FEW CHANGES TO BE MADE IN INSTRUCTIONAL STAFF

Increased Allowances to be Made by Finance Committee.

But two or three changes in the staff of instruction of the university will be made when the state board of education meets at Cedar Rapids May 25 and 26. These changes will be made among the instructors only as no resignations of heads of departments, professors or assistant professors have been received by the board. This fully disproves sensational reports concerning wholesale dismissals by the board.

Every college and department will be strengthened by the budget to be adopted by the board. The law and medical colleges receive special attention. Mayor Ralph Otto will give more of his time to the law college next year. The college of liberal arts will have $1,200 added to its money allotment.

United States regulations regarding military departments will be fully lived up to next year because of the allotment for supplies and equipment for Lieut. Mumma's department. The board, it is said, feels great satisfaction because of the work of Lieut. Mumma.

Some action probably will be taken on the new wing of the hospital. Sen. Thomas Lambert of the finance committee said yesterday that work on the new wing will be commenced this summer without fail.

Octave Thanet Elects

The Octave Thanets elected the following new officers Friday: President Agnes Beach; vice-president, Beulah Brown; recording secretary, Stacia Paul; treasurer, Fan Koch and sergeant at arms, Zora Wells.

Boyd Out of Hospital.

W. R. Boyd chairman of the finance committee of the state board of education, was in the city Friday and Saturday. He has been confined to St. Luke's hospital, Cedar Rapids, because of injuries received several weeks ago.

Notice to Cadets

Field equipment for the encampment will be issued as follows: Companies A and B at 4:30 p. m. Monday. C and D at 7 p. m. Monday. E and F at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday. Band and staff at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday. It is important that every member of the regiment draw his equipment at the hours designated.

M. C. MUMMA, Commandant.

Students at P. E. O. Convention

The P. E. O. Convention was held at Albia May 10 to 12, inclusive. Misses Grace and Ruth Fall and Anita Hopkins attended from Iowa City. There are fifteen girls in the university who belong to P. E. O. chapters elsewhere and who have formed a federation here. The committee in charge here is composed of Misses Vera Wilcox, Edna Bede, and Anita Hopkins.

HAWKEYES LOSE CLOSE AND HARD FOUGHT GAME.

Daring Base Running by Fellows in Eighth Inning Brings Victory To Wisconsin

(By D. A.)

One deafening crash, coming before the fans had realized that disaster was even in sight, sent the only run of the game clattering across the plate in the eighth inning of Friday's contest against Wisconsin and gave the visitors the margin in the cleanest-played encounter of recent decades. Until the fateful inning rolled around the game had been a stubborn pitcher's battle between West and Nash, with honors even and nobody getting farther than the second sack. Fellows, first up for Wisconsin in that round, was given a walk after a long and arduous session at the plate. Here came the play which put the game away. Flanagan, that's him, was up, with the all too evident intention of sacrificing. So Hanson and Schmidt closed in, while Stewart ran to cover first and Wright guarded second. Flanagan deceived no one, but laid a neat bunt down the third base line. Schmidt fielded it cleanly, and easily flagged the runner at first. Fellows, seeing the third sacker drawn away from his post, tore for third. Schmidt raced back, took Hanson's good peg on the run, and had the overly-bold Badger caught by a city block. But as he whirled and slapped the ball upon the runner, Fellows, under a full head of steam, crashed into him, and both men fell in a heap some three feet abaft the sack. Unfortunately for Iowa and for Schmidt, the latter suffered most in the collision, being knocked unconscious. The ball rolled from his grasp, and Fellows, having the assistance of the coacher in getting to his feet, trotted in home while the rescue squad rushed to the aid of the injured third-sacker with sponges, water and liniment.

Until this unlooked for happening, neither side had anything that looked like an opening for scores. West and Nash were both in form, and had the batsmen calling for aid at all times. Wright's clean single to center at the opening of the fifth was the only Hawkeye safety of the day, while the enemy piled up three scratches and two clean drives off West. The local star was much the steadier, however, and balanced the sheet by his superior control. Nash was inclined to be wild, as his four walks and three mutilated batsmen show. But both twirlers were good enough to go on indefinitely, and might have been pitching yet but for the sad doings related above.

Behind the two twirlers, both teams performed in brilliant style, four bobbles, all inexpensive with the exception of Schmidt's wholly excusable one, marked the sum total of the game.

THE INVITATION MEET.

