COMPETITIVE DRILLS AT '09 ANNUAL CAMP

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR REGIMENTAL MARCH.

Military Field Meet to be Held—
Leave May 29—Lieut. Weeks to Ft. Leavenworth.

The annual competitive drills of the University regiment will be held at West Liberty, Tuesday, June 1, the last day of the cadet camp. Usually these competitions are held on Governor's Day but Commandant C. W. Weeks has announced that owing to the great length of time required for them they will be held at the date and time above mentioned. At this time the individual competitions to determine the best drilled freshman, sophomore and junior will be held as well as the event which attracts the most attention, the company competitions. The prizes for these drills is the Coast sword and a large silver cup. Last year these prizes went to Company A under the command of J. C. Hollman and the same company is working hard to keep the trophies in its possession. However, the other companies are still smarting under last year's defeat and one or two especially have announced that there is going to be a hot scrap before anyone walks off with the honors.

Owing to the fact that the tract of land which was being counted on will not be available, Lieut. Weeks has been forced to abandon his plans for extended maneuvers and sham battles during the four days' camp at West Liberty. Much disappointment has been expressed over this fact by the men who attended camp last year but it is promised that there will be plenty of excitement and work to suit all. A military field meet will be held Monday, May 31, in the West Liberty fair grounds which promises to be decidedly interesting as it is something different from anything ever held by the cadets here. A full program will be announced later.

Much interest is already being manifested over the plans for the spring camp, especially by the old men. Several men who are not drilling this year are arranging to go on the march and it is quite probable that many more will request permission to go as the time draws near. The freshmen who have been unable so far to see much to the drill but the steady grind of indoor work are beginning to catch the contagion and to look forward to the experience of the practical part of military work.

The cadets will leave the armory Saturday, May 29 and march to West Liberty where they will pitch camp in the fair grounds. Special cars in charge of the regimental quartermaster and commissary will carry the supplies over the Rock Island. Tents will be supplied from the National Guards head-

SOCIAL REFORM PROBLEM TO BE SETTLED BY COUNCIL

Professor Wilcox Tells of Proposed Movement

In an interview with a representative of the Daily Iowan yesterday, Prof. E. A. Wilcox outlined the work which has been done in the direction of social reform and university government in general.

"This problem of social regulation, as every one knows, began with the opening of the school year, when the effects of the new social rules began to be felt by the Foreign societies. The societies protested to the University Senate, which referred the matter to a committee consisting of the Social committee and the board on inter-collegiate oratory and debate, presided over by Dean Weld. After much deliberation it was decided that the evils of the social rules was only one phase of a general problem, and that it was beyond their providence to deal with it. They realized that something should be done, but did not know just what. Finally, upon the suggestion of Pres. MacLean, Dean Weld and myself were appointed to select a committee to go into this problem in all its details.

"This committee to be appointed will consider the advisability of having a student council to co-operate with the various faculties in University management. The committee may consider the honor system, social regulations, and in fact, any phase of University control."

Mumanist Society.

The Humanist society met with Professor C. H. Weller last evening. Dean A. N. Currier read an interesting paper on "A New England College Fifty Years Ago."

Professor Currier took up his old college, Dartmouth College, of New Hampshire. He gave a picture of the college, its work and appointments. Student societies and student life and athletics were discussed, as compared with our colleges of today.

The expenses of the college life were told; $1.00 to $1.20 a week for board, and $6 to $12 for room rent for a year, each furnishing his own room.

The requirements for entrance in Dartmouth college were explained, showing the differences between then and the present.

Alumnus Receives Fellowship

Mr. Victor Ziegler, L. A. '08, has been elected to a fellowship in Economic Geology in Columbia University for next year. Mr. Ziegler took his major in geology, and in his final year he won the Lowden prize for general excellence in that department. He is, at present, teaching at Belle Plaine, Iowa.

Prof. Sloan Resigned

Mr. Sam B. Sloan has resigned his position as assistant professor of English, and will leave within a week for the west to recuperate in health.

APRIL ALUMNUS HAS INTERESTING FEATURES

B. W. NEWBERRY WRITES OF SENATOR WHIPPLE

Special Articles on Coach Griffith and Regent Newcomb—Much Alumni News

The April number of the Iowa Alumnus was issued from the press last week. This issue contains thirty-four pages of reading matter and in many respects is one of the most interesting numbers ever published by Editor L. M. Person and his assistants. This month there are five special articles which is an increase over the regular number.

Byron W. Newberry, L. '76, has a biography and sketch of the political career of Senator William P. Whipple, L. A. '77, L. '78, who is the author of the Board of Control bill which provides for a combined board of control for the three state educational institutions. A full page cut of Senator Whipple occupies the frontispiece of the number.

