Dr. Francis C. Lefteau, who has been the Minister of the Lutheran Church in Chicago for many years, is to deliver the annual lecture at the University of Iowa on Thursday, January 21. The lecture will be on "The Lutheran Church in Europe." Dr. Lefteau is well known for his work in the field of religious education, and his lecture is sure to be of interest to all interested in the subject.

The lecture will be held in the University Union at 7:30 p.m. It is open to the public and will be free of charge.

Dr. Lefteau is a graduate of the University of Chicago and has been a professor of religion there for many years. He has also served as a missionary in Europe and has written extensively on religious education.

The lecture is sponsored by the Department of Religious Studies, and is part of the university's annual lecture series. The series features a variety of speakers on topics related to religion and religious education.

For more information, contact the Department of Religious Studies at 319-335-1234.

The students of the University of Minnesota want to establish a central test and found office on the university campus. The honor system has been introduced into the University of Ken-sas. The regents of the University of Nebrasca have forbidden political meetings on the campus for the discussion of public questions. Harvard University has instituted a course in athletics.

Instructors have been started for the new state historical library at the University of Wisconsin. The approximate cost will be $10,000.

The annual "pie line" at the University of Colorado was unusually long this year. Each year the |to-

Chorean class "ate less up" to pie.

At the expense of over a million dollars the entire campus of the University of Washington will be remodeled. An administration building, Money hall, to be erected.
