studied without noting unceasingly the things it has done this year, to be continued this fall.

We are often prone to forget that this organization, like all others that are doing great things, requires strong financial backing in order that it may attain its maximum of efficiency. We quite justly and properly urged that the Y. M. C. A. has made use of its living force in the life of the University, it is fully demonstrated its right to live.

One need only read in another book what the things it has done this year, to be continued this fall.

AMUSEMENTS

Bolton Lectures
Prof. E. R. Bolton returned Thrus- day from Chicago, where he attended a meeting of the executive body of the National Business School Association. While there he was re-elected as secretary-treasurer of the executive body for the sixth consecutive year.

In speaking of the work accomplished, Prof. Bolton said, "This committee has accomplished many things that were thought impossible in the beginning. We are accomplishing legislation in the state that is recommended by our Iowa educational association, and is bound to come all over the United States."

COMING EVENTS

March 5. Personality lecture by Julius B. Galt, on "The Man With the Yell."
March 15. "Festive entertainment, by Walker Jones, on "The Art and Artistic." A native of Chicago, under the management of secretary-treasurer of the executive body, is bound to come all over the United States."

Note the Delicate Shades
There is distinction in the new spring neckwear at this store.
A lot of the beauties in four-hand styles have just come in. The maroons, rich blues, purples, and strictly société shades are not adequately described. We have placed them right in front of the store, however, and you are invited in to have a look at the line.

More College Brand Suits Here

Our H. & P. Gloves Fit
H. & P. gloves for spring are right up with the new colors and the green and grey shades are highly popular. H. & P. gloves are the kind that fit the hand perfectly and that is the first essential. We have a complete assortment of sizes but you will do well to make an early selection to be sure of getting the line at its best.
