Iowa athletics was taken up for the athletic board at its meeting last week and a definite rating settled upon, establishing a few new requirements. Hereafter a player must participate in major games and have important case before the former rule could be

The qualifications for "I" men will be printed in a small booklet to be issued by the board in the near future. The eligibility rule will also be printed in the same publication. Copies of the pamphlet will be given free of charge to all athletics.

To win an "I" in football a player must participate in at least three halves of Big Eight or five halves of other games, including a Missouri Valley conference game. Participation means playing the entire half unless removed from the game because of injuries.

The movement for increasing the requirements was inaugurated by the student members of the athletic board and passed through their efforts. It came as the result of a general sentiment prevalent for the last few years among Hawkeye athletes that the requirements for a 'I' were becoming too lenient.

There is no such thing as an absolute rule in life. There are always exceptions. For example, there are times when we can afford to be wasteful in our use of resources. In this way, we can enjoy the pleasures of life. But it is also important to be mindful of the consequences of our actions. This balance is key to living a fulfilling life. It allows us to have fun and enjoy our experiences while also being mindful of the impact on the environment and the people around us.

At the Iowa City Academy, we aim to provide a high-quality education while also fostering a love of learning among our students. Our goal is to prepare them for success in college and beyond. By offering a variety of extracurricular activities, we hope to help students develop well-rounded characters and pursue their passions.

Furthermore, we recognize the importance of a strong community. At the academy, we work closely with parents and the local community to support our students and ensure they have the best possible experience.

Thank you for considering the Iowa City Academy. We look forward to welcoming you to our community and helping you achieve your academic and personal goals.
