IOWA ABOVE AVERAGE SAYS JUDGE TOWNER

S. U. I. MUST LEAD IN THIS STATE.

Praises President and Faculty—Good Chance for College Man to Achieve Distinction.

The state university of Iowa is not one of the usual average, according to Judge H. M. Towner who Wednesday morning spoke on "Distinctions and the General Average," but is one of high distinction. "There is no doubt about the distinction of the president and the faculty," he declared, "and the student body of this university is not from the ranks of the average people of Iowa, but is drawn from the pick of the state. The university of Iowa thus has high distinction."

In speaking of the distinction enjoyed by the president, Judge Towner said, "President MacLean occupies an acknowledged place among perhaps a dozen most noted college presidents in this country. He is a man of high distinction. The faculty also is strong, composed of many really high class, not average men. I know of no similar body of men of such distinction."

Not only must the university enjoy much distinction, but it must be pre-eminent in this state. "Last Saturday with a modest victory we began a series of victories that in this state at least, must not be broken," said the speaker. "We must be pre-eminent in Iowa." He pointed to the results the pre-eminence of the universities of Minnesota and Wisconsin in their own states declaring that high school athletes of Iowa must feel that it is to their advantage to come to S. U. I.

In his introductory remarks, Judge Towner contrasted the theory of Herbert Spencer, that events take place without human control, with the theory of Carlyle who held that history is merely a collection of innumerable biographies of great men. "Although the American average citizen is the highest in the world," said Judge Towner, "yet it is not to him that the American youth is looking, but rather to the men of distinction who mould and influence progress. Men of distinction today are the ones who are making history."

Sixty-three of the students of the university are destined to be among the most highly distinguished in the country, according to Judge Towner who cited the estimate that one in forty of the college graduates attain distinction while but one in five thousand of those who are not college graduates rises above the general average. "The students are generally conceded to have a better chance," he said.

"The new state board of education is doing its part to make the university one of distinction. Whenever it can it will strengthen the faculty and add equipment with this idea in view," said the speaker.

CROSS COUNTRY MEN OUT: QUESTION OF STATE RUN Ames Paper Agitates Intercollegiate Run

The first cross country run of the season will start from the armory Saturday morning at 9:30.

Cross country running is attracting more attention in the colleges than ever before. The following clipping from the I. S. C. Student shows how the interest is manifesting itself at Ames:

"Why not have an intercollegiate cross country run? This is a question which has been ranking in the minds of the athletes of our state for some time. It has also occurred to the authorities and students of the various institutions but no very definite ideas have been forwarded.

We mention the subject at this time, so that it may come to the attention of those interested, who may begin a discussion, and agitation leading to an annual autumn cross country run in Iowa, to be competed in by the colleges of the state who are strong enough to be represented in the annual spring track meet.

From the end of the football season at Thanksgiving time until the Xmas vacation, there is left a gap in athletics. The athletes and their supporters now throw caution to the winds, disregard training, and let their interest die. A cross country run abounding with the spirit of rivalry and coming a couple of weeks after Thanksgiving would keep up the interest, and keep in shape during the fall many an athlete who might otherwise spoil his chances for the spring's track competition by utter lack of training during the first four months of his college year.

Middletonian Meets Tonight

The Middletonian meets tonight in Philo hall at 8:00 p. m. The following program will be given: Piano solo, Miss Jackson; "Middletonian's Programs," Dr. Henry Albert; Forecast, President Brammer; Vocal Solo, Miss Newcomb; Vacation Experiences, Extempore; Piano Solo, Miss Jackson.

Epsilon Tau Spread

Epsilon Tau held its initiation and a supper spread at Close Hall Tuesday evening. The following girls were initiated:

Viva Nalden Jones, Florence Mayer, Ethel Newcomb, Marjorie Oliver, Enid Hoyt, Jessie Lackey, Hilda Ellyson, Margaret Keefe, Hannah Parry, Olive Parry.

Ten girls were elected to membership and will be initiated Tuesday, Oct. 19: Amy Hines, Ethel Barber, Verna Moulton, Irene Taake, Mary Ball, Mary Bowen, Tacie Knease, Lela Donneley, Mable Haney, Lulu Utley.

