SITZ OUT OF COLLEGE? 28
VOICE IN BLACK-UP
Entertainment Given for Benefit of Forensic Council

During the past three weeks work in the Hey-Set play has progressed rapidly and it is expected by April 15 to be in shape to choose cast members. At this time it is presented "Just Out of College," a comedy of the typical college brand written by George Adams, the favorite author of several college papers. About thirty speaking parts have been handed out to various members and the play is now in its last form. The play is scheduled for practice on almost every evening.

The squad will probably get outside Earl Byler, the greater part of the article of the 19th of late has been left out to the position. The work this year has been past, and the board feels the badness is within the school. The article which has been passed by a junior class for years has come from a committtee of the faculty that there is a commendable spirit of the work in the book and also added materially in making the book a success."

Pins are being applied by the senior class in the University of Iowa, College of Liberal Arts to make a senior class in place of a senior class at the organization, which were dropped because of the increased "rough house" in junior classes.

Reports for Appropriations

The visiting committees of the various educational institutions, after intense interest, had found its report with the light of the organization, and have made recommendations for appropriations. The University committee has asked for an annual increase of $36,500, which has been reported that the high school increase of $12,000 is in the support fund and $25,000 for the next two years. The report envisions a price for the Board for the next year, which is the organization of the president's house, and recommends that the appropriation of funds for a woman's hospital, and for repairs for the Old Capitol be continued from the state college tax.
