Up to date, about two hundred and fifty tickets have been sold from the block of the hundred seats down from Ames for the game there next Saturday. Of these, about one hundred are reserved for the railroad station. The demand is expected to continue for the rest of the week. Seat tickets are in great demand at Ames. Just now, and it is probable that these seats have been sold back near the end of the week.

The demand for tickets on the special train is not keeping up with the seat sales, and it is believed that many students are planning a trip by way of Des Moines or to stay longer than the provisions of the contract will allow. Many requests are coming in from alumni for reservations, and the prospects are that a large number of alumni railroads will be at the res.

Plans for the trip to Ames are about completed. Chauncey Hawkey and twenty other alumni will leave Des Moines Friday afternoon and go to Marshalltown, where they will spend the night. This will give the new advantage of a night's rest away from the tension attending the act of the game, with only a short ride to the big city.

Beside the alumni team, every man who has appeared for practice regularly will be taken on the trip. The other alumni members will be brought along in the automobile as a source of safety and excitement, and a large group of alumni will make the journey on the special train.

The trip to Ames is a part of the freshman program, which will be the outstanding event of the year. The freshmen program will be held tonight at the T. McC. A. The trip for discontinuities will be "Save our little lobby, we'll welcome you." Chill and you will be at the station.

GOOD PRICES OFFERED

Notice has been given that the Iowa university students who wish to compete for the Hart, Schaffner & Marx prices should forward their essays to Professor J. Lawrence Laughlin, of the University of Chicago, by June 1, 1913.

The prizes are offered for the best papers on current subjects. They amount in all to $2,500 and are the seventh year of their existence. Winners in the past years have been Harvard, Dartmouth, Western Illinois, Northwestern, and Pennsylvania.

The prizes are divided into two classes. Class "A" includes any American without restriction; the first prize is $1,500, and the second is $750. Class "B" includes only men who, at the time the papers are sent in, are undergraduates of any American college, but are members in class "A." The first prize in this class is $1,000 and $500.

The committee in charge of the contest is as follows:

Professor J. Lawrence Laughlin, University of Chicago, chairman; Professor E. B. Clark, Columbia University; Professor A. F. B., Chicago; Professor Adams, University of California; Professor Lidell, University of Michigan, Howard University.

The prizes are offered for the best papers on current subjects. They amount in all to $2,500 and are the seventh year of their existence.

A Phi Beta Kappa student has been granted the University of Illinois. Illinois University has a married women's club among its organizations.

A competitive book store is to be started at the University of Minnesota.
