IOWA DEFEATS PURPLE IN DUAL TRACK MEET

HAWKEYES VICTORIOUS BY A COUNT OF 68 TO 44.

Northwestern Captures Three Events—Seven Hawkeyes Win Letters—Good Records Made.

After losing the first two events to the Northwestern athletes yesterday afternoon, the Hawkeyes sprang into the lead and held the long end of the score to the finish, finally winning a great victory over their opponents by the score of 68 to 44.

In spite of the rain, which fell most of the afternoon, making the track muddy and heavy, the records made yesterday were unusually good. The hundred yard dash won by Bradley of Northwestern was clipped off in ten seconds flat. Tallman won the 220 yard dash in :23; Jans the quarter in 52 3-5; Smith the two mile in 10:40 1-5; Campbell the half in 2:05 2-5.

Bradley of Northwestern started the meet with a rush by winning the 100 two yards ahead of Tallman. Beal added another five points to the purple total by crossing the tape in the mile but a scant yard in front of Reed. However, Alderman took the shot event by heaving the weight for the distance of 38 feet, 1-2 inch. Tallman redeemed the loss of the 100 by nosing out a victory in the 220 with all four runners bunched.

Captain Engstrom had no difficulty in taking the high jump with a leap of five feet two inches, while Wilson tied with two visitors for second place. Wilson placed the Hawkeyes in a comfortable lead by racing home five yards ahead of Wandrack in the high hurdles, while Jans followed suit by capturing the quarter in the fast time of :52 3-5.

O'Brien took careful pains to not allow an "I" to slip away by the narrow margin of a half inch by winning the hammer throw from Alderman with a final heave of 131 feet, 2 inches. Alderman's "best" measuring 129 feet, 8 inches.

Smith of Iowa romped away with the two mile in the fast time of 10:40 1-5, forty yards ahead of Watson. The discus men were handicapped by the wet and muddy discus; consequently, the best mark was but 113 feet, 11 inches, Alderman winning the event.

Campbell ran a pretty half, leaving all competitors thirty yards in the rear and making the time of 2:05 2-5. On account of the mud the vaulters were unable to get the take off in good style, but Hartupe proved the superior of his rivals and won the event.

Thomas ran a beautiful race in the low hurdles and had a good lead over the field until he slipped near the finish. However, Wilson came to the rescue and won the race in :27 2-5. Bradley won the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet, 2 inches with Captain Engstrom four inches behind.

The Northwestern squad was able to win but three events, the hundred,

SENIORS IN GENUINE PICNIC; "WILL BE NO DANCING PARTY"

Committee Clears up Misconception Regarding L. A. Event.

"There seems to be some misconception," said a member of the committee in charge of arranging the picnic of the liberal arts seniors for Tuesday afternoon and evening, "in regard to the nature of the picnic we are going to have, I have heard it rumored that it is to be everything from an informal dinner down to a dance. Now, it is nothing but a plain, ordinary picnic. It is true that there will be a dinner served, and that there will be some dancing for those who wish to dance, but the latter, especially, is merely a side issue. The main object is the picnic."

The launch will leave for the Little Dutch hall on Tuesday afternoon of this week at 3:30, 4:15 and 5:00. Thus everyone will be given an opportunity to get to the grounds in plenty of time for the picnic supper, which will be served at six o'clock. In addition to the regular games and stunts that go with picnics, the seniors have decided to hold a senior sing for an hour following the supper. Every senior is expected to bring his song book. University and other songs will be given with enthusiasm. The launch will start back from the hall at 8:00, 9:00 and 10:00.

The seat sale has been very satisfactory. Enough tickets have been sold so that the committees can go ahead and prepare for the full quota. The ticket committee has been asked to continue the sale of tickets until Tuesday afternoon, in order that everyone may have an opportunity to purchase.

Freshman Meeting Monday.

Monday evening at 7:10 in the L. A. assembly hall will be held a mass meeting of all freshmen, the purpose being to make plans for the entertainment of the visiting high school athletes.

"The meet this year promises to excel any of previous times as many high schools that have in the past years been absent are entered," said Ross Flife, L. A. '13, yesterday. "The main thing now rests entirely with the students, and the bulk of this is to fall upon the students of the freshman classes, and that is to show the visiting athletes the university in its proper light and to leave an impression of Iowa by our loyal welcome and entertainment given them while in the city."

"The entries closing Saturday night will make it known exactly the number of high school men to be entertained. A Spirit committee will at this time be appointed and a general campaign outlined.

Coach "Sphinx" Delaney desires that every first year man in the university turn out for this meeting; so that by support of all freshmen it will be made possible to give the visitors a loyal reception.

