Minnesota Meet Tomorrow

FIRST DUAL MEET OF SEASON
ADMISSION IS FIFTY CENTS

TWO MEETS SATURDAY: MINNESOTA AND DRAKE

FRESHMAN TRACK TEAM HAD TRY-OUTS YESTERDAY

Training Hindered by Soft Track— Probable Victory For Both Iowa Teams

Tomorrow will be an important day in Iowa athletics. For the first time this year the varsity track men will be pushed to their limit and the exact strength of Iowa's team will be shown. The Hawkeyes will clash with Minnesota on the home field in their annual dual meet and the first year men will journey to Des Moines where they will compete with the Drake University freshmen.

The home meet held a week ago allowed track followers to get only a partial line on Iowa's prospects for this year, since some of the likely candidates for positions did not enter the meet. However, it is expected that all men eligible for either team will compete on one of the two meets tomorrow.

Coach Mark Catlin has not yet announced the men who will represent Iowa in the Minnesota meet, but only two men are allowed to enter each event. There are several good candidates for each place and Catlin is having some difficulty in making his choice. Consequently, he will probably not announce the names until Saturday afternoon.

The men have been working faithfully whenever the weather permits and Catlin feels well satisfied with the large squad which turns out for practice. However, little was done yesterday or the day before on account of the rain and the soft track. But if Jimmy's word can count for anything the track will be in "foine shape" tomorrow.

Suits have been ordered for both the varsity and the freshmen and will be ready for use Saturday. The men hope to initiate them by bringing home two victories for Old Gold. Iowa is by no means confident of a walk-away, but still they hope to nose out a victory, although they have no idea of making it so decisive as last year's score of 13 to 1 indicates. No startling records have been made in practice this week, but the work of the men is proof of good, consistent effort.

Tomorrow morning at 8:03 Captain Alderman of the freshmen, with a squad of 14 men will leave for Des Moines where they will take on Drake's first year men in the afternoon. The youngsters from both schools are unusually strong, as is evidenced by their performances on the track and field in previous meets this spring.

IOWA ACADEMY OF SCIENCE TO CONVENE IN IOWA CITY

Prof. Calvin Outgoing President Speaks Tonight

Today and tomorrow the Iowa Academy of Science, including all of the larger colleges in this state, will hold its regular annual meeting in the rooms of the Hall of Natural Science, and the assembly hall of the Liberal Arts building. It will begin this afternoon at 1:30 p. m. with the reading of several papers of scientific interest, preceded by a short business session. This evening at 8 p. m. Prof. Samuel Calvin, the outgoing president of the society, will deliver an address. Prof. W. A. Lorey, a distinguished zoologist from Northwestern University, will give an illustrated lecture on "The Service of Zoology to Intellectual Progress." This meeting will constitute the regular weekly program of the Baconian society, which has merged its session with that of the Science organization.

Following this an informal reception will be given by the members of the Triangle club.

Saturday morning Prof. Karl Guthe will conduct experiments in the Physics lecture room at 8:30.

Tomorrow at 12:30 p. m. an informal luncheon for the members of the Academy and the American Chemical Society will be given at the Burkley Imperial hotel.

In the afternoon a program of scientific interest will be continued, followed by a business meeting for the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Prof. C. C. Nutting, the chairman of the committee on arrangements, has provided entertainment for the visiting guests and states that there will be about forty in attendance. The students of the University and the general public are cordially invited to attend these meetings, most of which will be held in Prof. Houser's lecture room in the Hall of Natural Science. Those in charge are anxious that the students understand that the meetings are open to the public.

Early English Club Meeting

The Early English Club held its last meeting of the year at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Flom, Tuesday evening. The club is at present studying Langland's "Piers the Plowman." Miss Chawner and Miss Beyer discussed Langland's life and the text of Piers, Plowman, illustrative selections being read and discussed by other members of the club.

No Report of Game

Owing to a misunderstanding, no report of the Iowa-Luther game was received last evening. It is probable, however, that there was no game on account of the inclement weather.

IOWA CITY AND FORT DODGE DEBATE TONIGHT

HIGH SCHOOL CHAMPIONSHIP WILL BE SETTLED

Both Teams are Led by Experienced Debaters—Coaches are Old Iowa Alumni

Tonight in the Hall of Natural Science will be held the final debate for the high school championship of Iowa. After a series of debates in the State High School Debating League, the contest has narrowed down to Iowa City and Fort Dodge. Fort Dodge won the championship of the northern half of the state by defeating Cedar Falls and Iowa City of the southern half by its victory over Tabor.

The state championship is at present held by Fort Dodge and that school is sending down a team this year that will make a strong fight to defend the title. Charles Meloy, the leader of the team, has the enviable record of participating in eight inter-scholastic debates without a defeat. He was a member of last year's championship team. He is a senior this year and the debate tonight will end his high school for-ensic career.

