Iowa is Prepared for Hard Battle

EXPECTS TO FIND FANTARS IN OPPONENTS

The Iowa New Age, Oct. 10.

However, and Are Expected to Deliver the Goods

While most of the student body was enjoying Thanksgiving at home, the two debate teams which are to represent Iowa next Friday evening were pouring over volumes on the only similarity, learned speeches, and looking up points in rebuttal. The men on these teams satisfied their entire varying period in the interest of the coming debate.

According to a statement of those who have charged the basis, the ship probably will perform a characteristically shattering task. Stand after stand has been taught by each team, only to be given up in despair as unsatisfactory. Within the last few days however, the situation has changed radically, and now men and women of the teams have been appointed.

The contest this evening Friday evening of the supreme importance to the Iowa has already started the titles of a great debate university. The Purdue team is daily in receipt of letters from small eastern universities and secondary schools from every section of the country, all of which speak of the progress of the Hawkeyes on the platform. Only last week the head of the debate department of one of the largest universities in the United States—in an eastern university—visited Iowa City for the express purpose of investigating Iowa’s system of inter-collegiate debates. According to the report of the visitors, Iowa has an enviable forensic reputation throughout the entire east.

This man who represents the university this year has a most difficult situation confronting them. Both Illinois and Wisconsin are strong. Each year it has seemed as though lines of victories would be broken, but each year the Hawkeyes have come back with new insects and new fight. These in concert with the situation expect to do as good as this year. Four hundred of a dozen teams can not be said to rank as an athletic team, but those who have been over the situation, express their opinion that the Iowa men are as

KELLOGG FIXES DATES FOR BIG EIGHT GAMES

Minnesota and Wisconsin on Iowa Schedule

Games Also Arranged With Grinnell—Iowa States Opener Oct. 3

New January 3

Games with Minnesota and Wisconsin will complete the Big Eight basketball schedule at the road, this year, the number of the course was all that was claimed for it, and it is anticipated that some of the important teams will be present.

The Iowa games are all to be played as follows:

Wednesday, November 3—Wisconsin.

Saturday, December 5—Minnesota.

Wisconsin will open the season here on January 2 for the first time since 1915. The game will be played on the Iowa court on January 23, the Hawkeye will double out for a match with the Badgers at Madison on February 1. Two other contests besides this one are expected between Big Eight Iowa school, Wisconsin will be engaged for the teams. The team will meet Minnesota at Minneapolis on March 1, and this trip will be broken by games with Normal and either Luther, Carleton, or Thomas.

The only other game definitely arranged is one to be played on January 22. A nature date will be played with the Congregation—alas, but it is not definitely set.

Oma State schools will be met on this basketball floor too; and it is hoped that a reconstruction of institutions with Ames will ensure a continued growth.

Northwestern, which has been a regular opponent in Iowa basketball for some reason, refused to meet the Hawkeyes this season, as the Piu-.
