Miss Meeting Tonight Gives Robots Chance to Show Enthusiasm—

Line-up Announced

Tonight at 7:15 in the new science auditorium occurs the first mas-mer mid-meeting of the year. Dean Austin W. Best of the law school will preside. The event will be on the platform.

Coach Hawley, Coach Clay, Captain Gibson and Murphy, captains of the men, will give talks. The yell bands will play, the men of the college will form a band and a big bunch of enthusiasm will be let loose.

If Iowa is to have a winning team straight through this year, every man and woman in the university must join in keeping Iowa sports at a high pitch from the first game to the last. Everyone will have a chance to show that sports spirit.

THE WAY THAT THEY WILL

The question of the eleven men that Iowa sports meets on Minnesota Field is still the line-up cannot be definitely known before this hour for the game is the one game above that with Coach Hawley says is most likely to start although there will doubtless be many changes as the game progresses.

The varsity is in good shape for the

The clash with the proctors. There are so many on the squad in good condition and three weeks of hard drill has given the men a greater feel of the game as the Iowa team will play it this year.

The only surprise in the Iowa team as it has been announced is the placing of Robert Peeler on the right half. Although beneficial slightly at the first of the game, the presence of this player in the game has lost its novelty and a good bid for the guard position. His weight, as well as his knowledge of the game, makes him a valuable man in the line and it is likely for this reason that Hawley has attempted to give him a start on the right half. The other positions in the line will be fixed as soon as school has gotten

FRIDAY THE THIRTEENTH IS ON CALENDAR TODAY

Double Jordan Day Has错了 of Dice Heart

Friday the thirteenth!

Fish Day, Amateur night on Friday Hoodood coincides with the monthly thirteenth. Jinx is. Then in the time for honest poem by a hobo, and in walk not fear and trembling. Supposedly, today in the day for all evil things to flourish and for hard luck to abound in the land.

It was even said in Main, who, being an amateur poet on Friday the thirteenth and being a wild man, he resolved to take no chances about the matter; absolutely none whatsoever. So he drew with a certain extreme caution, and was run over from behind with an ice wagon. The man who starts his winter vatation in his private car does at his peril. It is freely predicted that it will be a poor evening for "Tuning" in the case of those who have not yet made engagements, and that there will be heavy frosts in areas very soon.

Yet there are rays of hope. Some people have something causing some confusion, which but holding the break, it may be possible to worry through with out any special assistance. But it is the fear of this is Friday the thirteenth, the very day of the winter break. There are also the hard days in the calendar, besides the one that pressed the matter of Christmas in another.

Some look bad and weak.

The Dramatic club Elects

The Dramatic club held an election last night as a result of which the following were elected to membership:

Those placed on the waiting list are:

Booth, Joel, Charles Booth, Ralph McConnell, Daniel Hult. The club is now in a fairly strong position as a result of this election. The interest of the club is to take the show on the road during the entertainment season.

Compliments issvenues

The Des Moines Register and Leader, in its leading editorial yesterday, reviews the recent political situation. In the editorial, the Register says:

Particular merit is accorded to the recent biography of Governor Harry Dickey, published by the University Press. It is well written and is well marked with the evidence of interest in the associated and its chief author.

Association Proves Itself to be of Great Importance to the University

The Young Men's Christian Association has thus for this year kept up a good record as an invaluable medium of assistance to students. One of the important reasons for this is the work which the association conducts each year in the department of "new student work" as it is termed. Many of the members appear for daily seeral days before school begins in order that they may get up the work of getting new students settled and started right in their college careers. They carry the city to each of the best places of amusement, etc., and take care of all new students who need help or information, and the number of these students must have to put in a busy week at the start. This year the Y. M. C. A. sent out 2,900 cards and distributed over 500,000 booklets and the band books of information, were furnished for over twelve thou-

Oct. 8 — Special to the Daily Iowan: The Morningside team, organizers, and coaches were twenty strong in all, leaves tomorrow morning for Iowa City to meet the university eleven in its first big game of the season Saturday. The Morningside team opened its season last Saturday by defeating Bellevue college 15 to 0 in a well-played game.

Although local roosters have not any great confidence in the ability of the Hawks to defeat the Hawkeyes, they expect them to put up a hard battle against the university eleven. This year's team at Morningide looks good to the students in spite of the fact that it has but few veterans. The practices have thus far been good and the men have worked with good spirit. If the entire team, which overwhelmed its first three minutes of the game last year can be overcome, Deekins can be sure of seeing a surprise on the Iowans.

Of the men who lined up against Iowa last year, only four returns for the coming contest. Those are Captain Wintertenger, the all-state tackle; Winkle, the other tackle who has been moved to center this season; Stuehy, the speedy right half; and Bo, who played half last year but has this season been used at full, where he alternates with Hubert.

The line thus formed is not particularly heavy, but is well balanced and fast. The probable line-up against Iowa at the start of the game is: center, Winkler; right guard, W. Killaspy; left guard, Ethir; right tackle, McIndoe; left tackle, Winter­ tenger (C): right end, Lewis; left end, Woodruff; quarter-back, Cal­ berson; right half, Stuehy; left half, Kless; full-back, Hubert or Bo.