Commendation is due the athletic management for its successful operation of the state high school invitation meet. The way in which every event was run off showed careful planning on the part of the officials. The fact that all the participants were satisfied with the work of the officials and pleased with the means provided for their entertainment is significant. It is not inappropriate to predict that the invitation meet shall soon exceed the old state H. S. meet both in attendance and in wholesome sport.

Starzinger Not Seriously Hurt

A letter has been received here by a friend of Vincent Starzinger, '09, of Des Moines, in which the former star debater says that his reported serious injury is not at all dangerous, amounting to nothing more than a slight cut in the head.

Miss Goodale Heads Nurses.

Miss Anna Goodale, superintendent of the nurses in the Homeopathic hospital, returned last night from the annual meeting of the state association of registered nurses at Des Moines where she was re-elected president for the coming year. The association adopted resolutions asking for many reform measures from the state legislature. Chief among these is a proposed law compelling a more rigid milk inspection law and a state nurse's training school in connection with all the hospitals of the state.

Triangle Club Dinner.

Friday evening the Triangle club held its annual dinner, which was served for the first time in the club rooms. Those who responded to toasts were Prof. E. D. Starbuck, C. O. Stewart, R. S. Little Rollo was reading from a paper when he looked up and asked his Pa, "What do they mean by a sherry and egg?" "That," replied his pa, "is a mixture designed to show that wine improves by age while eggs do not." I was reading in an almanac about "seeing things." A cook went on a spree and when he came to work they put some macaroni on the hot plates. He ran away yelling murder. A man was on a raft in mid-ocean with a number of comrades. He was scanning the horizon for a sail. "Do you see anything?" one of them asked. "Yes, I think I do," said the man. "What is it?" was eagerly asked. "My finish," was the reply. A lady of great tact heard a noise in the hall one night. It was very late and John (that was her hubby) could be heard stumbling and grunting around. "What is it, John?" cried the lady from the head of the stairs. "There's two hat racks down here," snorted John, "and I don't know which one to hang my hat up on." "But you have two hats," same the voice from above; "hang one on each rack and come to bed, dearie. You are tired." Say, wasn't she a good actress? of the fielding mistakes. Heady baseball was the order of the day throughout, no one being allowed to get away with anything. Belden Hill, sometime manager of the Bunies in the palmy days when Cedar Rapids graced the Three-I league, came all the way from the other end of the interurban to umpire the game in place of H. MacGregor, who remained in seclusion because Big Eight rules and regulations do not permit local men to officiate at such contests. Belden, old scout, got away with it in good style, objections being registered only upon a certain peculiar motion employed with deadly effect by Nash when runners were on first, and which was or was not a balk according to whether you were for Iowa or Wisconsin: which is not saying that the arbitrator was for Wisconsin because he refused to call the balk. Twice did Nash, whose

Your Attention Is Called To Our Record

We did not establish any new marks in the broad jump or pole vault at the Third Annual Interscholastic but we have done something that seems to make a hit with our customers equally as much and that was to lay in a big supply of comfort necessities for summer. We want you to have a peep at the hat department. Straw hats have landed and you want to see the new ones. Across the way the underwear man is having a busy time making friends with his wares and the way the warm days drive him trade would surely give him a fright if he didn't have the largest supply of these goods this big store has ever shown. The Max Mayer habit is a safe affliction when you want to dress in fashion and to your own comfort.

stay in Japan has taught him many of the wiles of the natives, break up promising Hawkeye rallies by the use of this device.

Iowa's first chance came in the first, when Schmidt was hit and went to second as Nash pegged to the track in futile endeavor to catch him napping. Hanson pickled one on the nose, but Horner, who put up a great exhibition Friday, picked it out from among Schmidt's feet as he sped by and flagged the big boy at first. Again in the fifth, when Wright led off with his hit and was sacrificed down by Hook, things looked good. But Benson fled to Flanagan, putting a crimp in matters. There was still time for a hit to send home the goods, and West met one squarely. It shot straight at Fellows, who stopped it by the simple expedient of letting it bounce off his chest. That left time enough to halt West at first and another chance was gone. The last rally came in the ninth, when Bryant walked and stole after Stewart had fled to Flanagan. Schmidt hit to Pergande, who ran Bryant down on the line, and Hanson popped out to Horner. Wisconsin's only other chance came in the ninth, when Horner cracked a clean double to left only to be doubled when Pergande lined to Wright. For the rest, the pitchers were the whole show. Neither one used the strike out much but kept the hitters popping up or rolling weak grounders to the infield. The score:
