DEFEATS DRANE; HUGO RYDEN IS STAR

HAWK-EYE QUARTETT IN VICTORY BY SCORE OF 54-30

Class Competition Is Embodied by Drake Five, Iowa Always Leader

Although the Iowa field did not break any records this past week in college football, the performance of the Hawkeye quartet in an easy victory over Hugo Ryden of the University of Wisconsin is a record in itself.

Last week, the Iowa eleven defeated its arch-rival, the Marquette eleven of Milwaukee, in a contest that has been characterized by its intensity. Although Iowa was favored over Marquette, the contest was a highly competitive one, and the Hawkeyes were not able to achieve a decisive victory until the last minutes of the game. The final score was 14-0 in favor of Iowa, who thus maintained their unblemished record for the season.

This week, the Hawkeyes faced a tougher opponent in the form of Hugo Ryden, who had been enjoying a highly successful season and was considered by many experts to be one of the strongest teams in the country. However, the Hawkeyes were able to overcome this challenge and emerged victorious with a score of 54-30.

The Hawkeye victory was achieved through a combination of strong defense and powerful offense. The defense was able to neutralize the offensive efforts of Ryden's team, while the offense was able to capitalize on its opportunities and put up a high-scoring performance.

The Hawkeyes are now preparing for their next game against another formidable opponent, who will undoubtedly present a greater challenge. However, the team's performance and confidence in the recent victories should provide them with the necessary motivation to continue their winning streak.
