GREAT CROWDS WATCH ST. PATRICK'S PARADE

ENGINEERS ATTRACT MANY WITH CLEVER DISPLAY

Students Establish Tradition With Unique Celebration—Floats Feature of Spectacle

The first annual St. Patrick's day parade given by students of the engineering college was a decided success. Thousands of people lined the streets of the business district to see the gaily decorated floats and the tapering students go past. Many students were late to 1:30 class and townspeople deserted business to watch the spectacle.

"Fat" Johnson and his assistants surveyed the right of way for the parade in true engineering style. The parade was in the following order: G. N. Spinden, marshal of the day, mounted; Bugle corps, band, members of engineering faculty in automobiles, float containing Blarney stone, with cadet guard, senior railroad engineers' float, Brown's smoke house float, junior civil engineers' float with surveying party, company of Knights of the Rod, Mechanical engineering float, chemical students, bearing huge atom, Rube band, junior electrical engineering float, donkey with Roolen, sophomore civil engineers with drafting room, Cox's band, freshmen float, followed by freshmen in engineering togs, and a two-piece band.

The Blarney stone, appropriately decorated in green, and zealously guarded by cadets brought forth a big laugh. The senior engineers with their Irish special, a handcar at which many disciples of St. Patrick worked feverishly mounted on a properly ballasted track, then got the "hand" from the big crowd. Buster Brown's Smoke House float was a good one. The junior civil engineers with their surveying party was one of the hits of the parade. Then followed the Knights of the Rod with their target rods, in military order.

The mechanical engineers' float was one of the best in the parade. DeVoe, Comperando, Ware, Mueller, Miller, Repas and Consoliver were the men on the float. The Rube band with its discordant effusion of Irish airs was the laughing stock wherever it went. "The Irish Washwoman" literally was rendered.

The junior electricals had red lights on their float, although they weren't in danger. D. T. Brant, Cheeseborough, Lundquist, Dvorsky, Butterworth and Hatz worked with the gas engine and generator, the washing machine and the electric irons. Brant, as the Irish washwoman, occupied the leading part on the float.

Fairbanks tried to study physics at the big roll top desk on the float of the sophomore engineers, but couldn't make his eyes behave. Hopkinson, Hands and Yarcho, one of whom was the flaxen haired "stenographer," helped make the presentation

TREWIN'S ATHLETIC POLICY TO BE DISCUSSED BY IRVING

Other Societies Plan Interesting Programs Tonight

Did St. Patrick confer a blessing upon Ireland by banishing her snakes? This question will be settled by Zetagathian society this evening. Irving Institute will take up Trewin's athletic policy for discussion while the encouragement of inter-collegiate athletics will be debated by the Philomathian society.

The above debates, with other numbers, make up the following programs:

Zetagathian society—(Special St. Patrick's Program): Declamation, Cain; Irish Poetry, Scannell; Debate, "Resolved that St. Patrick conferred a blessing upon the country by driving the snakes out of Ireland." Affirmative, Robbins, Ashton; Negative, Don Campbell, Jones. Declamation, Brookhart; Music, Zet Quartet.

Philomathian Society—Music; Reading, Beach; Debate, "Resolved, That intercollegiate athletic contests should be encouraged." Affirmative, Glasier, Hook; Negative, Schmidt, Dietrich; Oration, Mundt; Music.

Irving Institute—Music; Speech, Baldwin; Debate, "Resolved, That Trewin's athletic policy should be adopted." Affirmative, Cardell, Waters; Negative, Pownall, Blythe.

Commends Special Edition

A letter has been received from Roy A. Redfield of Spokane, Wash., alumnus of the university and former editor of the Daily Iowan, praising the special law edition. It is as follows:

"I beg to acknowledge your kindness in sending me a copy of your special edition of the Daily Iowan, published in honor of the dedication of the new building.

It was of special interest to me, both on account of my regard for Alma Mater, and my friendly feeling for the Daily Iowan. I am heartily glad to see both of them prospering, and was much pleased with the splendid issue of the paper. It was creditable to yourself and to the institution you represent.

Accept my congratulations for the success of your effort, and hearty good wishes for your continued prosperity. Yours sincerely,

Roy A. Redfield."

Edda Society Notice

Edda society will meet in room 110 L. A. Saturday night, March 19. All Scandinavians and their friends are invited. Several interesting reports will be given. An important matter of business will be presented at the close of the program.

Baconian Club Notice

Prof. C. C. Nutting will read a paper on "Some More about La Jolla and its Biological Station," before the Baconian club. The meeting will be held in the lecture room, hall of physics, at 7:30 this evening.