Choral Society to Meet

The Choral society will meet Thursday at 6:45. This is the last opportunity for people to become members. All who wish to join are urged by the committee to be present.

WEST POINT IS MODEL FOR CADET REGIMENT

SWEEPING CHANGES INAUGURATED BY LIEUT. MUMMA

Uniform According to West Point Style—Good Chance For Work in Shooting

West Point is to be the model of the cadet regiment according to the plans laid by Commandant M. C. Mumma. The change most apparent to the casual observer is the uniforms. When the regiment holds its first parade the spectators will notice many changes. White web cross and waist belts with cartridge box will replace the old brown pocket belts. The letters S. U. I. will be embroidered in gold on the collar and all of the caps will have the gilt shield formerly worn by the officers. The cap this year will be changed in style, being the same style as worn at West Point.

The fit of the uniforms will be greatly improved, all being made by a regular military tailor. A better grade of cloth is also being supplied. The officers will wear gold lace chevrons reaching down to the shoulder, the same as worn on the West Point dress uniforms, replacing the shoulder straps. Several minor changes will also be made bettering the appearance of the uniforms.

Added impetus to rifle work will undoubtedly be given by the new commandant. The fact that he is one of the best coaches in the U. S. army leads the cadets to prophesy that Iowa will pull out better than seventh place in the National Intercollegiate shoot this year. Along with the rifle club a revolver club will be organized this winter if sufficient number show an interest in the work. As Lieut. Mumma is the best revolver shot in the army this is a good chance for some excellent training. It will be remembered that he won the state shoot last week at Des Moines and the national shoot last summer at Ft. Sheridan.

New Foot Ball Song

Some unknown enthusiast has placed on the Iowan copy file a parody on "My Wife's Gone to the County." It is written for the dashing "Hooray" tune which has won so much popularity among the students. Following are the words:

We play the game of foot ball,
Hooray! Hooray!
We think it best. We need the rest,
That's why we play today.
We're going to show Missouri,
Hooray! Hooray!
We love our work;
But, Oh! You kid!
Play Ball, I—oway!

Hesperia Reception.

The Hesperian literary society has issued invitations for its reception to freshmen and new girls for Saturday, October 16, from 4 to 8, in Close hall. All new girls are invited to attend. The regular literary program will follow.

EFFORTS OF COLLEGE MEN TO DETERMINE SALVATION World's Future Depends on College—Says McMillan

Mr. Neil McMillan, the international secretary of the Bible study movement, addressed the Y. M. C. A. at its mid-week meeting last night. Mr. McMillan's subject was "The College Man in the Coming Crisis." By the coming crisis Mr. McMillan referred to the world crisis among nations. The stand that was taken by the speaker showed a thorough knowledge of the subject.

Mr. McMillan being interested along the line of Bible study in its true college sense stated that the ultimate working out of the world problem lies with the college man. "In the first decade of the present century the nations of the world are quietly preparing for a great struggle in the future," he said. "The salvation of the struggle will lie in the efforts of the college man of today, and for this reason the better the preparation the better will he be prepared to aid in the struggle to come."

The main point in that which the speaker said was that the place of the college man in the coming crisis was determined by the life he lived now. "By carefully studying current events, considering the many types of men in the present time and by living a thorough life physically, mentally and morally the college man of today will meet the coming crisis and will be in a large measure the solution of the problem," said Mr. McMillan.

Mr. McMillan will be at Iowa for the remainder of the week. He came here from the University of Minnesota. He will address the men of the university next Sunday in the Natural science auditorium.

C. A. C. Elects

At a business meeting of the Camera Art Club last evening the following officers were elected: President, G. W. Moffitt; secretary, Miss Martha McDonald; treasurer, Miss Vinda Godown.

"The club is especially fortunate in its choice of officers for the semester. They are all enthusiastic workers, the president being an amateur of recognized ability," said T. S. Hook in speaking of its organization.

"The club is a new organization and fills a place peculiarly its own. Its work will be of interest to all students who are users of the camera. A club of this kind should have existed long ago and now that it has come it should receive the hearty co-operation of every amateur."

