OUTLOOK IS GLOOMY FOR YEAR ON TRACK

FEW VETERANS AVAILABLE FOR 1918 TEAM.

Loss of Allermen, Fils, and Others

Illustrated—Big Track He-low Kellogg.

With the near approach of spring, Coach Kellogg is beginning preparaions for the season's work of the arsity track squad. Although his ort will be made to develop an eam comparable to last year's e will be made now on this of the idea of developing the men as far possible before the weather pro-me the use of the outdoor track.

Starting practices will begin soon, perhaps next week, and Kellogg expects the men to be in condition in the near future. The starting platforms are being put in place in the weeks on this practice; and the men will be made of the railway inother track which were employed for the Iowa relay. Sprint practice will be in both, and the distance men will begin to get in shape through the medium of long around the gallery running track.

Prospects for a high-class team are not promising though bright. One of the best point-winners over on an track team, has seriously cited the victions for the Hawkins in the going events, and with Wees and Pilie the t here, to win in the eight relay and make him. O'Brien will be able to care of the hammer, but far this first time in years Iowa is going to be weak in the distance unless some unknown places up.

Captain Wilson in the high hard-

' is about the only point winner in line this year's squad left. Perhaps k of the freshman squad, is not in school, and a low hurdler is en to be fatally headed. Here year, and Thomas of the rifle squad are all here, but the sportsmen will keep Thomas off the track this year.

Need and Smith, the best of last

' s distance men, are still eligible and the Iowa team looks fairly strong in this event from the half-mile up.

A good sprinter is still to be found.

th the exception of Oliver in the hammer throw and former captain Engstrom in the jumps no high class material is available for the track. Fils, who was taken up to prove valuable in the pole

, is in the far well and his place is united. Wichard, the state half e mile, did not enter Iowa West.

Larson, who was indefatigable last spring, has returned his defection and will still be seen on the sides again. He's even with this the addition to the strength of Wilson's makes the outlook for the 1918 season is not too remote.