IOWA'S SCORE IS HIGH; CHANCE FOR VICTORY

WASHINGTON AND COLUMBIA MARKS NOT IN

Make Mark of 1812—Minnich is High Man—Intercollegiate Next Week

Although expectations for a record score did not materialize in their shoot yesterday, the Hawkeye rifle-men rolled up a total of 1812 in the shoot-off of the tie in the inter-collegiate league. All the men performed well. It was in the "prone" column that the loss occurred, the count here falling as low as 90 with but two marks above 95.

The scores of Columbia and Washington State have not been received at the time of going to press. These teams were scheduled to shoot last evening, the totals not being finished until late. "I don't want to make any prophecies," said Lieut. Mumma. "It may be enough but—" Both of Iowa's opponents have been showing well of late, especially Washington, who piled up 1833 a few weeks ago.

Some time next week the big intercollegiate shoot will occur. If all the schools enter which are expected to, this will be the largest college rifle match ever pulled off in the United States.

Minnich made high score for Iowa with 190. His performance was steady throughout, 92 in "standing" and 98 in "prone." L. R. Leeper, of whom much was expected, fell to 180. The following is the detailed score:

Williams	93	90	183
Wehman	85	98	183
Bruins	88	94	182
Shepard	87	91	178
Corso	86	92	178
Minnich	92	98	190
Klein	84	95	179
Baird	85	95	180
L. R. Leeper	88	92	180
J. S. Leeper	88	92	180
Total	876	936	1812

Draw up Fraternity Schedule

Fraternities in the university will adopt a Pan Hellenic base ball schedule next week at a meeting of the council. It has been decided by the eight chapters to have two sectional leagues and then decide the championship by a final game between the two winning teams. This method, which will necessitate a smaller number of games than last year, makes the arranging of a schedule much easier for the committee.

Married: Go to Minnesota

Wednesday evening, March 16, at 6 o'clock, occurred the marriage of Miss Edna Louise Boerner to Edward Spangler Rose. It was a quiet home wedding. Rev. Rowison of the Christian church officiating. Both the bride and the groom are graduates of S. U. I. The bride is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority; the groom of Sigma Chi fraternity. They left soon after the ceremony for their home in Winona, Minnesota.

BLARNEY STONE IS KISSED: SOLEMN CEREMONIES HELD

Engineering Students Initiated Yesterday Afternoon

Ceremonies, wierd and mysterious in which the seniors of the college of applied science were duly initiated into the ancient order of St. Patrick took place yesterday afternoon in the engineering building after the big parade had completed its winding travels through the streets of Iowa City.

Chief Conductor Fischer started the initiation rites by conferring a degree upon John E. Boynton, an instructor in the department. The faculty member in turn conferred degrees upon his fellow members on the teaching staff and then upon the member of the senior class so that they were entitled to all the rights and privileges of the Knights of Saint Patrick.

One of the chief features of the transition from mere man into a knight was the kissing of the blarney stone. Every student who was admitted into the secrets of the venerable order yesterday afternoon touched his lips to the sacred rock.

The object of universal affection was extracted from the quarries west of the city last week and conveyed with every care and precaution to the stone cutters where its edges were neatly trimmed away and the upper surface polished until ready for the kissing process yesterday.

Sophomore Preliminary

The annual preliminary of the sophomore oratorical contest for the Egan prize will be held on April 16, the first Saturday following the Easter recess.

This year instead of delivering their whole orations, the men will speak for eight minutes. This plan, first proposed by the late Prof. H. E. Gordon, has been adopted because the judges object to the tedious preliminaries in which the complete orations are delivered. Eleven men will compete for places on the final contest. They will speak in the following order: R. N. Beebe, L. N. Powers, Leslie Sjulin, C. O. Sjulin, W. H. Antes, L. E. Kemp, H. L. Johnson, E. T. McKellips, R. L. Masson, Frank Warner, Wayne Spaulding.

C. F. U. and Newman Program

The C. F. U. and Newman societies will hold a joint program Friday evening at K. C. hall at 8:30 o'clock. Members of both societies are expected to be present.

Marshall Law Program

The Marshall Law program for this evening follows: Speech, Roller; Optional, Hood; Debate, "Resolved, That the government should compel the arbitration of all disputes between capital and labor." Affirmative, Nelson and Piper; Negative, Cavanaugh and Hanson; Oration, L. R. Sjulin.

ENGINEER CELEBRATION PRONOUNCED SUCCESS

PACKED HOUSE FOR "SCHOOL DAYS" SHOW

Fitting Climax Reached in Last Evening's Performance—Fischer Stars as Impersonator

With the natural science auditorium packed to its fullest capacity, the engineering students brought their celebration to a fitting close last evening by presenting a pleasing parody of "School Days." Four hundred people were turned away from the doors.

Promptly at 8:15 ten school children took their places in the country schoolroom, attired in the variety of garb which usually characterizes the primitive halls of learning. In a short time Professor Scherk took his accustomed position behind the desk and at once began to wield his iron rod, especially in the direction of little "Jock" Wilson who shortly proved himself to be the weary boy of the school.

Lessons were recited in a dragging monotone and examinations were suffered by the knowledge seeking boys and girls. The professor who greatly resembled the popular representation of Ichabod Crane, questioned the pupils on all the great problems of the day, receiving some decidedly pointed answers to the difficult questions.

The troublesome athletic situation was solved for once and all time. The undergraduates and the professors of the university were given gentle hints as to certain ways in which they might benefit their personal conduct. In fact, everybody was remembered.

Old Man Fisher's little boy particularly distinguished himself in the impersonation of music directors, Cox, Barnum and Fisher. Ernest Eglier was the expect dancer of the institution, while "Red" Anderson was the prize rowdy of the school. The little Dvorsky boy was another youth who attended the country school, presumably for the purpose of playing with the girls. The little girls were ably impersonated by Messrs. Bailey, Morrison, Powell, McMurray and Consoliver. "Fat" Johnson, "Dutch" Priester and "Irish" Norris visited the school during the afternoon in the capacity of the school board.

The entire performance brought hearty applause and later favorable comment from those who attended.

Love Making By Machinery

Professor Lightner Witmer of the department of psychology at the University of Pennsylvania and who recently lectured here, has invented an apparatus called the physmograph, which is claimed will prove a god-send to the love-lorn of both sexes. It is designed to make them fall in love with each other whether they will or no.

FALL IN LINE

The engineer's celebration of St. Patrick's day by a parade and a big show should set a precedent at Iowa for the special observance of some holiday each year. Their enterprising spirit should suggest to each college some special day to be observed with new and unique ceremonies, such celebrations, besides bringing the men of a college closer together through the spirit of play, would be sure to break the monotony of continued study.

AMUSEMENTS.

Comment on Kreisler

Concerning Kreisler's playing of Pugnani's Prelude, which is to be one of the numbers on the program given in Iowa City on the twenty-fourth of March, the New York Evening Post says:

Most remarkable, however, among the gifts of this musical necromancer is his power of bringing back to life pieces long supposed to be dead. He does this by infusing into their arteries his own red, warm blood. Has any one except Wilhelmj ever had such a seething tone as that with which Pugnani's Prelude was played on Saturday? Pugnani died in 1798, but he might have written that piece yesterday, for all the audience could have guessed, had not the program betrayed that date."

Badgers Adopt Pinchot Resolutions

At the university of Wisconsin, twenty-one organizations drew up and sent resolutions to Gifford Pinchot expressing their appreciation of his services in the department of forestry and of the stand he has taken for the conservation of our natural resources. Mr. Pinchot replied with a letter of thanks.

Hazing Endorsed at Stanford
The hazing is good for both the hazer and the hazzee is the opinion of the members of the faculty disciplinary committee at Stanford university. The declaration has been received with manifestations of great rejoicing on the part of the upper classmen there.

Comet Terrorizes Texas Farmer

There is a farmer down in Texas who has become so frightened at the prospect of Halley's comet winding up terrestrial affairs on May 19 next, that he has written an urgent letter to professor Moulton, the university of Chicago astronomer, asking him as to the possibilities of escaping the dreaded calamity. He wants to know the danger of the "critter flying the track and sending us into another world." "If this comet will spare my life," he goes on to say, "I hereby express my desire to some day enter as a student in the university of Chicago."

Sentries Posted

At the university of Minnesota sentries are posted to prevent interference while drill by small boys and other "passers-by."