C. F. U. Initiation Changed

The C. F. U. initiation which was to be held Thursday afternoon, has been changed from 4 o'clock to 6:30-7:30.

Readers' Club Notice

The Readers' club will meet in room 312 L. A. Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

POOR TACKLING MARKS PRACTICE OF VARSITY

ENTIRE SQUAD SHOWS WEAKNESS IN TACKLING

Alexander Injured and Stewart Unable to Report—Fee Working at Quarter—New Men Out

The weather man has at last decreed that the cold wave which made practice so disagreeable for both the coaches and the squad Monday and Tuesday of this week has continued long enough and the work-out on Iowa field yesterday afternoon was much more pleasant than on the two days previous. A good number of men came out last evening and went through a stiff practice.

Owing to the weakness which the entire squad has shown in the tackling department all season Coach Griffith sent the men down the field under punts for almost the whole evening. With Hanson, Hyland and Comly taking turns at booting the ball, the remainder of the squad went down in pairs and tackled the runners. Griffith, Hyland, Murphy and Hastings returned the ball in good shape and were often able to elude both the tacklers.

Beyers and Loudon showed up the best in the tackling stunt, but for the most part the squad did poorly. But Coach Griffith intends to keep the men hard at work along this line and hopes that the Nebraska game may show improvement over the contest of last Saturday.

Alexander was forced to leave the field after a short workout because of a cracked rib received in the Cornell game. Stewart was not out again last evening on account of a bad cold which has bothered him for over a week. Williams who has been unable to report for several days came out in a suit again yesterday. He is light but fast and will probably be used at both end and quarter.

A brief signal practice was held last evening just before the men came in. Hazard was not out and his position at fullback was filled by Wright who played there early in the season. Fee was used at quarter and his work added much to the speed of the back field.

The varsity lined up as follows for signal practice:

Hyland and Hanlon, ends; Gross and Ehret, tackles; Bell and Hanson, guards; O'Brien center; Fee quarter; Murphy and Collins, halves; Wright fullback.

Iowa Woman's Club Meeting

The Iowa Woman's club will meet in Close Hall this afternoon at 2:30. "We extend an invitation to all wives, sisters and mothers of university students to meet with us," said a member of the club yesterday.

FOOT BALL SONGS NEEDED

We wish to commend the Iowa enthusiast who submitted a new and fitting football song. Taking advantage of the popularity of a rollicking tune he has produced a song that all Iowa can sing. He realized that our football songs were lacking in number and spirit, and set about to remove the deficiency.

This is just what others who have a talent for writing verses and who have a bit of the football spirit should do. We need a good list of snappy and popular varsity songs as well as more yells. No one should be afraid of submitting his productions. The few that have come in heretofore have been all right.

Humanist Society Resolutions

The following resolutions on the death of Prof. Henry E. Gordon were adopted by the Humanist Society at their recent meeting:

Resolved, That the Humanist Society record on its minutes an expression of the Christian character, good-fellowship, scholarly attainments, inspiring courage and abundant good works of its late member, Henry Evarts Gordon, and of the sorrow it feels in his death; that a copy of this resolution, with the assurance of the society's hearty sympathy, be sent to Mrs. Gordon and her children, and that this resolution be published in the Daily Iowan.

IN CAUCUS

NOTICE!

Believing that the freshmen stand for clean politics and a "square deal" for all, regardless of society affiliations, we the independents offer the following ticket for your consideration. This is the only ticket made by ballot in an independent caucus, and its promise is a "square deal" for all. Every candidate has an excellent high school record and desires your support.

INSTRUCTIONS

To vote the Australian ballot simply make a check mark (x) in the square opposite the candidate's name. Only those names so checked are officially counted. No person can vote more than one person for the same office. The simple check in the square opposite the name does the business.

Don't forget the Time and the Place—Friday, October 15, 1903, at 3:00 to 5:00 P. M., Room 116 L. A.

"Darling," he said, as he hugged and kissed her, "darling, can't you see—can't you guess, that I love you?"

