MUMMA IS REFEREE: RULES FOR CONTEST

NEW REGULATIONS MADE FOR ANNUAL CLASS CLASH.

Picked Teams Will Battle Around Push Ball Before the Classes Engage in Struggle.

Three separate push ball contests will take place on Iowa Field Saturday morning under the supervision of Lieut. Morton C. Mumma, the new commandant who has been selected as referee. Two teams of twenty men each from the freshmen and sophomore classes will meet before the final class clash is scheduled. The class winning two out of three of the events will be declared the victor.

The class contest will be under the supervision of the two upper classes, the seniors protecting the sophomore interests and the juniors acting as guardians of the freshmen.

Following is the complete set of rules for the contest:

Rule 1. Eligibility—All regularly classified first and second year students in the college of liberal arts are eligible to participation.

Rule 2. Field—The field shall be 65 yards square.

Rule 3. Contest—There shall be three separate contests, the victory being awarded to the class winning two of these contests. Two of these contests will be by teams of twenty men from each class; the third by the entire membership of the classes. Each of these contests shall last ten minutes.

Rule 4. Officials—The officials of the contest shall be a referee, to be the commandant of cadets and four umpires, two from the junior and two from the senior class. The contest will be started by the firing of a rifle by the referee and stopped in same manner. For the starting of each contest the ball will be placed in the center of the field with opposing teams lined up on opposite goal lines and no man may cross the starting line until the gun is fired.

Rule 5. Captains—Each class must be represented by a captain and no other contestant is allowed to address the officials.

Rule 6. Scoring—A goal will be counted whenever a team succeeds in placing any part of the ball across their opponents' goal line. In case no goals are scored the contest will be decided against the team in whose territory the ball remains at the end of the contest.

Rule 7. General—Each captain must hand to the umpire at his end of the field two lists of twenty men who are to represent his class in the team contests.

Rule 8. Admission—A general admission of ten cents will be charged at the gate. All members of junior and senior classes L. A. will be admitted free. The boys of these classes are appointed to police the grounds and to call the attention of umpires to any unnecessary roughness.

MORNING DRILL PROBABLE; CHANGE YET MAY BE MADE.

Commandant M. C. Mumma Still Plans for New Hours.

That Lieut. Morton C. Mumma, the new commandant has not given up hopes of having drill in the morning, is shown in an interview printed in a Des Moines paper yesterday. It was reported in the summer that the new system would be adopted and then later denied.

The next news of the change is shown in the following story:

"Lieut. Morton C. Mumma, formerly of the Second cavalry, and now instructor of the student regiment at the state university was in the city yesterday. Lieut. Mumma is working to reform the methods of training the student soldiers and by next spring he expects to have them do all their drilling before 7 o'clock in the morning. During the winter they will drill between 9 a. m. and noon instead of during the middle of the afternoon as has been the practice in the past. Lieut. Mumma says the registration at the university this year will be greater than ever before. "I was surprised to find how much interest is taken in military at Iowa City," he said. "Four hundred men have already enlisted for the term and we will probably form another company from the law department. It is also planned to organize a hospital corps from the medical school and an engineer corps from the school of engineering. During the early hours of the morning is undoubtedly the time for military drill for college men. They feel fresh then and not tired and worn out as they are in the late afternoon. Besides, there is nothing else to distract their attention at that time and keep them away from drill. They are sure to come to it in time."

Musicians Begin Rehearsals.

"The Ladies Harmonie," a glee club composed of university girls under the direction of Miss Anna Smith Close, will begin regular rehearsals at once. During the past school year, this organization appeared before the public upon numerous occasions, terminating the years' work with a musical given in the Congregational church. The girls wishing to join are asked to consult with Miss Close at her studio, 114 South Clinton St.

Many Alumni at Audubon.

