KELLOGG SCHEDULES GAMES FOR HAWKEYES

BASKETBALL LIST IS PRACTICALLY COMPLETE NOW.

Stringent Rules Against Rough Play Are Adopted by Two Conferences.

Jan. 11—Coe or Cornell, here.

Jan. 21—Drake, here.

Jan. 28—Northwestern, here.

Feb 9, 6, 10, or 11—Three game trip, Minnesota, Normal or St. Joseph, Luther.

Feb. 17—Lewis Institue at Chicago.

Feb. 18—Northwestern, at Evanston.

Mar. 2—Grinnell, here.

Mar. 4—Minnesota, here.

Mar. 8—Grinnell, at Grinnell.

Mar. 9—Drake, at Des Moines.

Manager N. A. Kellogg returned home Sunday from the meeting of the Missouri Valley basketball managers and announced the schedule as given above. The last two dates are not absolutely certain. Iowa has a fairly stiff schedule this year but not a comprehensive one, the team being included only in the race for state honors.

Three members of the Missouri Valley conference will not try for championship honors in that body this year, Ames, Iowa, Drake, and Washington. Drake has decided to play no games outside of Iowa. That will leave four teams in the contest for honors, Ames, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri. Iowa will play only two other members of the Chicago conference so honors there will be hard to claim.

The Missouri Valley and Chicago conference coaches and managers are going to enforce the rules in the basketball code this year. They are going to make an effort to save the game. For the past two or three years basket ball has outfootballey football.

Some of the rulings that have been adopted are as follows:

1. Four personal fouls will disqualify a player, captains having no right to waive this rule. A player will not be warned when he has three fouls.

2. When an opponent is trying for a basket pushing him will mean disqualification for the first offense.

3. The home team is responsible for the conduct of the crowd.

4. When time is taken out neither team is to leave the floor.

5. The players of both teams are to be numbered.

A Correction

The following counties will meet in the rooms indicated for the County Club organizations next Wednesday after Assembly instead of in the rooms indicated in Sunday's issue of the Iowan:

Dickinson County, Upstairs, N. S. Au.
Union Co., Mr. Fisk's office, Old Cap.
Warren Co., 205 L. A.
Wright Co., 114 L. A.

LIBERAL ARTS TEAM WALKS ALL OVER DENTAL SQUAD

Final Score of This Rough Battle is 52 to 9.

The Liberal Arts basketball team walked all over the Dents in one of the fiercest fought games of the inter-department schedule so far played last night. It seemed to be the object of each team to put its opponents out of play, the Liberal Arts winning by being able to cage more baskets while accomplishing this end. The score was 52 to 9.

The Dents were unable to stop the fast passing and leech-like guarding of the "Lits". No matter how often they got the ball into their opponent's territory they were unable to slip in the desired basket. The victors, on the other hand, were successful in shooting the goal when once they got the ball near the basket. O'Connor was the stellar performer in the point making line for the Lits caging a total of ten field goals. Schmidt and O'Brien were not far behind him, totalling four apiece For the Dents, Dice was the only man to get away to any effect caging a goal in each half.

The line-up and summary follows:

Liberal Arts	Dents
Smidt, capt, rf	Dice, capt, lg
O'Brien, Fields, lf	Knowles, Feuling, rg
O'Connor, c	Reichelt, c
Streeter, lg,	Embree, rf
Leo rg	Stainbrook, lf

Summary: Field goals, Schmidt 4, O'Brien 4, O'Conner 10, Streeter 3, Leo 3, Reicheltl, Dice 2. Foul goals Schmidt 1, O'Brien 3, Embre 3. Score at en dof first half, 30 to 4. Referees, Sallander and Schroeder.

Plans Completed.

Plans for the Sophomore Cotillion are practically completed and everythins is in readiness even to the minutesest details of the decorating. The committee promises something entirely new in the general plan of decorating. A novel feature wil lbe the mode of lighting, and in addition to the lights at the ceiling the Christas effect wil be enhanced by a brilliantly lighted Christmas tree suspended from the center of the room. Several fire places will be built and the fire light will add to the Yuletide effect.: In addition to the usual amount of bunting, evergreen and holly will be used liberally. The committee is sparing no pains to make the sophomore cotillion one of the most brilliant formal parties of the year.

Much time and careful effort has been expended in selecting music and the program of dances is one of the finest it is possible to procure. The music secured is the best in the State.

The Sophomore Cotillion is the first class party of the season and from present indications this party will set a standard that it will be next to impossible to surpass. The advance sale of tickets promises to give a large attendance and shows that the interest in the Cotillion among the student body is very keen.

