PRINTERS RUSH WORK; SPECIMEN SHEETS HERE

DATE OF DISTRIBUTION SET
FOR MAY 2

Manager Crowe Pleased With Work
Done by Torch Press Co.—
Half-Tones are Excellent

Urged on by the members of the 1911 Hawkeye board, who are bent on fulfilling their promise to the students that the annual will be ready for distribution by May 1, the printers of the Torch Press Co. at Cedar Rapids are working night and day in order to have the book completed by that time. Under this new arrangement, the work is progressing rapidly, and there seems no doubt that this year's Hawkeye will surpass all previous records in point of time by a good margin. The time originally set for the delivery of the copies was May 1, but as this date falls on Sunday the distribution will be on May 2 instead.

Specimen pages have already been received from the printers, and their general excellence proves that the time spent by the board of managers in securing the best possible company was not wasted. Business Manager Crowe, who has made daily trips to Cedar Rapids in behalf of the book during the past two weeks, is enthusiastic in his praise of the quality of the work being done by the Torch Company, which ranks among the best printing establishments west of Chicago. The personal interest taken in the Hawkeye by all employees of the company is largely responsible for the scarcity of mistakes found in the proof-sheets and for the finish of the completed work which has already been received.

The engravings have turned out particularly well, and the management feel well satisfied with the work of the Hammersmith Company of Milwaukee, to which the contract was let from a field of sixteen bidders. The quality of the half-tone work proves to be far above expectations.

The work of printing and binding the books will be completed before the end of next week, and they will be shipped to Iowa City. Then will come the last official act of the board, the task of distribution, and if present plans do not miscarry, this will take place one week from next Monday, May 2.

D. A. R. Offer Medal.

The Pilgrim Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution of this city, announce that a medal will be given to the woman student of the senior class whose work in United States history receives the highest credit.

This medal will be awarded at commencement and is intended to correspond to that given to the men of the class by the Sons of the American Revolution.

BIENNIAL MEETING OF SIGMA NU SCHEDULED FOR MAY 6-7

Delegates From Chapters in Third
District to Meet Here.

On May 6 and 7 the third biennial convention of the sixth district of the Sigma Nu fraternity will be held in Iowa City. At the last meeting in Ames in April, 1908, Iowa City was selected as the place in which the third convention should be held.

At this convocation the active chapters from Iowa, Ames, Nebraska and Minnesota will be represented as will also the alumni chapters located at Des Moines, Davenport, Minneapolis and Omaha. In addition to these delegates all Sigma Nus in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota are invited to attend.

The first business session will be held on May 6 at 2 p. m. in the rooms of the Iowa City Commercial club. Another session will be called the next morning at 9 o'clock. On the evening of May 6 the entire delegation and all the members of the local chapter will meet at the Burkley Imperial for the biennial banquet. On May 7 the representatives will attend the Iowa-Ames game in a body and in the evening will close the program by enjoying a smoker at the rooms of the Commercial club.

G. U. Committee Meeting.

A meeting of the Greater University committee has been called for Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the president's outer office.

MacLean at Davenport.

President Geo. E. MacLean gave one of the principal toasts at a banquet of the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution at Davenport last night.

Schmitar and Fez Elects.

The following juniors have been elected into membership in Schmitar and Fez, the honorary senior society of the college of liberal arts. Initiation will take place the first week in May. Glenn Cunningham, Floyd Thomas, Clark Burkheimer, A. A. Zimmerman, Ruel Liggett, G. K. Thompson, Paul S. Collier, Sam Erwin, J. R. Loutzenheiser, Clyde Waters, H. C. Langland, Frank Baer, E. B. Stillman, Percy Van Nostrand, Charles E. Humphrey, Ray Latham, Clifford Crowe.

Boyd's Skull Fractured.

The discovery that the skull of W. R. Boyd was fractured when he was injured a few days ago in Cedar Rapids was made yesterday at St. Luke's hospital, where the chairman of the finance committee of the state board of education is confined. Complications are unlooked for, although Mr. Boyd will be forced to remain in the hospital for several weeks. He is suffering considerable pain at present. The news was brought to this city in a telephone message to Senator Thomas Lambert of Sabula, who with the third member of the committee, D. A. Emery, of Ottumwa, is here auditing the accounts of the university.

FIRST GAME TO DENTS; PHARMACISTS DEFEATED

ERRORS CHARACTERIZE INTER-
DEPARTMENT CONTEST.

Dents Indulge in "Swat-fest"—Kinney's Twirling a Feature of Chilly Game.

In a game replete with errors on the part of the pharmacists and marked with hard hitting by the dents, the latter team won the first interdepartment contest of the season yesterday afternoon by the one-sided score of 11 to 2. The features of the game were McClelland's hitting and Kinney's twirling.

