BAYARD AND GRANT FACTORS IN WRESTLING TOURNAMENT

McDonald and Starrett battle in Iowa-Winslow Class.

Finals in the strawweight and bantamweight divisions of the university wrestling tournament were pulled off last night. Ballard retained his title in the strawweight division after a hard-fought battle, but he has been fleeced twice in thirt-five minute and an extra twelve minutes. Both falls came from source holes.

Grant won the lightweight battle from Cross, taking the first in five and one-thousandth minute and the second in one and one-half hour. The first one was as the result of a bar arm and headlock, while the second was the result of a bar and half headlock.

The strawweight title was up for settlement also, but after eleven minutes of indirect struggle, Myers and Man held to postulate or encounter. This was the most interesting event of the evening. The boys were well matched, Myers having the stronger style, while Man was less aggressive, but had the better hit of his body.

Time after time Myers turned his steeple over, only to have Man shift the balance of the game in favor of the latter. He was able to get any dangerous움, but when he went behind, and the match will be settled later.

Resolutions Offered

Whereas, the brother of our honored fellow member, Mary Campbells, has been given to members of the staff, all of whom are wearing little old gold ribbon the size of any of the band stores, within the next six days.

A large number of jokes and pictures for the humorous department any such recommendation of teachers should be of this kind, but trolls is management, and is not yet settled with the goodness of this feature. Every student is urged to contribute as many jokes pictures or cartoons as he can possibly secure.

The demand for some such organization of the institution. It can develop and show that it is permanent, student-controlled. Make Early Engagements for the goal at which President Bowman can install the Iowa Union last summer; this is the goal which can be surely reached if the men of the university or a part of them at least, with the idea of a permanent, student-controlled organization. If this can be perfected, if it can develop and show that it really has possibilities and that there is a demand for such an organization here, there is a great future ahead of the institution. A magnificent building, modeled on the plan of the Unions at Michigan, at Harvard and at other universities, is one of all importance and improvement if the present organization can be made a success. This is the goal at which President Bowman aimed when he took the helm. This year toward installing the Iowa Union last summer; this is the goal which can be surely reached if the men will but show real interest.