Early last Sunday morning we had a small blaze out at our house and I threw my pillows out of the window and ran down stairs with a lamp in my hand. Shows how a fellow will get rattled when a sudden crisis hits him. It might have been worse—like the woman who threw out the mirror and ran down with the feather bed under her arm. No telling what a fellow will do when he's scared. Take the case of that professor of chemistry at Berkeley college who is afraid that every one on this earth will get snuffed out by the tail of Halley's comet. Some astronomical shark has discovered cyanogen rays in Halley's caudal appendage and Prof. Booth of Berkeley says that cyanogen gas if it comes in contact with the hydrogen gas of our atmosphere will convert the latter into hydrocyanic acid gas which is United States for "Prussic acid fumes." Gee, that's a fierce line of paaza, but a big German professor comes out and says that such talk is silly and that cyanogen gas is so light it could not penetrate our atmosphere. Golly, I'm glad to hear that! I don't want my young life snuffed out just yet—not until I have had a chance to travel a little more and see if they've got any nicer places to live in than little old Iowa City or better clothing stores to do your trading in than ours.

 unsurpassed by any of the floats.

A. F. Fisher and "Shorty" Davidson as Cox's band, Irish music butchers, attracted their share of attention. Last, but not least, came the freshies with their machine shop on wheels. They were a grimy looking bunch; were Osler, Campbell, Baum, Clemmens, Boer, Brown and Hatz, all officers of the class, as they worked at forge and anvil. Other freshmen engineers carrying shop tools acted as rear guard for the procession.

Much credit for the success of the parade was given to the committee in charge, A. F. Fisher in charge of the parade and E. C. Schrock in charge of general arrangements. Every student of the college worked hard to make it a success.

Phi Rho Sigma Has Banquet
 Mu chapter of the Phi Rho Sigma medical fraternity held its ninth annual banquet at the Burkley Imperial hotel last evening. Dr. C. S. Chase was toastmaster and the following toasts were given: "The True Physician," Max E. Witte, M. D.; "The World's a Stage," H. M. Ivins, M.; "Our Alma Mater," Henry Albert, M. D.; "One Shall Dream of Days to Come," Paul Van Metre, '10; "None Goes His Way Alone," John E. Stansbury, '11; "On Behalf of Saint Patrick," Frank Winters, '12; "The Perspective," E. L. Bennett, '13; "No Place Like Home," F. L. Love, M. D.; "Things Worth While," A. J. Burge, M. D.

Unknown Man Faints
 Overcome while witnessing the "stunts" put on by the engineers last night in the auditorium, an unidentified man fainted and was carried outside. Two companions cared for him, although it was reported his condition was so serious that he was taken to the hospital, at a late hour last night, both hospitals reported that no patient of his description had been received. A small boy also is reported to have fallen and badly injured one of his legs.

The jam about the doors on the lower and balcony floors of the auditorium was tight and several women almost fainted because of the heat and the pressure of the crowds.

CHILDREN ARE IN CAST OF IRVING-ERO PLAY

LITTLE BOYS AND GIRLS WILL TAKE ACTIVE PART.

"Her Own Way" to be Given Next Wednesday Evening in Coldren—Tickets Tomorrow.

The first of the literary society plays of the season will be given on Wednesday night by the Irving-Ero-Edelphian cast. The cast has been at work all of the present semester and has been drilled by Miss Gertrude Johnson of the department of public speaking. The work thus far has been productive of the best results and with a cast that particularly fits its parts the play promises to be one of the best ever undertaken by amateurs. The play is that remarkable comedy of Clyde Fitch, "Her Own Way."

One peculiar and interesting feature of the play is the parts of the children which will be filled by Iowa City boys and girls. Their parts in the play are important and in the rehearsals they have been showing unusual aptitude. The parts of the children will be filled by Miss Lucy Lake, Clifford Hotz, Albert Hotz and Harold Newcomb.

The tickets will be on sale Monday morning at Greer's on South Clinton. Mr. E. E. Stilman is the business manager and has been working consistently to make the play a success. The cast has been working exceptionally hard for the last two weeks rehearsing practically every night. Following is the complete cast:

- Children:
- Elaine Helen Lake
- Toots Clifford Hotz
- Christopher Albert Hotz
- Phillip Harold Newcomb
- Adults (Irving and Edelphian).
- Georgiana Carley ..Laura Young
- Mrs. Carley Leta Towner
- Mrs. Stephen Carley Tacie Kneese
- Miss Belle Shindel ...Meta Raney
- Lizzie Mary Bowen
- Lieutenant Richard Coleman
- Glenn E. Cunningham
- Stephen Carley A. A. Zimmerman
- Sam Coast Gerald Yoakum
- Moles F. R. Loutzenheiser

Glee Club Takes Trip.

Plans are being made for a trip of the University of Iowa glee club during the spring vacation. Manager Fisher has already scheduled dates and negotiations are pending for enough more concerts to make a week's trip. Details of the tour will be announced later.

The music council and the management were so well pleased by the reception of the club in the concert given last Tuesday evening that efforts have been made to secure more dates and a longer trip.