The dents started the scoring fireworks in the second inning by running in a trio of tallies much to the discouragement of the erratic pill makers. In the meantime Kinney, backed up by sharp fielding, considering the cold weather, kept the bingles of the druggists well scattered. Just to cinch the contest the dental ball tossers began a steal-basefest in the last two innings and put seven more runs across the pan for a real genuine Garrison finish.

Because the weatherman was so disagreeable in the sample of climate he parceled out, the contestants decided that five innings was more than enough to satisfy the records of the interdepartment league. Arbitrator Haughtelin lifted his hand and called the proceedings off following the end of the fifth session.

Masson Wins Oratorical.

The annual sophomore oratorical contest held in the natural science auditorium last night was won by R. L. Masson of the Zetagathian society. W. H. Antes of Zetagathian received second honors and Mayne Spaulding of Philomathian, third.

The winner took for his subject, "The Negro." He plead for the Negro's industrial uplift and development. The judges for the contest were Professors Starbuck, E. A. Wilcox, Eastman, Calvin and King.

FRESHMEN IN CHARGE TODAY; FIRST OF CLASS ASSEMBLIES

Program of Short Talks by First Year Men Arranged.

Freshmen in the different colleges of the university are to give the program at assembly this morning, the first program of the year to be given by a class. D. C. Tate, a freshman student in the college of homeopathic medicine, has had general charge of the preparations for the occasion.

Frank Baldwin, L. A. 13, is to give a short talk on "A Freshman's Impression of a University." "A Law's Idea of a Freshie Medic," will be given vividly by H. E. Tullar. Paul Colgrove will return the compliments in an address on "A Medic's Idea of a Freshie Law." Ben Boer, an engineering student and A. Dice, a student in dentistry, will exchange compliments concerning what students in each college think of those in the other. The university orchestra will give the musical numbers.

The freshmen will have charge of assembly this morning for the first time and the scheme of having assemblies managed frequently by classes will be officially launched today. It is hoped by placing the responsibility on the students to create more interest in assemblies. The university administration is very sanguine of the success of the plan. Sophomore, junior and senior classes will have charge of three following assemblies. The seniors will conduct the last program of the year.

Improvements in Old Capitol.

The sign "No loud talking," on the walls of the old law library in the Old Capitol that formerly kept vociferous laws quiet, now looks down on a high pile of boards. The boards are those that formerly upheld the weighty law books. When all the shelves have been removed and the walls repapered and the woodwork repainted, Registrar E. C. Barret's offices will be moved into the room from the rooms directly below it on the first floor of the building. The superintendent of grounds and buildings, G. H. Ellsworth, his assistant and a janitor will occupy the offices formerly held by the registrar.

A thorough renovation of the Old Capitol building will be made next summer. Walls and woodwork will be redecorated. The interior of the historic structure has taken on a somewhat dilapidated appearance with the passage of time.

Dinner in Honor of Bryce.

Presidents of the principal colleges of Iowa have been invited by President G. E. MacLean to attend a dinner given by Pres. and Mrs. MacLean in honor of Rt. Hon. James Bryce, British Ambassador, who will visit Iowa City Monday, April 25. Ambassador Bryce will deliver an address to the students of the university and citizens of Iowa City at 8:00 next Monday evening, according to a letter received from him recently by President MacLean.

JURY RETURNS VERDICT FAVOR OF PROPONENTS

NOTED WILL CASE OF JUNIOR LAWS ENDED.

Final Arguments Yesterday Afternoon—Jury Out Forty-five Minutes.

Promptly at 7:30 with Mayor Otto presiding as judge, the junior law trial proceeded Monday night. Thomas Tiernan (J. Holtman), a senior law, testified that Mrs. Hopkins was hazy when she made her first will. However, he believed she was in her right mind when she drew up her last will. He was her confidential adviser in all matters pertaining to the estate.

The next witness for the proponent was Seth Thomas, a senior law, impersonating Robert Smith. He had been hired by Lewis to work for Mrs. Hopkins. He also testified that the manner in which the last will was drawn up was entirely proper and right.

The case of the proponents then rested.

The next and last witness was Robert Pike (Mr. Leasure), a neighbor of Mrs. Hopkins. He discredited the testimony of Mr. Smith and upheld Charley in everything, characterizing Smith as lacking in humanitarian feelings.

The witnesses having all testified, the case rested until yesterday afternoon when the eight attorneys gave to the jury their final pleadings.

Herbert Hoar opened for the contestants.

He maintained that the old lady always had intended to remember her adopted son, Charley. That because of her extreme age she was easily influenced.

Clarence Roseberry continued for the contestant. The illiteracy of the old lady was pointed out by Mr. Roseberry. She knew only what was going on about her. Her lack of knowledge of the law made her an easy prey for the designing. He closed by saying that the last will showed fraud and graft pure and simple.

