HAWKEYE CAMPAIGN OPENED YESTERDAY
Manager Buick Outlines Plan of sale

No Copies to be Printed Unless Subscription Done

The 1910 Hawkeye Band president, Manager Buick, last night outlined his campaign for the Junior Annual. Contrary to the usual method of putting the books on sale when printed, Manager Buick has definitely decided that no book will be printed unless those subscribed for within the next week and a half. Old Hawkeye bands have been left with large numbers of unsalable copies on the stands and the treasurer of the University Choral Society will have to face the brutal truth that the title is with us and with God. The trouble is in the understanding.

The speaker showed how God controlled all. She said, "You can't forecast until you are in the Son's hands. Along with this be spoke of the necessity for harmony, showing the power in music, and the power of that same principle to life. "God intended that the world should be united."

In conclusion he mentioned that all processes are tending toward simplicity and that the latest development is simplicity. It is simple. "Diligence and docility are just a hobby which we have built in our efforts to reach God."

"King Oats" by Choral Society
The University Choral Society will hold its first meeting this year, "King Oats," in the summertime. The words are written by Israely Wadsworth. The music is composed by Carl Bruch. The solos are written by Hugo Moser and Rolf Hopper. The price of admission is twenty-five cents.

Randall Hodges
Frank H. Randall, University debating coach, has announced his resignation. It is "in response to a call from the University of Wisconsin where he will engage in the practice of law.

Randall is a graduate both of the Liberal Arts and Law departments of this University. Much credit for our debating team's success is due to Mr. Randall's efficient coaching. His place will be hard to fill and there is general regret at his announcement.

Number 106
Backed up against the farthest last evening and when he’d got his gloves on and donned a few papers it turned out to be ‘just the same’—all right,” says he.

“Now that’s what you call a heart. You see one of use in this world just so far as you are making it happy and better. Place a value on yourself and never work it down. If every soul took root there would be no room for anything but religious. If every soul that broke home this would be impossible. If ever a felt a soul was to be disappointed.”

Then I say up and: "And if ever I carry to the papers word and every soul who went home everybody would be degraded because the others won’t go away on a tip sheen—“

Nebaska Walnut Gone With Amos

Through a mistake in yesterday's Daily Iowa, it was made to appear that the University of Nebraska had asked Iowa for a change in the date of the Iowa-Ames game on that Iowa college play Nebraska. The request in fact was made so that Ames might meet the Cornhuskers as no trouble will be found in playing the Iowa-Nebaska game at the time of the two years' contract.

It is probable that Iowa will play Kansas on Nov. 4 at Iowa City. The tentative agreement for a game with Drake on the 6th will now have to be broken.

The success for a game with the University of Minnesota is not overly bright according to reports from Minneapolis.

Dynamics of George

Blasters were at work yesterday endeavoring to break up the concrete that eliminated the safety of the "Incorruptible" railway bridge. Crowds of interested spectators were attracted to the banks of the Iowa between shots "Old George," an ancient inhabitant of Iowa City, furnished diversion for the entertainers. It is believed that he is 81 years of age. "It's on the third of April. Yes, April 3rd, you said. Several times that day, and twice in the waltz." While the operators worked for safety the clowns were at work too. George remained sitting on the back proclaiming "With Rick's it's a different count. But don't let you do any lies. Now is '47 the brick breaks up. February and carried out a span of the Burlington bridge. This heap just don't amount to nothing.