Henry P. Smith, editorial writer on the Daily Iowan last year and present superintendent of the Audubon public schools writes that there are four alumni in the high school this year. They are F. W. Johansen, Caroline Schichtl, Isa Lighthall and H. P. Smith. He says "Everything is going well and we are anticipating a prosperous year's work."

K. of C. Notice.

Following is a notice: "Student members of the K. of C. will please leave their names and addresses with C. F. Huebner at The Citizens Savings and Trust Co., or with Thomas Farrell at the First National Bank."

CHIEF DUTY TO THINK: PARKER AT ASSMBLY

FORTY-SECOND CONVOCATION IS ADDRESSED BY ALUMNUS.

New Staff Members Introduced.—
Honorary Degree Presented.

Fifty-three new members of the staff of instruction were presented to the university yesterday. The occasion was the forty-second convocation. Hon. Geo. F. Parker, an Iowa alumnus addressed the assembly on "The Students' Obligations." He was afterwards honored with the degree M. A. On behalf of the new faculty members, the response was given by Prof. Stewart, who is to be the new head of the department of physics. Mr. Parker's resume of the past and present educational conditions, while bordering on the pessimistic, was really helpful in that it set his hearers to thinking. "The highest duty laid upon the educated American," he said, "is to think."

It is not safe to drift, or to assume the potency of our fixed formula—"it is all right"—whether or not anything is done to put or keep it right. For four centuries we have been living on hopes and dreams, only to find that many of them are impossible hopes, the empty dreams, that have filled men's minds while nearly five hundred civilized generations have been passing.

Nowhere can the college student pay in full, at the time, for his training. The machinery, slowly and painfully elaborated by the effort and sacrifice of dead and living, aided by the contributions of the state, has provided facilities for which no chargeable tuition fee can meet anything approaching interest charges and current expenses. Society, in its massed or corporate form, pays the rest.

No man can be educated unto himself alone any more than he can live unto himself and he may either pay or repudiate his debt to the world. The latter is easy; the former is so difficult that it can only be done by work, continuous and never-ending.

If the student's study of the past—and nothing else enters into mental training—has not emphasized its lessons, if they do not use the tools provided, if they are as simple as the cave-men, or as disobedient as Adam, the college or university has advantaged them little and they are not of great use, other than mechanical, to the world.

Probably the higher ideals have seldom been better summed up than nearly 2,300 years ago, when Pericles, speaking at the funeral of the Athenians who had fallen in war, said:

"We aim at a life beautiful without extravagance and contemplative without unmanliness; wealth in our eyes a thing not for ostentation but for reasonable use; and it is not the acknowledgement of poverty that we think disgraceful but the want of endeavor to avoid it."

SENIORS START NEW SYSTEM:

AUSTRALIAN BALLOT USED

Class of 1910 Sets Worthy Precedent

In Annual Elections

The senior class held a meeting yesterday afternoon in which a new method of holding class elections was adopted. The system is new in some respects similar to the plan of the Greater University committee.

The plan adopted is as follows: The election will be held by the Australian ballot system with secret ballot. The election will be held next Friday afternoon, polls being open from 2 to 5 p. m. Five judges of the election are to be appointed by the present president, one from each literary society and two from outside. A list of seniors will be on hand and each name checked off as the ballot is deposited.

The meeting was marked throughout by hot debate. There was a fierce contest between the adherents of the Greater University committee and its opponents. President G. E. MacLean presented the recommendations of the Greater University committee.

President Mayer appointed the following men for election judges: T. A. Wanerus, J. J. Gunderson, Ralph Finnicum and Roscoe Ayers. The place for the election will be announced later.

Girls Adopt New Plan.

The girl's literary societies have introduced an innovation in regard to the election of members this year. No numbers will be elected until ten weeks after the opening of school. The movement is headed by Erodellian and Hesperia.

Irving Meeting
Irving Institute will meet in Irving hall this afternoon at 3:30. Signed, Earl Stewart, Pres.

Freshmen Class Meeting.

