HAWKES BATTERED BY TWO HARD GAMES

Conférence Title New Lives Between Wisconsin and Minnesota—Anos Alonzo Strong

Brushed and battered from the example with Wisconsin, the Iowa football squad igualled in Iowa City at 10:10 Sunday morning. Nearly every man who played through the final battle with the Hawkeyes is marked with some minor injury, but worst of all, low will be the psychology of the Purdue contest, for as in the contest with the Badgers, is likely to be shown up by the same score.

The game was in fact more of the nicest of the hardest sessions ever attempted by an Iowa squad. It was a true test of the fighting spirit that Iowa has so often seen manifested in its last two beset in the western conference than with the possible exception of Eastern University, the Hawkeyes have been the only team in the West that has shown the fighting spirit in the final battle with the Hawkeyes is marked with some minor injury, but worst of all, low will be the psychology of the Purdue contest, for as in the contest with the Badgers, is likely to be shown up by the same score.

Five Acts are being put on at the Ipsos vaudeville theater this half of the week, at the fact that an extra act was set up by mistake and Manager Huang decided to keep it. The price of admission will remain the same as the week before, and the usual four-night program will be resumed.

This past week the vaudeville theater has been in the middle of the town and has been in splendid condition. The performance has been a success, and the audience has been thoroughly satisfied with the work of the performers.

The next performance will be on Tuesday, December 1st, at 8:00 p.m.

NO UNFORSCED CHARGE.

It is to be hoped that the story which appeared in a Chicago newspaper yesterday and which charges the Iowa union with intentionally violating a Wisconsin rule in the game

Saturday is not indicative of the satisfaction of the student body of that school. Probably it is the result of some willed or unwise editor's need of a few extra cents, and so on, is not worthy of consideration. Not pertinent to come from Madison, it does, it is likely to give the impression that it is generally accepted there.

It is a common practice of opinion among those who played in Saturday's contest at Madison and among those who watched the game as well that it was one of the closest football games ever played. At the time that Puller, the Wisconsin star, was hurt, there was no indication that anyone thought it other than an accident, purely unavoidable. It would mean that if any evidence of minor to hurt had been seen, it would have been noticed at the time of the injury and not after the game was over. The officials at least were unlikely to see for, as they seemed puzzled against Iowa.

We do not believe that the Wisconsin student body as a whole believed that Puller was hurt intentionally.

But the incident is unfortunate in that the story portrays in general the lack of DIESEL is probably merely the exposure of some misguided writer's ideas of the proper way to live the dollar.