Class to Ft. Madison.

The class in criminology went to Fort Madison yesterday to visit the penitentiary.

COLLIER, IOWA ORATOR, WINS N. O. L. CONTEST

EASY VICTORY OVER WESTERN ORATORS.

First Iowa Victory Since 1902—Illinois Gets Second, Northwestern Takes Third.

Paul S. Collier won the final N. O. L. oratorical contest at Minneapolis Friday evening, easily ranking over the orators from Illinois, Northwestern, Michigan, Wisconsin, Oberlin and Minnesota. The judges, in their decision, gave Iowa a good lead over the whole field. Illinois, represented by Miss Eva Voight, defeated Northwestern for second honors, by a fraction of one percent. Michigan, Wisconsin, Oberlin and Minnesota ranked in the order named. This is the first time that Iowa has led the league in oratory since 1902, when E. K. Brown won the final contest at Chicago. In the twenty years that Iowa has been represented in the inter-state oratorical league she has won two firsts, one second and three third honors. The Northern Oratorical league, endowed by F. O. Lowden, an Iowa alumnus, comprising the leading universities of the middle west, is the most representative league of the kind in the middle states.

Paul S. Collier, the winner of the championship in oratory in the northwest for this year, is a graduate of the Wilton high school. He entered the university with the class of 1911. Collier started his career in public speaking at Iowa by winning second place in the annual freshman contest. Last year, he won the sophomore contest and the Egan prize in a most handy manner, receiving four firsts in a possible five. This year, in an average preliminary, he carried off the MacLean prize and the honor of representing Iowa in the final N. O. L. at Minneapolis. Throughout his college course Collier has been an enthusiastic member of Philomathean society. In the three contests that he entered Collier spoke upon the navy, his final speech, entitled, "The American Navy and the World's Peace," was spent in showing the necessity of a strong U. S. navy in the maintenance of the world's peace.

Gertrude Elizabeth Johnson of the public speaking department under whose supervision Mr. Collier trained when interviewed said "Mr. Collier is faithful in his work, so much so that it was a pleasure to work with him. Although handicapped in a number of ways he came out splendidly."

Much praise is due to Miss Johnson for her showing in the contest. Also credit is due Charles B. Kaufman, Iowa's alternate, and John Conoway, who ably assisted in training Collier.

The Philomathian society of which Collier is a member is rapidly forging to the front in university forensic circles. This society is the youngest in the university being only fifteen years old. In recent years it has been the sophomore oratorical contest the "Detached Cavalry" to Organize.

"Detached Cavalry" is the nickname which has been given to the company of students who are planning to accompany the cadets on their annual encampment. Only men who have had military experience before, either in the Iowa regiment or in the state militia will be allowed to go, as it is the intention of those in charge that the company will enter into all the activities of the other companies. Not only will they participate in the field meet and company contests but will also form a part of one of the "armies" in the battle maneuvers on Friday and Monday. A meeting is to be held in the liberal arts assembly room tomorrow night and all who intend to go must be there to hear the plans and to register.

Dr. R. H. Volland Honored.

At the close of the forty-eighth annual convention of the Iowa Dental society in Des Moines Thursday afternoon, Dr. R. H. Volland of the local instructional staff was honored by being chosen president of this organization for the ensuing year. Dr. Volland succeeds Dr. F. M. Hunt of Des Moines.

HAWKEYES BEST AMES; BENSON'S DRIVE WINS

TWELVE INNING STRUGGLE WON BY IOWA, 4 TO 3.

Wright's Hit Ties Score, Benson Scores Stewart with Winning Run as Lights Fade.

(By D. A.)

With a mighty swat which sailed far over Dorsey's head to the right field levee, Benson brought Stewart home from second in the last half of the twelfth and broke up the hardest fought battle of recent years just as the dim, dusky twilight began to settle over Iowa field on Friday. Before a crowd which filled the stand and overflowed along the running track in spite of ominous clouds hanging in the sky, the Hawkeyes and Aggies had fought on even terms for six innings the Hawkeyes having brought the count to a tie at 3 all by a desperate rally in their half of the sixth. Then both pitchers settled down to the fray, and everybody predicted that the rapidly approaching darkness would end the encounter until Benson introduced his game-busting effort. There was no getting away from that one. Benson met the ball squarely for one of the longest hits of the year, and it sailed clear across the running track for what would have been a sure three-bagger and a probable home run under ordinary conditions. Dorsey tore from his lurking place in the shadow of the big sign board in frantic chase; but he never had a chance, and before he recovered the ball the game was over.