The freshmen of the college of liberal arts will meet in liberal arts assembly room Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Y. M. C. A. Stag a Success

One of the most successful stags in the history of the local association was held last evening at Close hall.

The early part of the evening was spent in getting acquainted. Later an impromptu yell master was selected and the "Old Gold" songs and yells were taught to the new men. The yells were picked up readily and the halls were made to ring with the "Who-Wah-Wah" of S. U. I. Later in the evening a musical program was rendered and a talk by Dean Raymond of the college of engineering. Numerous "stunts" and an appropriate "feed" followed.

The hall was crowded with students, there being over two hundred in attendance.

Eby Here to Help

Griffith

Football practice is once more getting into full swing under the persistent coaching of John Griffith and his assistants. "Morey" Eby made his appearance on the field for the first time yesterday and had one of the squads under his direction. He was tackle on the championship eleven of 1900 and will devote his time particularly to coaching the ends and tackles. Hastings ran another squad up and down the field at a fast clip while Moore assisted Griffith with the tentative first team.

The usual number of candidates were out and went through much the same practice as on the previous afternoon, catching and returning punts, falling on the ball, tackling the dummy and running signals.

Hawkeye stock was given a decided boost yesterday when Walter Stewart appeared on the field. The little quarterback suffered a severe injury to his ankle last spring while playing baseball and had given up all hopes of donning the moleskins this fall. However, the injured member did not bother him so much as expected last evening and all Iowa followers are anxiously hoping that he will be able to direct the team for a third season. Fee and Williams also did good work at quarter.

Coach Heinzman had two teams working out yesterday and hopes to have at least three elevens out by the first of next week. Several of last year's high school football men are in the university this fall but have not yet reported for practice. The following men composed the varsity line-up yesterday:

Base Ball Scores

National League—Chicago vs. Brooklyn, two games, rain; Boston 7, Pittsburg 12; New York 4, St. Louis 3, (second game called in third inning, rain); Philadelphia 4, Cincinnati 4 (14 innings, darkness).

UNIVERSITY CAPS

Uniform caps for each of the four classes in all colleges is the most practical and satisfactory plan so far suggested. At present only the two lower classes liberal arts are wearing them. The idea is for all the freshmen of all the colleges to wear the green cap, all the sophomores the old gold and each of the upper classes similarly to use a uniform color. The colleges will be distinguished by short bands strung in front on the cap or hat varying in color according to the college represented; the bands for the liberal arts students, for example, being white. For the two upper classes it is suggested that hats of suitable style be used instead of caps.

The idea is taking rapidly among the students and it is anticipated that definite steps will be taken soon. Nothing more beneficial to the university harmony and spirit can be instituted just now and this paper believes it voices the sentiment of the majority in expressing the hope that the suggestion be carried out as soon as possible.

Phil, the hero of the story, is an eastern boy who goes west to regain his health. He misses a train, is found by Indians, joins a ranch of cowboys, and after a variety of adventures becomes a real "puncher" with the best of them. But "round-up" life is by no means all that falls to his lot. He hunts bears and is hunted by them in turn, and the same thing may be said of a band of rustlers who come across his trail. He aids in rescuing a little girl held captive by these outlaws, who proves that she can ride and throw a rope on her own account. Altogether it

Students' Furnishings A Specialty

It has been our business for many university generations to study and satisfy the tastes of university students in the matter of dress. Our success tells us that we have what the students want to wear. Our line of furnishings is different from that of the average clothing store. It is more exclusive. It is more varied, in order to meet a wide range of tastes. You are welcome at all times whether you desire to buy or not to inspect these lines.

Keep Posted On Our Showings

New Patterns in imported grades are ready for the inspection of those who have their clothes made to measure. Our tailor will be glad to welcome you. We appreciate the fact that a tailoring department has its place in affording patrons the highest degree of individuality in fit and makeup, and we guarantee our service entirely satisfactory in this respect. If you are interested let us show you our plates of Late Fall Styles