The other two members, Richard Colby and George Bradshaw, are juniors and this year is their first in debating. But with the number of contests in which they have participated this year they will come to Iowa City backed up by considerable experience.

Iowa City, the bidders for the title, are led by Harold Thomas, a senior in the local school. Mr. Thomas has an excellent record behind him, having been a member of the Iowa City championship team two years ago. He has participated in seven inter-scholastic debates without a defeat. The debate is his last appearance in high school circles.

The two other members of the team, Edward Korab and Herschell Payne, are also seniors. They have appeared for the first time in inter-scholastic debate this year, but in the previous contests have shown great ability.

Both teams are coached by old Iowa debaters. Ray Files, who will be remembered as one of Iowa's most successful debaters, is coaching the Fort Dodge team. The coach of the Iowa City team, Mr. Butterworth, was a member of the team which defeated South Dakota several years ago. The team winning tonight's debate will be presented with a large satin banner suitably inscribed.

Will Attend the Queen

Miss Ethel Sykes and Miss Edith Rigler were elected by the junior girls to attend the Queen in the May-Day Fete.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL TRAINING IN EXHIBITION

Girls Give Fine Demonstration of Class Work

Last evening at 7:30 in the University armory, the department of physical training for women gave an exhibition of the work which the classes have accomplished this year.

The class was conducted in its usual order of work. Military tactics were first performed and the classes did unusually well in the different wheels and manouvers. Dumb bell drills were next in order, which was followed by gymnastic dances, (a) Faust Waltz and (b) Schottische.

Free work and fancy steps were taken up, showing the class to advantage. The Irish tilt and Marzurka steps were shown in the gymnastic dancing also, as well as Swedish Folk dance. The wand and flag drills were performed especially well. Quite a few daring feats were performed by the girls in the ring work, which was followed by the "darky Schottische." The girls in this dance were dressed in appropriate costumes and in this way carried out the spirit of the dance. A relay race completed the evening's exhibition.

Much credit for this splendid exhibition has been given to the faithful and constant work which Miss Alice C. Wilkinson, the instructor, has spent upon it and the demonstrations were fully appreciated by the audience, which was good-sized, despite the rainy weather.

This is the first exhibition of its kind which has been held since two years ago when a joint exhibition was given by the Varsity Rifles and the physical training departments. This year it was arranged to give the exhibitions separately.

Ensign Visiting Schools

Prof. F. C. Ensign is visiting the high schools at Whiting, Danbury, and Sac City this week. On Friday evening he gives the commencement address at Terril.

Another Election to Fraternity

Miss Kathleen O'Connor has been duly elected a member of Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary fraternity, in addition to those names published in Thursday's Daily Iowan.

Readers' Club Meeting

The Readers' club met last evening with Miss Mary Brooks on East Jefferson street. After the regular program the members held the first rehearsal of the play which they will give at the May Day Fete.

Season Ticket Announcement

The baseball season tickets will be on sale in Secretary W. J. McChesney's office until May 4. The price of the tickets is $1.50. It admits the bearer to seven games.

FRESHMEN SEEK CATS: HAVE SOME DIFFICULTY

EMBRYO BIOLOGISTS SEARCH FOR KITTENS

Farmers Reluctant to Part With Pets in Interest of Science— Thrilling Experiences

Even as the ancient Thebeans paid their annual tribute of flesh and blood to the Minolaur, so the feline tribe of Johnson county is contributing its yearly toll to science. For every member of the freshman biological class must bring a cat into the laboratory for dissection.

Every farmer in the vicinity of Iowa City is acquainted with the real purpose of those who ask them for a cat. The explanation offered that the kitties are wanted as pets has become trite. Farmers are very unwilling to contribute to the progress of science and defend their children's pets as they would their homes. Housewives nearly faint away at the mere suggestion of giving a kitten to one who has the appearance of a student.

But in spite of all opposition, the freshmen have been wonderfully successful in their raids. Already the New Science Hall is flooded with telephone calls from anxious people whose pets have suddenly disappeared. But their inquiries meet with no success. It is impossible to find in the long rows of skinned felines any that answers to a description of "maltese," "white," or "spotted." The children weep in vain, for their pets have been sacrificed.

Amusing and thrilling are some of the experiences met with in searching for a specimen. Two students left town the other day and continued their quest all afternoon. Finally they accosted a farmer who could not understand English. To make plain their wishes, the biologists resorted to the language of signs. One of the boys picked up a big "tabby" that was rubbing against the farmer's feet and started off with it. Too late the owner understood. He seized a pitchfork and started in pursuit but the student was game and got away with his prize.

Last year an irate man from Coralville stormed into the laboratory and demanded his cat. Unsuccessful in this course, he offered fabulous rewards for information leading to the apprehension of those who stole his kitten.

Such opposition and annual inroads upon the number of Iowa City cats imposes a more serious task upon freshmen biologists each succeeding year.

