NEW MEMBERS CHOSEN AT MONTHLY MEETING

STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEET.

Strong Staff of Research Assistants Selected

The last monthly meeting of the State Historical Society of Iowa was one of the most important that has ever been held during the past year. With respect to the coming annual work in the Iowa State school of research plans were made for some of the most thorough research work that has ever been undertaken. During the past year, a number of other important matters were transacted.

The list of new members elected at this meeting is as follows:

Research assistants were made for the research work that is to be undertaken. Iowa is to be the center of the history of the state, and the men who are to be the chief actors in the province.

Mr. John W. Martin, Winterset, was made for some of the most important associations. The Iowa school of research plans are made for some of the most important associations. The Iowa school of research plans are being made for some of the most important associations.

The well-dressed man is he who pays particular attention to his neckdress. A slovenly, ill-fitting collar will mar the whole effect of man's dress.
Many Alumni Home.

Iowa alumni took possession of the new alumni meeting room on every Tuesday. The rules of the registration bureau in the drawing room of the liberal arts building were rigid during the morning, and by noon several hundred graduates were on hand, as their names in the big book moved. The number grew all afternoon, and alumni secretary, Mr. Black, announced that some eight hundred had arrived in Iowa City at six o'clock last evening. This far exceeds the best previous record ever made here.

Yesterday was alumni day, and the alumni students were at their best every-where. Most of them, after attending their class reunions and the general commission on the morning, went to the class frolics in the afternoon. The usual class which took as an active part in the distribution bureau in the drawing room was present.

The students who have been initiated convince you.
