ZEI-PHILO DEBATE COMES ON TUESDAY

UNIVERSITY CHAMPIONSHIP IS AT STAKE.

Next Tuesday evening representatives of Zeit and Philo will meet in a friendly struggle for the fourth consecutive championship. Since the preliminary debates were the measure of both teams have been hard at work, and at the present time both sections are confident of victory in the ensuing encounter.

The Zeitophylax team, composed of William Amer, Ben Swall and Max Dering, went to work by debating the Marshall Law representatives in the preliminaries, while the Philosofulam team, composed of Paul E. Afghan, M. C. Rieley and Edward Purney, won their position in the race to the victory in the sheriff's position. There was no croutier over choosing sides for the final debate, as both teams were willing to hold their original positions.

The question which will be up for debate is the same one which was debated in the preliminaries, and concerns the adoption of the optional university and referendum in Iowa. The Philos of that posts remain true to the university and referendum in Iowa. The Philos of that posts remain true to the university and referendum.

Many who are going away on trips are buying their spring wear now.

Managers Meet

The first meeting of the university-department committee for the purpose of deciding plan for the spring baseball season was held yesterday afternoon in Schweitzer’s office at the university. Because of the failure of some of the managers to attend, the definite action could not be taken, and the meeting adjourned until next week.

Are you working over your new campaign? Would you be interested in a selected proposition? We have only a few places open. Call at room 221. Van Nostrand, Friday afternoon.

Write Injury Report

Juniors closed in the wrestling tournament with Nebraska March 14 when Webb, clothed in champion, eclipsed his knee severely during a work-out in the gym. The extent of the injury is not known at present, but it is certain that it is at least severe enough to cause considerable delay in his training, and thus in the chances of winning his match.
