EMERSON A VISIONARY YET HE WAS PRACTICAL

NEWTON TALKS OF AUTHOR AS OF AN INTIMATE FRIEND.

Noted Essayist Wrote With Difficulty —Intuitions the Basis of His Faith.

With the kindly and sympathetic appreciation which the perfect understanding of a close friendship alone can give, the Rev. Joseph Newton of Cedar Rapids talked of Ralph Waldo Emerson yesterday at the auditorium before the largest audience which has yet greeted him at any of his series of lectures. The sympathy and appreciation of the audience was all that any speaker could wish and of itself was a high compliment to the peculiar ability of Mr. Newton to make his hearers see Emerson as he saw him. When in opening his lecture, the speaker feelingly said, "Of all the writers of modern times, Emerson has helped me most and let me say, I have looked forward to this occasion that I might give you the distilled essence of fifteen years of study of this loving soul," every listener felt that the lecture was to be one of peculiar power and they were not mistaken.

Characterizing Emerson in a single sentence, the lecturer declared that "the great essayist was simply a pilgrim of a visionary world, who was at the same time a teacher of practical wisdom. As such, he influenced not only his eminent contemporaries, but touches men of various times and in every walk of life. Tyndall to his dying day affirmed that he owed all that he was to Emerson; Henry Ward Beecher personally informed Emerson that he fed upon him for years in his work at Plymouth church; Dean Stanley claimed that he heard but one voice and that was the voice of Emerson. Thus it was, and is, Emerson's peculiar genius to open slumbering seeds of power in the minds of men and women and to make them better than themselves."

But it was in the enumeration of the fundamental ideas of Emerson that the lecturer most successfully interpreted the noted American prose writer. Mr. Newton's fifteen years of intensive study of the author has convinced him the explanation of Emerson lies in Emerson's three basic ideas, (1) The primacy of the human soul, (2) The spirituality of nature, and (3) The immediacy of God. "But in order fully to discover the reality of those three truths," Mr. Newton declared, "one must live with Emerson for some time and practice the habits of soul culture which were the habits of his life."

The speaker talked interestingly of Emerson's peculiarities. "He little liker nor cared for college. The only college where he would have felt at home was the school of Plato at Athens. Mathematics in particular came in for his displeasure. All through his career, he wrote with great difficulty. His sentences, as he

COLUMBIA DEFEATED IOWA; FIRST REPORT A MISTAKE.

Hawkeyes will Shoot Against Idaho University this Afternoon.

The Hawkeyes' fond hopes of a rifle championship were given a serious set-back yesterday when the official report of Columbia University's score was received at Lieut. Mumma's office. It shows that Iowa lost out by the close score of 1794 to 1775, a margin of 19 points. The first report which was received from the office of "The Arms and The Man" showed a clear victory for Iowa, but there must have been some mistake in the transmission of the telegram. This result puts Columbia at the head instead of Iowa, for the easterners are as yet undefeated. However, they are still to meet Washington State and Washington university, the two best in the league, and since the Hawkeyes have already defeated these teams, there is a good chance of a tie at the end of the season.

"Anyway," said Lieut. Mumma last evening, "We will get a chance at them in the big inter-collegiate shoot later on and we will show them then that Iowa is the better team."

This afternoon the Hawkeyes shoot against the University of Idaho. A close contest is expected as Idaho has been making a good showing each week; in fact their score in the first match was higher than Iowa's total against Columbia. The defeat at the hands of Columbia, however, has put the local shooters on edge and they are practicing hard to win the remaining matches.

Literary Society Programs.

The usual Friday evening program of music, debate, oratory and speaking in Zetagathian and Irving halls will be as follows for this evening:

Zetagathian Society: Music. Declamation, Cain. Debate, "Resolved, that United States senators should be elected by a direct vote of the people." Affirmative, Hart, Dunley. Negative, Olin, Bennett. Optional, Laughlin. Music.

Irving Institute: Music. Oration, Hoffman. Debate, "Resolved, that all labor disputes in United States should be settled by compulsory arbitration." Affirmative, Garret, Witte. Negative, Baer, Tisdale. Oration, Warner. Music.

Send Letters to Dentists.

Letters have been sent out by the executive committee of the Alumni Dental association announcing the Alumni Dental Clinic which will be held here in the early part of April. There is every indication that there will be a larger attendance than last year. A complete program will be issued soon, in which the work of the two days' session will be fully outlined.

Mrs. Gov. Carroll Talks at Simpson.

Mrs. Gov. Carroll recently talked to the girls at Simpson college for an hour on their responsibility and opportunity.

