Big Man in Address Meeting

Joseph R. Robbins, a mixed traveler, soldier, and statesmen, has been secured by the Iowa Y. M. C. A. to address the regular mid-week meeting of the board of directors Tuesday evening. This is a rare opportunity to have a good speaker with lots of varied experience and a fine command of the English language. Many of the students have traveled very extensively, and he has had a great career as a soldier, especially in the Philippine Islands.

Yesterday and today Mr. Robbins has been giving lectures to various classes in the different colleges of the university, and the talks were greatly enjoyed by all who had the chance to hear him. Unfortunately he had to leave in a hurry. University officials will try to attend the meeting tonight in order to hear him again.

One of Mr. Robbins’ favorite speakers who wishes Mr. R. B.

Bell which will speak tonight will be, "Importance and College Men."

The meeting will be held at the regular hour, 1 p. m.

JOURNALISM IN COLLEGE

College journalism is rapidly de- veloping into a component part of the American colleges and universities. Departments devoted to the profession of journalism have been installed in a few of the schools. The work of the editor-in-chief in the art of newspaper making as well as to instruct them in the worthlessness and the dignity of the honest newspaper man. The students are forming organizations that are tending to become national, member- ship in which is earned by practical experience in newspaper work. Such training and organization should result in a more disciplined and skilled list of professional newspaper and magazine writers. No doubt improved will the idea that writing for the city desk or the weekly or monthly magazine is work done in the course of a profession will work with the dignity becoming professional men.

SMALL WIT

Turning from affairs of state, such as the city of the state, in the proper way to study a lesson in Green, or the like, in distin- guished dramas, we discover that our basketball team goes to Grinnell to mo- tivate us to do at the school, or at least, another chance at it. This deserves consideration.

Those who saw the first Iowa-Grinnell game know that the Hawkeyes have a good chance to win, even on the Grinnell floor where no college team from the entire world has
