ARCHITECT PLANS HOSPITAL, START BUILDING IN APRIL

W. Y. Proffitt of Des Moines is Here for Consultation.

Preliminary plans for the new $75,000 wing to the university hospital are swiftly assuming definite form as a result of consultation between the local authorities and Arch. W. T. Proffitt of the firm of Proffitt & Bro., Des Moines.

Mr. Proffitt was in the city on Monday and Tuesday with the staff of the university hospital to discuss the tentative plans for the new addition. Weekly wooks will be held with the physicians until the details are complete.

According to the present specifications the wing will be built directly to the north of the present hospital and will extend east and west by the sidewalk and the healing plant. There will be one passage between the present wing west and the new building except for space taken by a corridor from the present wing to the administrative headquarters to the main building.

There will be one of the latest and most complete operating rooms in the west on the floor of the new addition. An anesthetics will be constructed which will seat 200 patients. On this same floor four rooms will also be the offices for the dean, vice dean, etc. Besides, the library, washroom, and the apartments next directly to the operating room.

The building will be started in the early spring. The contract will be awarded in January.

WORLD AT M. N. C.

Owing to Illinois Secretory Tollmond was unable to reach the Y. M. C. A. mid-week meeting last night. His plane was delayed four hours and he had to be content with the Illinois Industrial Secretary Millon if the international committee. He gave interesting facts concerning the Christian work being done by the association in mining and construction works particularly in the teaching of English in immigration, carried on by the association's industrial department.

WELD'S RESIGNATION ACCEPTED BY BOARD

NO SUCCESSOR CHOSEN FOR LIBRARY ARTS DEANSHIP

Prof. A. G. Smith Head of New Department—Many Titles Are Changed.

Prof. L. G. Weld's resignation as head of the college of liberal arts has been accepted by the board of education according to an announce- ment made here yesterday by Charles W. Boyd, of the board of governors.

The action was taken at the full meeting of the board at the hotel immediately after the evening consultation.

The action was taken at the full meeting of the board at the hotel immediately after the evening consultation.

As the result of the resignation Weld will remain as professor and head of the department of mathematics.

A new department was established to be known as the department of mechanics with Prof. A. G. Smith as its head. He was formerly professor of mechanical engineering at the university.

He still retains the title of professor of mechanics.

Final official action was taken for the perfection of the plans for the proposed physics building and the new wing of the university hospital.

The plans were approved and placed at the head of the department of the arts, and Mr. Harold Miles was appointed assistant in the new art department.

The board adopted the plan of allowing a free scholarship to one student from each of the principal colleges in Iowa to summer the schools of the University of Chicago.

The title of Miss Harriet Van was changed from instructor in Russian languages to assistant professor of Russian languages.

Mr. H. D. Smith was appointed full professor in biology.

Mr. David Lipping Loeb was appointed assistant professor in Civil Engineering.

Mr. Walter G. Kirby was appointed assistant professor in chemistry.

The title of Miss Anna Klingshofer was made dean of women and professor of biology.

Dr. W. H. Commer was appointed assistant in pediatrics in the college of medicine.

High School in New Location

The Iowa City high school has withdrawn from the state academy building and formed a triumvirate with Marshalltown and Orient.

The same question used in the state league will be debated. The affirmative of the question will be debated at home by each school and the state round on the second day.

The debate will be held the same night.

This action is taken as a stand against the unfair race which has been at the point of depression for some time.

The schools held that the debate was intended as the debate for the championship.

A DAPT STANDARD SONGS...A response to Iowa's call for appropriate college songs has come the awakened interest of an old graduate who expresses the opinion of all Iowa students and alumni.

Along with two songs he sends the following plans and suggestions:

1. The suggestion was that the college, since it has listened to college songs here and there, that what Iowa requires is not a multitude of songs, the most of them adapted to some lyrical air and sung maybe for one reason, then another: but she require at least half a dozen songs which shall be standard and shall breathe an Iowa spirit to make them suitable for all occasions through all time. Every freshman should learn a song, she says, that students should remember. And they should have a melody and familiarity which should enable everybody to sing them. They should be distributed, upon any occasion, as any songs, and the words shall be thoroughly impressed: "Iowa" has great beauty and dignity, and should be used as "Fair Harvard" is used at Harvard. "We'll,Rallie" has done well. The two songs accompanying this note are not professed as superior to the songs which have preceded them in the Iowa, but are suggestions merely, and tokens of the interest of an old Iowa.

The suggestions here are worthy of our careful consideration. It is evident that the need for more college songs is universal, and it is evident that some have been submitted are of a good literary quality. All are possessed of good melody and ease, making it possible for them to be learned and sung. They have every semblance of the modern college songs. It behoves Iowa to add them to her present list.

The only suggestion should be to have plans both to change them into songs and polls that are adopted. As a means of doing this it has been suggested to encourage the establishment of a business turn of mind necessary to a publication containing information interesting both air and style. Each a football season has been sold. There is no reason why something of the same nature as the song list should not be well supported.

Famous Actor to Tour the West
