Buckley!s illness
Weakens Iowa Team

Still End Goes to Hospital with Typhoid Fever

Helen Squad Weakens by Loss of Buckley and Howe—Changes Varyed in Varsity Line-up

Iowa hopes received a decided boost yesterday when it was announced that Buckley, the star end, had developed a serious case of typhoid fever. Buckley is in the hospital not expected to return to the games. Howe, who went to the hospital several days ago with what was thought to be typhoid, has also developed typhoid.

The loss of these two men from the Iowa team is felt keenly by the fan. Both men are consistent performers. Their absence will mean some unaccustomed positions until their return. The news took the team by surprise, and the game was called off.

The big end, however, has been the most consistent performer on the team all season. Howe has been a consistent performer all season and without the first forward of the year will be a strong one. One of the interesting planned features of the game will be the attempt of the freshmen to receive the service of a professional ideal decorator to transform the band room and then Edgar Meloy will speak on the subject of "The Age." The game is to begin at 7:30 tonight.

STUDENTS
Now is the time to order your Thanksgiving dinner or Christmas tree and you'll make no mistake if you go to
M. C.A. This is Benson McManus, the Irish twick and story teller, who will come late in January. McManus is one of the most popular entertainers in the line of work in this country today, and is always greeted by packed houses whenever he makes a second appearance. He will probably come to Iowa City in January.

The adored addition will mean an end for the series, but those who have already purchased season tickets will be given a substantial refund.

Hand Men Get Salaries
At a recent meeting the finance committee of the university approved an additional sum of $100 for the use of the band. The money will be used to pay professional students and junior and seniors in the college of liberal arts and applied science, that is, those who are eligible to play and meet the requirements of the military department. Each student required to play will receive $25 for the year's work. This appropriation will tend to raise the standards of the band and the addedennowment will cause stronger competition for the places in the musical organization.

First Elections in Iowa
Many interesting facts concerning local government in early Iowa are being brought to light by Mr. Clarence E. Aitken, Research Assistant in the State Historical Society of Iowa, who is preparing a history of township government in Iowa. While he was driving into the forty counties in the court house at Davenport he found a notice of the first election held in northeastern Iowa. The election was held in 1834 at the house of P. A. Lorinser in what is now the city of Davenport and at three other places. At this time only a narrow strip of land along the eastern border of Iowa was surveyed and open for settlement, therefore it is uncertain what is now the state of Iowa being still in the possession of the iadians. In 1834 this narrow strip of land, which was known as the Black Hawk Purchase, was attached to the Territory of Michigan for purposes of government, and was divided into two counties, "Duke Region" and "De-Notas."

Orchestra Reorganized
The university orchestra was reorganized at a meeting held Monday night. The officers chosen are: President, A. E. Friend; vice president, Walter Cornett; scribe, L. E. Lewis; treasurer, Lloyd Bailey. The organization now includes twenty members.
