INDECISIVE STRUGGLE WITH FRESHMAN TEAM

VARSITY DEVELOPING SLOWLY UNDER INCESSANT DRILL

Freshmen Go Through Scrimmage With High Schoolers and Varsity.

Hawley Tries New Combinations

Last night's scrimmage though not especially fierce showed that the team is getting some little development out of its practice. A number of the positions on the team are yet a little weak, but there is considerable material for the places, and it is believed that Coach Hawley will have those parts of his fighting machine working smoothly, or fairly so, before the Morningside which is only a little over a week off.

Alexander was tried out again at end last night, with O'Brien and Trickey working on the same side. Clemons was shifted to left guard and Ney worked at center. Bowman who has been showing an aggressive spirit held down the left tackle position and Buckley was in his accustomed place at left end. The line worked well in this combination most of the time. After a few plays, Alexander went to the gym and Feller was given a chance to show his mettle at right end. His work was good in a few instances although he let several plays get by him for long gains.

In the backfield the men seemed to be working together fairly well, Murphy, Banton and Van Lockum in the back positions, and Curry at quarter. The freshmen aggregation was unable to offer strong enough opposition to get any real test of the varsity's strength. The first year men had already gone through a half-hour's tussle with the high school bunch when they were called in to buck the varsity, so that the long gains that the varsity made are not to be credited so much to their strength as to the weakness of the opposition.

The hard drill that the squad has gone through is beginning to show results. The men are getting the plays fairly well by now, although they are not yet run off with the smoothness that the coach would like to see. Speed in the plays is one of the things that Hawley is working on now, as with the heavy line that Iowa has, speedy plays are sure to be a strong part in the offense this year.

Historian is Here

Mr. Arthur Springer of Wapello, who is engaged in writing a history of Louisa county, Iowa, is spending several days in Iowa City gathering material for his work in the rooms of the State Historical Society of Iowa. Mr. Springer is an alumnus of the law college of the university, graduating with the class of 1877. He is the son of Francis Springer, who was president of the constitutional convention which met at Iowa City in 1857 and drew up the present constitution of Iowa.

Y. M. C. A. OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR INCREASED MEMBERSHIP

Five Hundred Mark Is Goal Sought By Association

Today the Y. M. C. A. will carry on an enthusiastic membership campaign. An organized force will be at work among the students of the university, and it is hoped to gain enough new members to bring the association up to the five-hundred mark. J. H. Anderson is chairman of the membership committee, and head of the college of liberal arts in the campaign. The men heading the other colleges are: law, Ray Thompson; engineering, F. A. Richards; dentistry, Carl Rosell; medicine, H. Hundling; pharmacy, Ira Pierce. Membership is being put up to every man who can be reached, on the basis of uniting for Christian living against the various forces which tend to disintegrate the character of the young men who come here to prepare themselves for a successful life in the outer world. Members are taken either as active or inactive, according to their standing and their wishes.

Along with the campaign for membership the association is carrying on its finance campaign. Each member when he joins, is permitted to give to the association whatever amount he wishes or feels able.

Tennis Tournament Results

The results of yesterday's tennis preliminaries resulted in the following score:

Slob defeated Scott (8-6), (9-7). Shaw defeated Klay (8-6), (9-7).

First round matches resulted as follows:

Brown defeated Schroeder, (8-6) (6-2); Larson defeated Pollard by default.

Doubles between Kuever-Meyers and Klay-Larson began yesterday. Only one set was played which was won by Klay and Larson. The remainder of the match will be played off Friday. The doubles will be continued today, the first match up being that between Cook-Casterlein and Sharrard-Culbertson. All who are up for second round matches will play today.

New Device Introduced

An innovation in business methods has been made by Kemp of the Varsity Wardrobe by the installation of a new steam pressing machine, which is guaranteed to press a suit better in fifteen minutes than it could be pressed by hand in much longer time. This machine is a recent invention and has worked a great change in the panitorium business.

Kemp's progress is the more notable because of the fact that last year he suffered two disastrous fires and it was freely predicted that he would be driven from the field. Taking a warning from his previous experience after paying for the damage occasioned by his disaster, he has installed a new fireproof plant for cleaning and has hired experts to take charge of it.

PROF. F. C. EASTMAN ADDRESSES ASSEMBLY

GIVES A DELIGHTFUL AND INSPIRING ADDRESS

Speaker Yesterday Says Education's Function is to Prepare for Life as It Is

"Education should prepare us for life as it is and as it ought to be," said Prof. F. C. Eastman in the course of his address at the assembly yesterday. The address, although prepared on short notice, had all the qualities of a platform lecture. Professor Eastman has a soul-reaching and soul-inspiring way of speaking that adds to the pleasure of listening to what he has to say.

"It is not enough," said Professor Eastman, "to all farm unto farm, to add wealth unto wealth, to pile item upon item. It is not enough in obtaining an education to pile fact upon fact in our minds. An education means more than that: it means that we must have a love for all men; it means that we shall be able to discriminate between the things that are valuable and the things that are not valuable; it means that we shall be able to control our own soul, and in doing these things get the most out of life."