AMUSEMENTS

Florence Gear

"How would you like to have a trio of ex-husbands come around on the day you are to wed number four?" This is what happened to Mary Montgomery-Bunchgrass-Smudge-Drinkwater-Kulpepper. And to complicate matters all the more, number four is president of the Anti-Divorce League, and has gone so far as to draft a bill prohibiting divorce which is to be presented before congress. This is one of the very amusing situations in "Marrying Mary," the three-act musical comedy which will be seen at the Coldren Tuesday.

Beautiful Florence Gear, is the much-wedded young woman, who invariably is equal to the many trying positions in which she is every minute finding herself placed. The music and lyrics combine with the dialogue to make "Marrying Mary" a gem of its kind. A very capable QUALITY STATIONERY.

The latest designs, shades and finishes in correct stationery for cultured people—men, women and maids—brides and debutantes—young and old, rich papers packed in boxes of such exquisite beauty that a sight is a sale.

Dozens of designs to choose from; all of such conspicuous merit that you at once get the reputation of having the only correct line in town.

NO DEAD STOCK POSSIBLE

Because we take back and exchange any and every unsold, unbroken box that does not "take" in your section, giving you something fresh, and bright in its place.

Do you know of any other wholesaler who will do this? Where do you suppose our biggest trade comes from? From the backwoods?

Not on your life—from CHICAGO, Denver, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Grand Rapids and from every state and every important city in the country, as well as thousands of small towns and villages.

Not so bad for Iowa City, is it?

"We distributed the beautiful books 'Correspondence' and other advertising matter and it has brought us new business and many have expressed appreciation of receiving the useful little book. We like your plan and we are going to be able to easily sell enough of the stationery to meet the acceptances as they come due. With the long time, fine special advertising and exchange, your plan is better than any one we know of. We are selling lots of paper and it is giving good satisfaction."—MARTIN W. RIESEMAN, Druggist, Franklin, Pa.

"We have found that the package has a good deal to do with selling goods. We have also found that the quality on the inside of the package has a little more to do with selling the goods. When you get both of these things combined, we find that you have the best selling article of its kind, and that is what we have to say about the stationery received from you."—WALTER K. SCHMIDT CO., Wholesale and Retail Druggists, Grand Rapids, Mich.

"The quality of the goods and their neat and attractive appearance proved to be an excellent salesman themselves, and I have no doubt that I shall be compelled to make another order soon. I like your plan and consider it a remarkably liber and just proposition."—T. N. HARTZELL, Books and Stationery, Kearney, Neb.

THE PLAN THAT SELLS IT.

We sell you more than stationery—we sell you a complete, brilliantly-advertised stationery business—works while you sleep—builds up a permanent trade—wins fame and reputation—sells several boxes where you'd sell one otherwise and increases your business in other lines by bringing well-to-do people into your store who never crossed its threshold before.

All you need is to buy an assortment of our box stationery with our superb advertising service, use a little counter, show-case, shelf or window space, do your part at using our advertising furnished with your name and address and business, and your customers will do the rest.

OUR ADVERTISING SERVICE IS PRICELESS

It includes:—a dainty, captivating booklet called "Correspondence" that tells people just what they want to know about the etiquette of correspondence. You mail or distribute it as your book with your own imprint on it.

Also embraces a quantity of artistic blotters; striking hangers for your store and a magnificent window display, ready made advertisements, readers, cuts, etc., etc.

This advertising will give your whole business a tone and character that will bring the best people into your store.

ity to see them work before the meet.

Coach Catlin held a try-out Tuesday, Wilson, Campbell; pole vault, Campbell; weights, Alderman, O'Brien, Murphy; half-mile relay, Hotz, Sallender, Lynck.

These men will not necessarily make up the team for all the meets this spring, but try-outs will be held every Wednesday afternoon and every man who works out regularly will be given a chance to bid for a position.

Next Wednesday afternoon Coach Catlin will conduct a try-out for the freshmen in which he will select the men to go against Coe at Cedar Rapids on Saturday, May 8. This will be positively the last call for track material and every man who wishes to do track work this year must get out by this time.

In an interview yesterday afternoon Captain Alderman said, "We will take a strong team to Des Moines next Saturday and will give the Drake freshmen a go for their money. I would like to see a good bunch of rooters accompany us and help us all they can by their cheering."

Because The Weather Is Bad

Yes, the weather does keep wet and cold but that does not stand in the way of your "warming up" to some of the new goods which have just come in and received a place in the stock of this store. We have exercised our best judgment in the selections we have made to fill up every department and wait on you for your approval. The heavy patronage thus far accorded us in all spring lines leads us to believe that again we have met the tastes of the buying public.

Your Suit Needs Are Here

We want every student to know College Brand clothes. We believe they most nearly represent the best conception of clothes for young men of any produced. Our expert tailor is at the service of any purchaser in making any needed alterations in a suit. We take pride in a suit after it leaves the store as much as while it is here and do not knowingly permit a customer to get a garment which does not fit him perfectly.
