LAYSAN PAINTINGS

NEAR COMPLETION

ARTIST COMBINE RETURNS TO HIS WORK

Birds Are Now to Be Painted on the Background to Add Reality to the Views in Real Life

During the past few years, progress has been made with the Lay- san island, evidently now being cultivated in the west end of the island itself. While it is understood that the completed work will involve the enlargement of some of your famous diagrams, a large part of the premises are now being devoted to the project.

The first installment of the picture that is to complete the back- ground of the exhibit, has returned to the islands and is now engaged in the second, the intention being to di- vide it into three parts. He is a good artistry indeed, and consequently makes surprising head- way. The background as finished shows promise of the same. Several lines are drawn, outlining up a heavy mass of waves dancing amidst the rugged complexities and carving thru light and shadow. The work of outlining the birds on the background is now to be begun. This, it is said, will be a difficult task because of the extreme inaccuracy of perspective in the endeavor to portray a view of the island from the seaport. The foreground is the foreground to those miles away and flying above the water.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

At the Colburn
"The Wolf." Eugene Walter's great play of life in Canada. Hudson Bay country, in the presentation at the Colburn this evening, with all its trappings, stage imitations, elaborate scenery and light effects, precisely the same as seen in New York and Chicago. Alice Tule, the celebrated writer on the New York American, said so in an issue of that paper of April 29. "Let me say right here without further parley, that in "The Wolf" Mr. Walter has most assuredly con-
