COHENS AFFORD BOUNTIFUL TO GIRLS OF UNIVERSITY

Final Basketball Game to Be Played Thursday Evening

There are several courses in physical training offered this semester that are worthy of the notice of university girls. They are: 1. Theory and practice of physical education. This is a course that will be enjoyable to girls who ever expect to have occasion to take charge of synthetic work. This will be given at 10 a.m. and will include lectures and practical aplication of the principles involved. In the second year, with the end of the basketball season, this class closes. The work continues on Wednesdays at 1:30 and on Saturdays at 11 a.m. Important consideration is being nant-ered in this work since class games which last semester carried the reputation in particular are oar for the championship. 2. Physical Appearance. This is a course designed for the direction of the welcome by President John G. Bowman, and general opening exercises of the class. Some important addresses have been scheduled for this afternoon, including the first-annual address of welcome by President J. G. Bowman of DePaul University, and Rev. James Bealove, Jr., of the Presbyterian board of education, orpheums are also on the program.

Dr. Wilber Mathews, director of the Chicago university drama school, is one of the best known to speak. President Precase J. M. Crowell of DePaua University, and Rev. James Bealove, Jr., of the Presbyterian board of education, orpheums are also on the program.

Promising this evening service will be a full afternoon of concert music, with an address by Dr. Williams, of the Wilber Mathews, director of the Chicago university drama school, is one of the best known to speak. Professor of Geology

Arthur C. Towbridge

Arthur C. Towbridge, professor of geology, was born at Glasgow, Missouri, March 4, 1885. He prepared for college in the preparatory and preparatory departments of Pritchett College in Glasgow. In 1910 he entered Pritchett College as a freshman. In 1914 he did not finish here but entered the University of Chicago as an undergraduate in 1915. In 1917 he received the Bachelor of Science degree. His thesis was made assist­ant in geology and geography in the Alma Mater for the year 1917-18. This was followed by the appointment as assistant in geology in the same university. For the years 1919-1921, he is expected that the department of Fine Arts will employ him to assist in the teaching of geology in the University of Chicago.

Arts Department Popular

With the beginning of the new semester, the department of fine arts above a decided increase in popular­ity. So many new students entered into the three-hour course yesterday afternoon that Mr. Miles found it difficult to make enough room for all in the present cramped studio. During the first semester there were about a dozen in the "three-hour" class, but now the number has been increased to twenty.

It is expected that the department will be moved next June into its new quarters in the new physics building, where the entire upper floor will be utilized, so that better accommodations may be provided. At present the department is conducted in a single room on the third floor of the liberal arts building.

Beginning next fall the department of fine arts will be a college by itself, and will include music and public speaking as well as the present drawing, painting, etc. Professor Adams, head of the department, will be at the head of the new college.