J. C. Hollman opened the argument for the proponent. He contended that the influence of Mrs. Lewis must be such as to overcome the will of the testatrix; and substitute therefor the will of the other party. Then he went on to prove that the contestant had not proved that there was sufficient undue influence to overcome the old lady's mind.

He contended that the influence of Mrs. Lewis must be such as to overcome the will of the testatrix; and substitute therefor the will of the other party. Then he went on to prove that the contestant had not proved that there was sufficient undue influence to overcome the old lady's mind.

R. C. Leggett spoke next. Mrs. Hopkins he argued was well qualified to do all her business. It was entirely fitting that the daughter should suggest that the mother make a will. He

COURTESY AND CHEERFULNESS.

The rewards of courtesy and cheerfulness are such that all persons should cultivate these pleasing characteristics. Courtesy arouses the attention of our superiors and wins their good favor. Cheerfulness widens our circle of acquaintances and strengthens our friendships. Courtesy makes us attentive and solicitous; cheerfulness makes us attractive to those with whom we come in contact. Courtesy, diligently practiced, leaves the impression that one has a broad sympathy for man, while cheerfulness adds brightness to the face. And the consoling thing about courtesy and cheerfulness is that they can be had for the asking.

JURY RETURNS VERDICT

FAVOR OF PROPONENTS

quoted the supreme court of Iowa in this matter as his authority.

I. E. Dierdorf almost tearfully plead for justice for Mrs. Lewis. Justice had already been done to Charlie by the fact that she had brought him up.

W. R. Green for the contestant said that Charley Geesehouse was industrious and had a bank account. By continually worrying and nagging the old lady they had practically forced her to make the second will.

Fred Hamilton in closing for the proponent declared that money was no criterion of character. In an able manner he then summed up the arguments for the proponents.

George S. Banta in closing for the contestant told of the great love of Mrs. Hopkins for Charley, her adopted son. The first will was the will that was justifiable and none other.

Judge Otto read his instructions to the jury and after forty-five minutes of deliberation the jury returned a sealed verdict in favor of the proponents.

Y. W. Meeting.
Miss Anne Gittins will lead the regular Y. W. C. A. meeting this evening at 6:45 at Close hall. Her topic will be "Building of Character."

Encampment Date Set By Faculties.

The date of the annual encampment of the university regiment will be settled upon by the faculty of the colleges of liberal arts and applied science instead of by President G. E. MacLean as was erroneously stated in yesterday's Daily Iowan.

Announce Phi Beta Kappa Today.
Successful candidates for the Phi

Beta Kappa fraternity will be announced at assembly this morning. Notifications were sent by special delivery letter to the honored students last evening but the authorities decided not to release the list for publication until after this morning's assembly.

Travels in Special Cars.

On its nine weeks' festival tour this spring the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra travels in three special cars—two sleepers and a baggage car. The company consists of fifty-six people and is in charge of Wendell Heighton, business manager of the orchestra.

I heard some good ones recently about Mr. Softleigh, the young man who stays too late. He was calling on one of his regulars. It was getting late and the conversation lagged. "When I was a kid" said Mr. Softleigh: "I used to ring door bells and run." "And now you ring them and stay," said the fair one. Mr. Softleigh thought it was getting chilly so he got up and closed the door—on the outside. Another time he was calling on a lady friend when her father came into the parlor with his watch in his hand and asked him if he knew what time it was. "It's time to be going, I guess," replied Softleigh reaching for his hat. The old man followed him into the hall and asked him the same question again but Softleigh was too quick for him and made a dash for the front door leaving his cane on the hat rack. "Wonder what was the matter with your young man?" said the old gent to his daughter. "My watch had run down and I wanted to know if he could give me the correct time." Mistakes will happen but I can tell you the correct time for shedding your fur caps and getting under a nice pearl gray crusher or a nifty straw. Some fellows won't wear straw hats until the first of June. Oh, well; there's plenty of choice.

IN THE LIBRARY

Growth of the Library.
During the year ending April 1, 5,088 volumes were added to the library, which brings the total to 75,000 volumes. In the cataloguing department 9,134 books were handled. This includes, in addition to the new books, a large number of volumes that have been classified and re-catalogued.

has joined the staff of the university library. She will remain only until July 1 and her work will be entirely in arranging and filing in alphabetical order the Library of Congress cards. Miss Jones has had a great deal of experience with this same work at the library of the University of Minnesota. About 200,000 cards have already been received and more than that number are now on the way from Washington.

New Library-Book Label
Chief Librarian M. G. Wyer has lately changed the seal and label upon which the books of the library have been labeled in the past. The new outline design is practically the same as before, but it is colored more artistically, giving a much neater and more expensive label.

Prof. Horack Bags Birds
Prof. H. C. Horack while hunting last week two and one-half miles south of town secured six rare specimens of snipe. The group was presented to the university museum, where they will be mounted. Mr. Homer Dill is busy working on the group and in a short time will have them reproduced as in real life with all their natural surroundings.