With the score 3 all, Stewart opened the Hawkeye half of the twelfth with a single between first and second, his first hit of the game. Mericle was up to sacrifice, and he laid a perfect bunt in front of the plate, dying at first, while the captain sped on to second. Then came Benson and the end of the game.

Wright also broke into the list of pinch-hitters in the sixth frame, unloading a clout without which Benson would never have had a chance for his achievement. With the score 3 to 1 in favor of the Aggies in this round the Hawkeyes filled the cushions with no one gone. A horde of tallies seemed in prospect, but Schmidt's fly to left short dampened the rally. Wright was up next, and with the call two and two, pickled a clean single to center, shoving Mericle and Benson over the pan and throwing the game into deadlock.

The Ames athletes were late in arriving, and the start of festivities was delayed until after 4 o'clock. Then operations got under way, with Johnson twirling for Ames and West in the box for Green's elect. Beiter, captain of the visitors, adorned the bench, having decided not to participate in inter-collegiate baseball this year. The local line-up was somewhat shifted, Bryant's bad shoulder relegating him to the comparative quietude of the right field patch, while Benson moved over to left and Wright did

PAUL S. COLLIER.

Iowa's N. O. L. orator, Paul S. Collier, by his victory at Minneapolis, won the greatest forensic honor that can be conferred upon a college man in the middle west. His victory means that he excelled over representative orators from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Northwestern, Illinois, Michigan universities and Oberlin college. The honor is enhanced by the calibre of the schools in the league and the interest that is taken in the contest. Although coming close to the coveted prize, Iowa has succeeded in winning it only once before this year.

Collier's success is not due entirely to superior ability, but to a large capacity for labor and an unswerving desire to become a public speaker. He has profited largely from every contest that he has entered because he has sought to improve. Persistence and hard work are the chief elements in Collier's success.

Collier is an example of the man who wins by earnest effort and ceaseless toil. At no time has his success in class contests led him away from his purpose. Always modest and even retiring, he has never over-measured his ability, but has gone straight forward in his efforts to achieve success. Iowa has profited from Collier's efforts. This victory following upon our success in debate is a fitting climax for forensics at Iowa.

duty around short. But everything worked well at that, Benson pulling down two hard chances and pegging VanSlyke out at second on an ordinarily sure two-base drive against the embankment. Wright put up a clever game at short, and Bryant got under the only chance that came his way. Two bobbles marred the work of the Hawkeyes, Mericle dropping Kerrigan's long drive in left center and Stewart fumbling a boulder near second. The visitors pulled off three more or less costly mistakes.

Wright's and Benson's timely swats were the hitting features from an Iowa standpoint, while Herbert and Thomas did deadly execution with the stick for Ames, Thomas, in particular, although adorning the tail end of the Aggie batting list, proved the demon swatter of the day, heading every rally of the red-shinned invaders and drawing two hits and a pass out of four trips to the plate. The last time up he struck out for West improved as the game went on, and although peppered fairly hard in the third and fifth, settled down after that and was never in trouble, one hit summing up the Aggie swatting achievements in the last seven innings. Johnston was even more effective during the early stages, but weakened at the close. The big twirler was wild, hitting two and walking six, and this proved costly in the sixth, when Green's warriors rallied and tied the score.

Iowa began with a rush. With the enemy put away in order, Stewart walked, took second on Mericle's sacrifice, third on Benson's infield out and scored on Hanson's single over second. Ames was helpless until the third, when with Dorsey gone, Thomas began his swatting campaign. Herbert followed with a single on a hit-and-run play, and both scored when Mericle dropped Kerrigan's drive after a hard run. With one gone again in the fifth, Thomas cut his second single to center, and scored when Herbert smashed a three-bagger past Mericle. West settled to work then, and the enemy never had another opening.

Meanwhile the Hawkeyes were rallying in almost every inning, but without result in scoring way until the sixth. Here Johnston and Kerrigan enjoyed a short ascension. Mericle, first up, walked, and Benson with two and one called, was hit by the ball. Hanson swatted a fierce grounder at Kerrigan, and the eminent shortstopper, with a double play in sight, fumbled, crowding the sacks. Bryant, rf, 5 0 0 1 0 0. Schmidt popped a fly to short left, but Wright's clean hit over second sent two home. That was all, and the grim struggle went on with everybody even. Iowa had a chance in the seventh, when Mericle hit to right center with one gone. Dorsey overran the ball, and Mericle tore for second; but Kingman was backing up, and pegged him out. Benson's shirt front was ruffled by a pitched ball, and Kingman executed a brilliant which would have scored Mericle had he been there to score.