According to the speaker, many a man has been ruined by the old motto, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try, again." He has kept on in an unsuccessful attempt to win in a field of work for which he was not intended. There is a call which leads to success if answered, and if one tries over and over again to win in a forbidden path, the inevitable result must be failure.

"There is a call," said the speaker, "which if followed will mean success. Does the student usually find this call? He may spend several years in finding it; but if he will follow in the path of least resistance, if he will answer the vague, faint longing of the heart, he will eventually find his true place in this world. I don't believe the preacher has any more of a call than the rest of us—we are all called to some task in life, and happy are we if we find it."

Professor Shambaugh at Dubuque

Professor Benjamin F. Shambaugh of the department of political science has gone to Dubuque, where he will deliver an address on Iowa history this afternoon before the Woman's Club of that city.

IOWA UNION IS WAITING FOR EQUIPMENT TO COME

Membership Applications Growing to Large Numbers

The time is short, now, until the Iowa Union will be open for regular business, although a definite time cannot be fixed. The fireplace has just been completed, and it proves to be the most beautiful and largest fire places in the city, making it a splendid asset to the appearance of the Union rooms.

The building is practically ready for entrance, with the exception of the floors, which are yet to be remodeled. The walls have been coated, the woodwork varnished, and everything is in fine shape. All that the management is waiting for now is the furniture, kitchen equipment, and carpets, which have all been ordered.

The applications for membership are constantly and steadily coming in, but it is expected that as soon as the Union throws open its doors to the student public the applications will come in to such an extent that every student in the university will be a member. This is the belief of Manager Arthur C. Gordon, and he has high hopes for the Union as it is being started at Iowa.

Mortar and Pestle Reception

The real activities of the Mortar and Pestle society for the year was begun Tuesday evening when a reception was held at Close hall for the new students in the college of pharmacy.

The main address was given by Dr. C. S. Chase of the college of medicine. His talk although directed chiefly to the new students, as words of welcome, encouragement and advice were appreciated fully proved his ability as an entertaining speaker outside the classroom as well as being both entertaining as well as instructive inside of it. The remarks of I. H. Pierce, president of the society, were also well put, to the point and spirit arousing. Refreshments were served, followed by a general "Lustbarkeit" in which all took active part. The spirit and enthusiasm shown amply demonstrate that the college of pharmacy is not dead in the greater university spirit, and furnishes foundation for hope of better things from the society as well as the college.

Clancy Chosen Captain

At the meeting of the freshmen squad Tuesday night the men chose H. O. Clancy captain for the season.

Although Clancy is a new man in the university, he is an experienced football player, having played two years on the Des Moines college team. He is playing the same position on the freshmen team which he held down with the Des Moines aggregation. Although classified now as a senior, there is a possibility that Clancy will not take his degree next June, and that he will be back next fall to try out for the varsity.

Department Editors To Be Chosen By Election in Different Colleges Tomorrow

The Hawkeye board for the 1913 Hawkeye has been selected and is announced below. Editor Seydel announces that each person has been chosen after a careful consideration of his competency for the position, and the staff represents the whole university as nearly as is possible.

Editor-in-chief, Frank Seydel, business manager, Adrian Foley; associate editors, Will Hart, Elizabeth Nutting, Howard Anderson, Eugene McCaffrey, Henry Bell, William P. Ashton; college editors, liberal arts, to be appointed; law, Clifford Powell; medicine, to be elected; engineering, Ben Boer; dentistry, to be elected; pharmacy, to be elected. Humorous editors, Wright Weeks, Ben Swab and Florence Meadows. Art editors, to be appointed. Civics editor, to be appointed. Athletic editors, Stanley Streator and John Hanson. Military editor, Roland Philbrook. Pan Hellenic editors, Carl Strickler and Margaret Durnin. Scenic editor, Ralph Schroeder. Y. M. C. A. editor, Louis Penningroth. Y. W. C. A. editor, to be appointed. Literary editor, Hoyt Cooper. Alumnae editors, Genevieve Brown and Alice Rodgers. Forensic editors, John Laughlin and Harry Gould.

The elections in the different colleges tomorrow afternoon will determine the editors of the separate colleges and the complete staff will be announced. Editor Seydel has announced his intention to permit as much space to each department as the size of the college or quality of contributed matter justifies. This year a Hawkeye box will be placed in each college for contributions, humor or otherwise, from all the students as well as the editor of each college.

Under a management which will be initiated this year at Iowa, but which prevails at nearly all of the other universities where year books are published, the Hawkeye is assured to be the best.

Historical Society Elects

Upon the recommendation of the superintendent the following persons were elected to membership: James R. MacVicar, Iowa City; John S. Nollen, Lake Forest, Ill.; Paul J. Pierce, Belmond, Iowa.

Upon further recommendation of the superintendent it was voted that the manuscript entitled "The Biography of George W. Jones," prepared by Dr. John C. Parish be accepted and that a contract be made for the printing and binding of the same at the next meeting of the board.