"Well," she replied, drawing herself away and looking at him. "I should certainly hate to think that this is just your company manners."

The youth in the first paragraph, who thought he must do things in order to demonstrate his love, possessed energy and "initiative," and finally he possessed the girl. That's the way it is in this store. All our clerks have energy and lots of initiative and I guess most of them have best girls or would be willing to negotiate a claim. At any rate they are all in love with their jobs and don't have to be told what to do in order to accomplish the things that are to be done. They are all "doers" and not "quitters."

Come around and try on one of the "slip-ons." You know what I mean—those light rain coats.

Freshmen Use Library.
Several days ago Mr. M. G. Myer, the university librarian, visited the freshmen classes in English and economics and gave short talks on the use of the library, giving full information regarding the use of the indexes and how to find magazine literature.

As a result the library is crowded at almost all hours of the day, eager freshmen forming a large part of the studious throng. The demand for books often greatly exceeds the supply. For instance there are about one hundred and fifty students in Industrial history, who have at their command ten books on Starr's
"First Steps in Human Progress,"
the reference now being used.

The books on political and social science are in such demand that a student must often wait his turn to read his reference.

Alumni Banquet in November

Alumni of the State University of Iowa will be able to eat Christmas Turkey and enjoy themselves at home during the Christmas holidays this year and still attend the annual Iowa banquet on one of the evenings when the Iowa State Teachers' association is in annual session in Des Moines. Instead of holding the convention during the Christmas holidays, as in the past, the meeting will be held Nov. 4, 5, and 6 this year. Preparations for the banquet of S. U. I. alumni are under way but have not progressed so an announcement of the plans can be made. The alumni of each of the principal educational institutions of the state hold a banquet on one of the evenings when the convention is in session.

Calvin Gets a Valuable Find.

Prof. Samuel Calvin working in the interests of the Iowa Geological Survey, has made some valuable additions to the university museum during the past summer. Over two hundred specimens were gathered and are now being assorted and classified for use.

Among the finds were three varieties of elephant, and two of mastodan, both of these being common to northern regions, especially in northern Asia and Siberia. Two sloths were found which at one time migrated from South America, the southern now being associated with the northern forms. One big camel was located in the Missouri Valley, near Sioux City, two varieties of wild horse being associated with it. Many of the finds were secured in the gravel beds of Harrison and Pottawattamie counties in western Iowa. These beds lie between two beds of drift and show that at some past time a long interval of mild climate intervened in a glacial condition as is indicated by the remains of vegetation.

Tennis Doubles Yesterday

In spite of the cold weather the first match in the doubles was pulled off yesterday afternoon resulting in a victory for Van der Zee and Sharard over Tilton and Cardell, 6-2; 6-4. The temperature was low and a raw wind was blowing, making fast tennis impossible. The match was interesting to the few who braved the elements to watch the play. The first set went to Van der Zee and Sharard in quick time. However, the losers took a brace and won four games of the second set but even with the lead gained they lost the set in the end to the score of 6-4.

AMUSEMENTS

Babes in Toyland

The personnel of the cast of "Babes in Toyland," which attraction plays at the Coldren Friday is a very strong one, including as it does such well known artists as Ignacio Martinetti, Marie Radcliffe, Gus Pixley, Marie Malatesta, John F. Ward, Norma Cameron, Frank Kenark, Amy Thropp, Leon Mayo, Vergie Burrows, Ida Ward, Violet Clifford, and a strong singing chorus of thirty well trained voices. The costumes and scenery are all new but follow on the original design, which was one of the chief assets in the success of the musical extravaganza.

BESIDES the Quality of the goods---
BESIDES the Distinctive styles---

There is another thing that causes these particular men to come to us time after time to get their tailor-made garments.
And that very important thing is SERVICE.
Our regular patrons would not attribute their repeated calls to service. They would say, if you asked them, that they "simply liked to trade at Slavata's."
But the reason for that kind of remark is because we understand what is wanted. We keep in touch with all the latest styles, and know how to embody in the cut that distinctiveness so prized by all well dressed men.
This combination--Quality, Style and Service--is yours at no greater cost than ordinary tailor-made garments.
May we serve you?