HAWKEYE CUTS MADE; ANNUAL OUT EARLIER

SUBSCRIPTION LIST CONTINUES TO GROW.

Pictures All Sent to Engraver—Expect 1800 Subscriptions Before Saturday Night.

Yesterday saw the subscription campaign of the 1911 Hawkeye carried on with the vigor which has characterized the work of the solicitors all week, and last evening Business Manager Crowe was able to report 1675 names attached to the blanks. This is an unusually satisfactory showing, and with two more days of "campaign week" still to come, there seems little doubt that by Saturday night the list will include at least 1800 names—a high water mark for Iowa annuals. The Y. W. C. A. is putting forth its best efforts in behalf of the book, and the board of managers attribute much of the success of the week's work to activities of its members. "The students have shown that they are ready and willing to aid us, and they will be rewarded by the best book that we are able to put out," said General Manager Crowe yesterday.

Another feature of this year's annual which is certain to please the student body is the fact that things have so shaped themselves that it will be possible to get the book out much earlier than usual. As was announced earlier in the week, the engraving contract was let some time ago, and most of the cuts have been returned. The individual cuts are practically all back from the engravers, and the great majority of the organization cuts have also been returned. All of the organization pictures have been sent in, and it is expected that the last cuts will be in the office not later than the end of next week.

Most of the copy is now in the hands of the editor-in-chief or the department editors, and as soon as the printing contract is let, the big annual will be practically ready for the press. Several new and characteristic pictures have been obtained recently by the camera brigade which will certainly add greatly to the attractiveness of the humorous and artistic departments.

Y. W. C. A. Elects Officers.

Wednesday evening Y. W. C. A. elected the following officers for the ensuing year, who will go into office March 1st. President, Marie Ramsey; vice-president, Bertha Reichart; secretary, Meda Holman and treasurer, Winifred Appleman. The cabinet for the year will be chosen by Miss Ramsey later.

Baseball Practice Yesterday.

The first baseball practice of the season was held in the armory yesterday. A small squad of new men reported for the first work-out, and took light limbering-up practice. None of last year's varsity squad reported, and practice will not begin seriously until the first of next week.

SIGMA XI SOCIETY ACTIVE; ANNUAL LECTURE SATURDAY

Taking in New Members—Lowell is Speaker.

The Sigma Xi society of the university is now holding its annual election of new members; the results will be announced in a few days. The object of Sigma Xi is the cultivation of research in the sciences. To this end, it each year elects to membership from the senior classes of the university those who give promise of becoming scientific investigators. It also elects from among graduate students and members of the faculties those who already have accomplished results in some field of scientific research.

The annual lecture of Sigma Xi will be given Saturday evening, Feb. 19, by Percival Lowell, the world's foremost investigator of the planet Mars. The newly elected members will be initiated just before this lecture that they may serve as ushers for the occasion.

Sigma Xi is an organization of national scope, now embracing some thirty chapters representing all of the larger universities of America. To be elected to membership in Sigma Xi is thus a real honor to any scientist.

Iowa-Grinnell Score.

Though the Iowa-Grinnell basketball game starts tonight at 9:30 because of a lecture, the result will be received at the Daily Iowan office over the long distance 'phone from Grinnell. Any telephone inquiries, even though at a late hour will be gladly answered. Call 29 R on the Bell 'phone or 29 on the Johnson county line.

IOWA MEETS SCARLET AND BLACK TONIGHT

CRUCIAL GAME TO BE PLAYED AT GRINNELL.

Hawkeyes Handicapped by Loss of Hyland at Center—Grinnell Said to be in Good Shape.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock the Hawkeye basketball squad accompanied by Coaches Griffith and Hedges, and Trainer Tommy O'Brien will leave for Grinnell intent upon defeating the fast Scarlet and Black five upon its own floor.

For several years in succession the Congregationalists have enjoyed the distinction of being undefeated on their home field and consequently the Iowa five has a particularly difficult task before them for this evening's program. The difficulty with bringing home a victory over the Grinnell aggregation is greatly enhanced by the loss of "Mike" Hyland at the pivot. The tall center has received a "con" and has not been able to return to the purity fold. Local followers have vainly hoped that the star hurdler would be allowed to participate in the game this evening, but the powers that be have withheld "Mike" from the fray.

However, Hawkeye stock took a decided bound yesterday afternoon with the announcement that West will be eligible for the remainder of the season. West has done steller work at guard all season and his basket shooting would be greatly missed. However, it is quite probable that he will be back in the game at guard.