MAUD POWELL PLAYS WAY TO IOWA HEARTS

NOTED VIOLIN PLAYER DOES WONDERFUL WORK.

Her Ability Draws Highest Praise From All Who Hear Her Play Here.

Maud Powell, America's wonderful violinist was heard last night in a recital at the Natural Science auditorium. An enthusiastic audience greeted the appearance of the noted young woman, who showed an appreciation by her excellent rendition of her well selected program. Every number brought its keen reward, and the second number in the Y. M. C. A. recitals for 1910 was a pronounced success.

Miss Powell plays with wonderful ability, and shows in every note, the result of careful training and practice. She puts much feeling into her work, and can give, with equal success, selections which are full of gayety, and those which abound in pathos. Her playing is intellectual, and her splendid accuracy of stopping is marked. She is a master of the tecnics of her instrument and her employment of her knowledge results in good expression. She is intimate with each tone of her violin and agile in the production of it.

Last night's program was opened with the Spanish Symphony by Ed. Lals, played in andante, allegro, ma non troppo, and allegro. It was beautifully played with an easy grace and smoothness in tone. Beethoven's Variations from the Kreutzer Sonata, always delightful, lost none of its charm when Miss Powell and her efficient accompanist, Waldemar Liachorossky rendered it. Grieg's Wedding music was especially beautiful. The popular musician justified anll reports of her ability last evening and her entertainment will not soon be forgotten.

Mumma to get Machine Guns.

A novelty in military affairs is to be introduced at Iowa during the coming year, if the present plans of Lieutenant M. C. Mumma materialize. This is the introduction of a machine gun company, which will use the guns of the 54th regiment I. N. G. Co. I, of Iowa City, is a member of this regiment, and under the proposed plans all students who wish to register for the work must become members of the local company.

Postpones Action.

The committee at the head of the movement to remove the saloons five miles from the university is to meet tonight to decide in regard to the circulating of the petition that is to be sent to the next legislature which convenes soon. The purpose is to postpone the work until the outcome of the fight in the city is known. The committee has arranged to have one of the faculty bring the matter up before assembly tomorrow and if the city should fail in its fight to remove them the circulation of the petition will be begun at once.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB CONCERT TAKES PLACE TOMORROW

Big Crowd Will Greet Singers at Auditorium.

Tomcrrow night the Men's Glee Club makes its first appearance before an Iowa audience. The club this year is far different from the one which represented Iowa last year, being larger, and it is promised, better. The School of Music has taken charge of the training of the men and the result has been a perfected organization.

Mirth and music is what the glee-clubers promise to their audience. Some good "stunts" have been worked up that will rival any vaudeville sketch ever produced. The music itself is to both of the popular and classical kinds a typical glee-club concert.

Several organizations have taken hold of the ticket sale and are pushing the concert. The Y. M. C. A. and the Girls Glee Club have both taken a hand and report the demand for tickets good. With the new feature of making the concert a social function as well as a musical production, it is expected that the appearance tomorrow night will mark a great advance in Iowa's musical history.

Dates Are Set.

Preparations are already under way for the big annual meeting of the Alumni Association of the college of dentistry. The date has been set for March 6-7 and 8 and over 1,500 letters are being sent to all the alumni and former students of this college. Already many answers have been received and the meeting this year promises to be the largest ever held. This is one of the most important meetings held at the university and much interest is always manifester in it.

Dr. Rogers of the college of dentistry last wek attended the meeting of the Waterloo District Dents Society at Waterloo. The main topic taken up by the societ ywas the advisability of a compulsory examination of the teeth of all school children.

Language Association Meets

The sixteenth annual meeting of the central division of the Modern Language Association of America will be held at Washington University, at St. Louis, Missouri, during the holidays, December 28-30 inclusive. Many prominent educaters of the middle west will be in attendance and appear upon the interesting program which has been arranged. The following men from Iowa University will read papers:—Dr. Elbert N. S. Thompson, on "The Form of Doctor Faustus," Professor Stephen H. Bush, on "The teaching of French Literature to Undergraduates," and Mr. Edward H. Lauer, on "Luther's Transiation of the Psalms."

Professor Charles Bundy Wilson is secretary of the association and also a member of the executive committee. Mr. Wilson is now sending the printed programs to the various members and interested people.

MICHIGAN IS BALKING SCORES OF SCHEDULES

ALL TEAMS DEPEND ON ACTION OF THAT TEAM

Iowa Football Schedule is Far From Being Arranged at the Present Time.

