FIVE MILL BILL DISCUSSION BEFORE JOINT COMMITTEE

Many Droppers Expected as Step to Peace Mission.

The five mill bill last fall was taken up again for discussion before the state Senate on Monday evening. Over a hundred people representing five different sections of the state went down from Iowa City and appeared before the joint committee on the suppression of temperance. Those supporting the bill were first given an hour in which to present their side of the question. The opponents were given the hour and a half, and the discussion was closed by a half hour's argument from the pressers.

The debate started and the people expressed themselves as pleased with the coalition with respect to the Senate bill. It is thought that a large part of both members and representatives favored the passage, and that there was good reason for believing that it would be made by the Senate. On the other hand, members of the opposition contended that the bill would never get beyond the committee, and that even if it should be adopted and sent to the house it would meet defeat in the Senate. With this diversity of opinion among those who made the trip on Friday it is hard to forecast the final result of the fight.

During the hearing both sides were naturally supported by the large number who were present. The rave who were in attendance were quiet, with the exception of a few of the speakers who made the trip to attend the joint committee. The reason for the absence of representatives of the Six-Mile Course.

Flash from eastern prairies and prairies, "Baby Mine," Margaret
Mayo's clever farm, played here Wed-