THE AUSTRALIAN BALLOT
Since the institution of the Australian ballot system two years ago there has been marked improvement in political conditions at Iowa. The charges and counter-charges, meeting methods of choosing officers which marked the old-time class-meeting method of choosing officers, have disappeared. In the liberal arts college, at least, all this has given place to orderly and sensible voting, conducted on fair and equitable principles.

It is not too much to say that some change had become absolutely necessary in that college at the time the Australian ballot was adopted. Methods of winning elections which would have disgraced any cross-roads politician were more than once adopted, and the worst of ward-healers would have been in his element in the political atmosphere which surrounded every party on an election day.

As far as the liberal arts classes are concerned, all this is changed. Now there is a definite date set, the voting is in secret, and rules and regulation govern every detail. The junior law class this year adopted the same system, and favorable comments have been common among the members of that organization.

There seems no good reason why the Australian ballot system should not be adopted generally among the other colleges. Probably, there is not such need for it in the professional schools; yet it is very possible that some case might arise in which the use of such a system would be the only means of giving every member of the class a fair opportunity to express his choice. The adoption of the system at least can do no harm and may be a strong guarantee of justice. The man who opposes its adoption shows his preference for the old ganster methods, and furnishes strong prima facie evidence that he is afraid to come out in fair fight and give his classmates a chance to express their opinion of him.

Interdepartment Meeting Called

It is but a question of a few days until the interdepartmental football teams will be organized, and the adherents of the famous fall sport will have an opportunity to see some real contests, those which are for blood. Last year, it will be remembered, every game was a fight from start to finish, and the feeling existing between the different colleges in regard to football has not changed with the calendar.

Manager Schroeder announced last night that a meeting of the committees of the different colleges was called for Friday night. At this meeting dates for games will be decided and arrangements in general completed. It is not definitely known just what colleges will compete, but it is probable the medics, pharmacists, dents and engineers will produce their elevens. The liberal arts and laws will have no team this year on account of inability of the management to get together in a satisfactory manner.

Repass Class President

The seniors of the applied science college held their annual election yesterday morning in the senior room and chose the following officers:

M. A. Repass, Dexter, Iowa, president
O. F. Moeller, Dysart, vice president
L. B. Davidson, Sioux City, secretary
L. J. Keiser, Iowa City, treasurer.

The good judgment of the class was manifest in the choice of president as well as other officers and politics played little part in their election. Mr. Repass, the new president, has a fine record and is expected to prove a popular and worthy executive. He won his "I" in football in 1910, and was joint winner of the Lowden prize in mathematics at the end of his sophomore year. Besides bearing these honors, he is a member of the Wexo club, and of the honorary engineering fraternity, Tau Beta Pi, being "high junior" at the time of his election to the latter.

Junior Engineers to Elect

Friday afternoon at 4:30 the juniors will hold their class election and at the same time in the student's room, the freshmen will attempt to sort out some class officers from among themselves, also. The next meeting of the A. S. of A. S. will be held Friday, Oct. 13.

Under Graduate Tournament

Entries are now open for all under graduate students. The entry card can be found on the court from today on and all who are interested are urged to enter. This tournament will determine the championship of the university for the undergraduates. This includes both doubles and singles. Eugene Tilton, champion last year, will not be here to defend his title.

Senior Pharmacy Election

The senior pharmacists held the class election yesterday. The following officers were elected: President, C. B. Burnside; vice president, P. K. Hagan; secretary and treasurer, C. E. Nolting; class representative, I. H. Pierce; sergeant at arms, Joe Carty.

COMING EVENTS

At the Coldren

A farce with music well describes "Merry Mary." It will be seen at the Coldren on Sunday night, Oct. 8.

Hilding Anderson's music, a real plot well worked out, an excellent company and a now famous chorus, have made this production one of the season's greatest hits. It is enough to say that Mr. Anderson wrote the music. That fact alone guarantees the catchiness and beauty of the songs which are plentifully interspersed throughout the action of "Merry Mary."

There are more than a dozen big hits, among these being, "Land of Make Believe," "The Summerly Girls," "My Wedding Day," "It's Just Your Way," "I Love No One But You," "Land of Bou Boo Loo," "I'm on My Way," and "Razor Jim."

"Merry Mary" is a brand new song farce and comes to the Coldren direct from an all summer's run at the Whitney opera house, Chicago, where it was recognized and acknowledged one of the most genuine novelty hits in years.

The acting company includes Bertha Gibson, Ruby Rothnour, Jack Kenyon, Eddy Martyn, Helen E. Wilson, Marie Welton and a half dozen others, including the original and now famous Taxicab chorus.

Roses...

A shy young man had been calling on "the sweetest girl in the world," but, being bashful, his suit progressed slowly. Finally she decided to start something, so the next time he called she pointed to the Rose in his buttonhole and said: "I'll give you a kiss for that Rose."

A crimson flush spread over his countenance, but the exchange was made after some hesitation on his part. Then he grabbed his hat and started to leave the room.

"Why, where are you going?" she asked in surprise.

"To Aldous' for more Roses," he called back from the door.