The question of whether or not Michigan will come back into the Chicago conference is holding back the formation of schedules from that state west. It is probable that it will be some time before any schedules in either of the conferences will be announced because of this one uncertainty.

There is a big bundle of "if's" connected with the matter. If Michigan comes back into the conference Minnesota will meet Michigan in their last game of the season. If Michigan does not come back into the conference and if Minnesota decides to play Michigan anyway then Chicago will refuse to play the Gophers. If Michigan does not come back Illinois and Minnesota will probably play the final game of their season next year.

If Minnesota and Illinois do not clash in the final game it is possible that Iowa and the Illinois will do so. If Iowa doesn't meet Illinois in the final game of the year the Hawkeyes may take on Northwestern, the Purple team being anxious to pit itself against Iowa during the latter part of November. As Iowa can't make its schedule as yet Drake and Ames are slightly held up. These two teams are also being retarded in their schedule making by other members of the Chicago conference.

It looks now as though Iowa would meet Morningside in the first game of the season, but aside from that Iowa schedule is very much up in the air. Games are in prospect with Minnesota, Illinois, Northwestern, Purdue, Drake, Ames, Nebraska, Missouri and Morningside. Just as soon as the Michigan question is settled it is very probable that all of the schedules will be easily and quickly settled.

Raymond To Read Paper.

Dean W. C. Raymond of the college of Applied Science will read a paper on "Road Maintenance" before the Iowa Good Roads Association to meet in Des Moines December 28. He attended a meeting of the executive committee of the association during the past week.

President Denies Rumor

"There is absolutely no truth in the rumor; there is no foundation whatsoever for it." With these emphatic words of Pres. G. E. MacClean squashed the rumor which was current on the campus yesterday that the university would suspend on Thursday of this week instead of the next. "The low water in the river could not interfere with the university lighting, as we have both a steam and a gascline power plant to use in such an event," he said.

CO-OPERATION

Co-operation between faculty and students is one of the most desirable conditions in an institution, and Iowa has that spirit of co-operation. Nothing could show this better than the hearty support given the intercollegiate debaters by our faculty in the recent debates.

According to the teams, the professors were never too busy to spend a few minutes in consultation with them and to sacrifice their own interests to further those of the teams. Law and liberal arts professors both, were glad to give their assistance.

It is this spirit which will make Iowa one of the leading institutions in the West no matter what her enrollment may be. Cordial co-operation between faculty and student weld together the carrying interests of university life and make for a unified and Greater University. That Iowa's faculty is doing all in its power to attain this end is self-evident. It is one of the signs of the crystallization of university spirit which is going to make Iowa the peer of any educational institution in the West.

"The Lion and the Mouse."

The preliminary seat sale for "The Lion and the Mouse" is now in operation and there are splendid indications for its presentation at the Coldren Thursday before large audiences. This play by Charles Klein which points out the mischief wrought by the centralization of financial power was the first of its kind set before playgoers and its author and promoter have reaped rich returns from a pecuniary point of view Playgoers without exeception to class or other distinction have always felt that they received full value for their investment and they happy conditions have resulted in a popularity for Mr. Klein's creation that is sure to keep it in the foreground of favorites for a considerable number of years.

Hygiene Lecture.

In his lecture on "Social Hygiene," delivered before the freshman class last night, Professor B. E. Gillin defined the science as spiritual conservation. He brought out especially the several phases of the work done in large cities, and outlined the purposes of social hygiene.

He said that social hygiene is to the spiritual things of life what physical hygiene and preventative medicine are to the physical. It is a conservation of our human national resources, and includes the movements for helping young men to choose their life work, the correction of abuses in social life, such as bad housing conditions, unsanitary living conditions and immoral surroundings.

Further, it includes measures and institutions providing substitutes for evil and unwholesome customs and instiutions, substituting playgrounds parks and amusement halls for the dance halls conducted in an unwholesome way.

Another function of social hygiene is provided laws regulating milk, and food and water and drug supplies, the liquor traffic, the circulation of immoral literature, child labor, and in fact all the conditions of life.

Pan-Hellenic Meeting.

At a meeting of the Pan-Hellenic council Saturday the question of the initiation of the freshmen laws, who were unknowingly left out of consideration by the council last spring when they drafted resolutions regarding initiation of new men, was definitely settled for this semester.

The law faculty helped the council out of its difficulty by giving out the quarterly grades, contrary to the usual custom, permitting the laws with passing grades to be initiated.

The trouble arising over these regulations show plainly the need of a new set and committees will be appointed at once to draft them.