"John G. Griffith," Iowa's new director of athletics and coach of the football team, is the subject of a biography and an appreciation by "Pink" Story of Cedar Rapids.

W. O. Payne, '82, is the author of an article on Fred O. Newcomb of Shell Rock, who succeeds Charles Pickett as a member of the Board of Regents.

Two addresses delivered by Professor Thomas H. Macbride and Professor C. C. Nutting at the University assembly celebrating the Darwin centenary also appear in this issue. The article by Professor Macbride deals with Darwin's contribution to Botany and Professor Nutting's article is termed "Mistakes About Darwin and His Theory."

Full page cuts of Coach John G. Griffith, Regent Fred O. Newcomb, and Prof. C. C. Nutting appear in this issue.

An extraordinary amount of editorials, University and alumni news occupies the remainder of the volume.

1911 Hawkeye Board

Editor Floyd Thomas, of the 1911 Hawkeye, announced yesterday that the first meeting of the annual board will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in room 118 of the Liberal Arts hall. It is the intention to start work just where the 1910 board left off. Thus considerable progress will have been made by the time school opens next year and a handicap of time will be avoided.

Fellowships Will be Given

Appointment of fellowships and scholarships in the University of Iowa will be made next Wednesday evening from the Graduate College. Thirty members have been recommended by the Graduate council.

French Club.

Le Cercle Français will meet this evening promptly at 7:30 at Mr. Remley's, 3 E. Davenport.

PRESIDENTS CONFERENCE ADOPTS STRONG RESOLUTIONS

Appreciation of Paul Smith's Work Expressed.

The conference of the college Young Men's Christian Association presidents of the state of Iowa, assembled in session at Iowa City, April 16-18, 1909, presents the following resolutions:

Whereas, Paul Smith has retired from his work as student secretary of the Young Men's Christian Associations in the state of Iowa, and has gone to another and perhaps greater field of usefulness in Christian service for the young manhood of America, be it

Resolved, That we express to him our sincere appreciation of the faithful, efficient, and effective service which he rendered in his official capacity while among us and that we wish him Godspeed in whatever line of Christian activity his future life may be spent.

Be it resolved, further, that from our love for Paul Smith we express to him our sympathies in the recent illness of his wife and our gratification at the happy news of her convalescence.

Whereas, the speakers at the conference, Pres. G. E. MacLean, A. J. Elliott, E. E. Johnston, Arthur Jorgensen, Prof. G. F. Kay, Chaplain C. S. Medbury, J. C. Prall, P. E. M. Hansen, B. Dawson, J. W. Pontius, J. J. McConnell, Jr., A. G. Cushman, Rev. H. F. Martin, H. L. Heinzman, and Clifford Wells have come to us out of busy lives to impart to us instruction, inspiration, and enthusiasm which we may carry to our respective associations, be it

Resolved, That we make known to them our appreciation of the power which comes to us from the personal touch of such purposeful men God.

Whereas, the members of the local Young Men's Christian Association of the State University of Iowa and other students of the school together with the citizens of Iowa City have so royally entertained us during this conference, be it

Resolved, That we by these resolutions extend to each and all of these kind well wishers and friends the heartfelt gratitude of the attendants upon this conference.

It is recommended by the committee that a copy of these resolutions affecting Paul Smith be mailed to him at his present residence and that a copy of all these resolutions be furnished the University paper, The Daily Iowan.

Committee on resolutions:

- Roy Havens
- R. E. Pierce
- L. E. Dodd.

MORNINGSIDE LOSES FIRST TO HAWKEYES

KIRK'S MEN WALK OFF WITH FIRST GAME, 6 TO 4

Iowa Uses Two Batteries—Many Changes in Line-up—Numerous Errors Mark Contest

The Hawkeyes took the first game of the inter-collegiate season yesterday on Iowa Field when they trimmed Hollister's men from Morningside by a score of 6 to 4.

Considering the condition of the grounds and the state of the weather, the contest was a good enough exhibition of the national pastime, although errors were plentifully sprinkled all through. The best features of the game were the work of Hook behind the bat and Kallemeyn's catch of a liner from McGregor's stick in the first. The twirler with the long name had fame thrust upon him, for the ball came off the bat like a shot, and his catch was merely a matter of self-protection. Kohl was on second at the time, and the hit would have scored him had it gotten away.

