The New "English Darby"

The English Darby is here — ready to slip on and wear with the comfort of an old sluff but — it's new and snappy — flat and dandy — just the thing for the young chap who wants something new and classy (minus the flippish look) — they come in black's only — in two dimension for the large or small man — They're made by COOKS & CO., of London, England, and imported by WILL-NER BROS., — especially for fine trade — they're on display in our west window — or — well you'll better drop over our store and try one on — or first with an "English Darby."
