Number 99

By W. D. Howells, Thurs-

The city turned out to witness the final services.

A small admission fee of fifteen cents will be charged at the door in order that we may have the satisfaction of being able to pay for the valuable medals which have been purchased for the winners in the different classes.

Practical and Schreiber has been in charge of the tournament and had done much toward making it an annual feature. The medals to be awarded the champions have been selected with great care and are suitable Cornell is Iowa's opponent today in a meet where teams have good prospects in their various games. The Hawkeyes confidently expect a win. After this short list will come The Athletics, as they too are not far back.

As was expected, Delaware university has won the 1909 inter-