Thomas will be used at the other guard position while Captain Stewart and Hugo Ryden will look after the forward positions. Although Coach Griffith had not definitely decided yesterday, yet he is considering the proposition of using Schmidt at Center in Hyland's shoes. Schmidt has been used at forward in a couple of games this year and has put up an excellent game at all times.

Grinnell is reported to be in excellent condition for the big battle this evening. Klein has not been practicing for the past week, but his place is being ably filled by Captain Carney while the younger Carney is taking his brother's position. Ziegler and Turner are alternating at center.

A large number of students have expressed their intention of accompanying the squad to Grinnell to help them with the game.

Post-Exam Frolic.

At Close hall Saturday night, the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. associations will enjoy a general good time. The committee in charge has many good stunts in the way of amusement planned, among which is some good high class theatricals. Coming at just this time it will be in the nature of a post-exam revel and a valentine party Both associations are strong and active this year and the series of joint socials is a potent factor in bringing the students of Iowa into a closer bond of union and friendship.

ART DEPARTMENT AFFORDS BEST.

Prof. Halsey C. Ives, the noted art critic, while on a recent visit to Des Moines, said that that city was especially blessed in having Prof. A. C. Cumming with his art school; that he saw just as good work being done there as he had found in the European centers of art, and that Prof. Cumming should be treated so well by Des Moines that another city would not be able to tempt him away.

But another city has tempted him away a part of the time at least, for Prof. Cumimng is now giving lectures and conducting classes in our art department. Prof. Ives' praise of Prof. Cumming was aptly made. After studying under Garstore Boulanger, Jules Lefebre and Benj. Constant, Prof. Cumming has mastered the methods of the best schools of art. By temperament and experience, he is fitted for the work that he is doing. Iowa, too, should treat him so well that he cannot be induced to leave us.

There are not enough students who realize that Iowa affords an opportunity to study free hand drawing and painting precisely as it is taught in the leading art schools of this country and Europe. This is a matter of concern to students of an artistic temperament. More should take advantage of the superior training that our art department offers.

Shield and Trident Elects.

himself described them, were mutually repellant particles."

After several appropriate quotations from Emerson, which he used with telling effect, the Rev. Newton laid emphasis on the author's vital faith in God and immortality, the reality of which he felt vividly in his soul. "The one thing of which he was absolutely sure was the fact of the validity of the intuitions of the human soul. Emerson felt that the soul is reliable. His readers must see this or they cannot understand his essay on Self-Reliance. He taught piety toward the present world. He renewed in men the sense of wonder, without which worship is largely impossible. He held that the one thing that we need more than anything else is original relationship with reality and original fellowship with the truth."

WRESTLERS ARE BUSY; BIG MEET NEXT WEEK

JESS REIMER OF DES MOINES TO REFEREE.

Preliminaries Start February 21—Finals Held on Friday, Feb. 25—Many Men Entered.

Plans for the annual home wrestling tournament have finally been completed, and the date definitely set for the week beginning February 21. The preliminaries will begin on that date and continue throughout the week until the finals are reached.

The present plan is to hold the final championship matches in the different divisions on Friday, at which time the titles in the four different classes as well as the university wrestling championship will be decided for a year.

Jess Reimer, the big Des Moines grappler who, after Gotch, is probably the best in the country today, has finally consented to be on hand and referee the contests. His presence is expected to prove a big attraction as well as to insure competent officiating.

A new feature of the tournament this year will be the addition of a new class. Those who saw the matches last year will probably remember that at that time the light-weight class was too large, including men of greatly varying weight. This will be remedied this year by the addition of a feather-weight class, which will give hte smaller men a chance for honors. There are a number of good wrestlers in the university weighing around 120 pounds who stood absolutely no show with the 145-pounders who marked the limit of the lightweights.

The contests will be held under the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union. Medals will awarded the winners of the different classes. They have already been ordered, and will be on exhibition at Keith & McChesney's as soon as they arrive.

The number of men who have been working out is large, but Director Schroeder thinks that many should take advantage of the opportunities offered in the way of training in wrestling, as he believes that there are a number of good mat artists in school who have not yet appeared at the gym. When asked for a statement yesterday he said: "We expect a very successful tournament this year, both because of the interest taken in the work by the men and because of the arrangements which we have been able to make for the affair. However, I believe that we should have more men entered. It may not be thoroughly understood that the rules this year state that all contestants must be members of the University Wrestling club, but such entrance is absolutely necessary for participation in either the home or state tournaments. Moreover, a number of men have signed up with the club who have not been appearing regularly for practice. We should like very