The game opened with Burrell and Gunderson in the points for Iowa, and the only unpleasant feature of the first inning was a single to right center by Powers, which came to naught when he overslid third in a brazen and almost successful attempt to pilfer that sack, after having previously annexed second. Kohl led off for Iowa by beating a hit to deep short. Stewart advanced him to second, going into the discard himself. Here Bechtel sliced three gashes in the cool April breezes, and McGregor's attempt to slay the pitcher resulted in his own demise.

After Morningside had passed away peacefully in the second, Bryant, realizing that further trifling was useless, seized his club and smashed a safety to right. Not to be outdone, Kallemeyn proceeded to make a few hits himself, and bounced one off Hemmingway and another off McGuire. This filled the bases, and a squeeze play was ordered. Gunderson missed the ball, leaving Bryant high and dry some fifty feet southwest of the plate. Not liking to see anyone in trouble, however, Convey dropped Powers' throw, and Bryant came in. Morningside tied it up in their half on a walk, an error and a hit. This merely stirred the varsity to greater deeds and they proceeded to break up the game with four scores in the third, made on a hit and several errors by the soaring Sioux Cityans.

This looked like enough and no more scores were made by the Hawkeyes for some time. But Morningside came back with one in the sixth and two in the seventh, so one more was annexed for Iowa in the eighth, while a fast double from Wilkinson to Stewart to Hyland cut off the visitors. They died peace-

THE VALUE OF THE DEBATE
TRY-OUT

The question for intermediate debate will soon be decided upon. This should be significant to all interested in Iowa's progress in forensics. We have an enviable record to uphold.

Competition is very keen between the universities in the league. This means that the very best available material for the teams must be obtained.

The only way to get the best is for every man who is at all qualified to start his preparation for the try-outs now. A good understanding of the question cannot be gathered in a day.

It behooves every debater to try out. The experience gained by going through the preliminaries is invaluable. Each appearance prepared for consecutively plays an important part in a man's intellectual development.

Though the debater owes a duty to his university, he also owes a larger duty to himself. There is no way in which he can become acquainted with the nation's problems so intimately and effectively as this. Complete understanding of one question tends to give a man an intellectual edge that will enable him to better handle any and all of the practical problems of life.

Debating is thus invaluable for a good, clear grasp of present day problems. Moreover, one acquires ease and fluency in expression. Not only must one clothe his thoughts simply and clearly, but he must speak them so that they carry meaning. Every work-out in public address means much to the college man. Those who lead after leaving school are the ones who have developed themselves in public expression while in school.

These try-outs which precede every great contest are opportunities which no student who at all expects to be a future director of public thought can afford to pass unimproved.

"That won't do any good," said the young man, "what I want is a retriever."

What I want to tell you is that one good suit isn't quite half enough. If a fellow has only one good suit that is ready and right, he hasn't got enough. He's got only half enough from the economy standpoint.

Why The Offset Crank Shaft?

Notice a man about to mount a bicycle. He always adjusts the pedal where it will receive to best advantage his full weight on the first downward stroke. This position for the pedal is just forward of the center of the crank shaft of the bicycle. If he mounted when the pedal was directly over the center of the crank shaft, his weight would fall directly on the bearings and the first downward stroke would be retarded and therefore weak.

Now imagine the man's leg as all effort is wasted. Thus when the piston of an automobile engine the explosion occurs, the greatest force falls upon the bearings. When the explosion occurs in the shaft of the bicycle as the crank pin and the crank shaft of the engine. In the ordinary engine the crank pin and piston (the pedal and the position to receive the full pressure of the man's leg) are directly over the dead center and until the crank passes the turning point all effort is wasted. Thus when the explosion occurs, the greatest force falls upon the bearings. In the ordinary engine the crank pin and piston (the pedal and the position to receive the full pressure of the man's leg) are directly over the dead center and until the crank passes the turning point the Rambler engine the crank pin has moved past the dead center; the crank shaft is in a position to receive the full pressure and turns without friction. There is no side thrust and wear on the cylinder walls is thus saved.

AMUSEMENTS

Paul Gilmore

The dominant note in Paul Gilmore's success is the note of accomplishment. He has grace and facility, and, above all, charm, and his performance seldom falls short of his possibilities. There is in his work nothing of the amateur, nothing experimental or capricious. He is eminently versatile and he has grown tremendously during the seven years he has been starring under Jules Murray's managerial guidance. "The best of Gilmore," as it was recently said, "is Gilmore himself, and of the humor, the temperament, the independence of mind, the buxom and jovial sincerity that go to make up the complete man." He has played a variety of parts with almost equal distinction, understanding and effect, but he is at his best in a role that is partly comedy and partly charged with romance, like Tony Allen in "The Boys of Company B," in which he will appear at the Children Wednesday.
