SMALL COLLEGE VS. LARGE UNIVERSITY

EMERITUS SOCIETY WILL DELIGHT ON FRIDAY

Other Societies Also Have Interesting Programs This Week-end.

The Speakers

The three contests to be debated this evening by the different interest groups are especially interesting. The Emiritius society will debate the question of whether it is more advantageous for a student to attend a small college than to go by a large university. The question of whether the larger college can be taken up by the same methods, while the smaller and more individualized college cannot be debated.

The Emiritius, Society will be represented by the following:

Professor E. A. Johnson on the side of the college.

Debater: John A. Brown

Debater: William H. Baker

THE SAGEFORD DISTILLERY.

We distribute the beautiful books "Cougaread" and other advertising matter and it has brought us new business, and have experienced only satisfaction from the use of the SAGEFORD DISTILLERY.

We have found that the package has a good deal to do with selling goods. We have also found that the quality of the inside of the package has a little more to do with selling the goods. When you get into these habits, we find that you have the best selling article of the kind, and that is what we have to say about the stationary received from SAGEFORD & CO., Wholesale and Retail Dealers, Stadtler Building.

The quality of the goods and their taste and attractive appearance are important, but I must not forget to thank the SAGEFORD DISTILLERY.

We are constantly receiving a steady supply of high grade of the kind, and I expect to keep as much as we can handle. Our stationery is quite a satisfactory one and we recommend it to you.
