STAY IN IOWA.

If the acquiring of wealth is the chief end of all, there is no longer any necessity for the young men of Iowa to answer Horace Greeley's cry to "Go West." Of course there are other reasons for such migration.

There is that common element of our nature which always looks for new and untried territory for us. That is the most favorable, and the strange and somewhat talkative part of that element of our natural curiosity that our present environment is not the most favorable. In other words that desire for more and better--for change, that at that distance greater opportunities are apparent to us.

To be continued.

JANUARY 20, 1901

At the request of the Iowa State College, a demonstration of the art of the Polynesian has been arranged for the benefit of the college. The Polynesian Meeting will meet this evening at 6:45 p.m. at the residence of Dr. C. M. Reed, 120 Hughes St.
The Graduate club was entertained by Mrs. Hasbee, who has been particularly successful in securing good and wholesome entertainments for the men.

A well organized Wrestling club will be of great advantage to follow this year. Although the formation of the men into a club will do away with this necessity, these amusing winter sports will begin immediately upon the opening of the school year.

No wrestling matches will be held.

The Sigma Alpha Conference met on campus last year. Broadway at noon.
