DRESS REHEARSAL OF "THE OTHER FELLOW" LAST NIGHT

New Idea of Matinee in Afternoon Promises to Be a Success—A Holiday Attraction

All preparations are complete for the two performances of "The Other Fellow" at the Coldren this afternoon and evening. The curtain for the matinee rises at 2:30 and for the evening performance at 8:15. Special scenery for the play is now in place and those who were privileged to see the dress rehearsal last night say that one of the most artistic settings ever seen in an amateur production here has been prepared.

The advance sale of seats for both performances was large yesterday, indicating that the matinee feature is proving popular. Fried's orchestra has been secured to play for both performances. Art programs, suitable for souvenirs have been printed and will be used in place of the customary opera house folders.

The play itself is one of George Broadhurst's best face comedies. The complications which arise after Professor Goodly goes to a prize fight and brings Jones home with him are the source for considerable amusement for the audience. These complications are considerably heightened when the Bishop of Bal-larat, the professor's brother appears on the scene. The attempts of various members of the household to evade discovery lead to innumerable complicated and funny situations, and so confused does everyone become that it is hard to tell who "The Other Fellow" is.

After the dress rehearsal last night Mrs. Miles, coach of the play, announced that she was satisfied with the work of the cast and expected the play to have an amount of action rarely seen in an amateur production. Carroll Martin is expected to make a hit in the part of Jones, who travels for hymn books and playing cards. Margaret Seidlitz, Morris Browning, James Hodgson, and Anna Rock are said to be exceptionally good in character parts. All have gotten into the spirit of the play and may be expected to bring out all the fun there is in it. Even Reichardt's "Beans," who is to do a barking stunt in the first act has trained himself to do the thing just right.

The cast follows:

- Jones—Carroll B. Martin.
- Ebenezer Goodly—Conger Reynolds.
- Richard Heatherly—Morley McNeil.
- Holder, policeman—R. M. Browning.
- Bigbee—James Hodgson.
- Fuller—C. G. Gustafson.
- Mrs. Goodly—Katherine Paxson.
- Marjorie—Hanna Pebbles.
- Minerva—Alta Schenck.
- Betty—Bess Martin.
- Alvina Starlight—Margaret Seidlitz.
- Helma—Anna Rock.
- Tiger—Reichardt's "Beans."

HAWKEYES BREAK RECORDS IN MATCH WITH ARIZONA

Total 964, Arneson Getting Individual Mark of 196

The Hawkeye rifle team set a new mark for the experts of the country to try for in its shoot just finished, rolling up a total of 964 in its match with Arizona. This is the highest score shot in either division of the league this year, and better by three points the best previous record of the Hawkeyes themselves.

Arneson hung up a wonderful individual record, shooting 196 for the season's best total. The good work of a new man on the team, R. M. Browning, aided materially in the total. The work of the Iowa marksmen is shown by the fact that Leeper, ordinarily high man, is this week low, having turned in a score of 190. The totals follow:

Standing	Prone	Total
Arneson	97	99	196
Shepard	96	97	193
Iles	94	99	193
Browning	94	98	192
Leeper	94	96	190
			475
			489
			964

The match this week is with Arizona, which has not been considered dangerous, and has no chance of reaching the Iowa experts' record-breaking total.

About that Chicago Game

Stories announcing a game between Iowa and Chicago appeared in the local press yesterday. The report is premature, and according to university authorities has about killed any chances the locals had of getting a place on the Maroon schedule. When asked about the matter last night, Manager Kellogg said that outside of the fact that the game was not scheduled and that the date was wrong, the story was all right.

Big Mid-week Meeting

A rousing big mid-week meeting was held by the Y. M. C. A. at Close hall last evening, when Joseph L. Robbins spoke on "Imperialism and College Men." In his address, Mr. Robbins urged men to take up foreign mission work, and he told of the fields open for this work as he found them. One of the largest crowds of the year gathered at the hall for this address.

Convocation Today

The fifty-first convocation will be held at 10 o'clock today in the Natural Science auditorium. At this time many will receive their degrees, presentation being made by the representatives of the different departments. The address of the hour is to be given by President John G. Bowman, who will speak on "Progress Beyond the Commonplace." A large attendance is certain.

WRESTLING TOURNEY ENDED LAST NIGHT

CHAMPIONSHIPS WON IN THREE HEAVIER DIVISIONS

Cockshoot Wins Welter, Gilliland Middle, and O'Connor Light-Heavyweight Titles

The finals in the three heavier divisions of wrestlers in the university tournament were pulled off last evening. Cockshoot won from Hobbett in the welterweight division, Gilliland took the middleweight title from Larsen, and O'Connor retained his title in the light-heavyweight class by defeating Korf.

O'Connor had an easy time in his encounter with Korf, and was never in danger. Reichelt, who was to have gone on with O'Connor, was called out of town yesterday, and Korf, who was sick at the time of the preliminaries, took his place. O'Connor took the first fall in five minutes and the second and eight and one-half minutes.

Gilliland had some strenuous opposition when he met Larsen, but was superior throughout. He was in danger once in the second fall, but was on top most of the time. Larsen fought hard, and was not outclassed, but was up against a stronger and more experienced opponent. Gilliland took the first fall in twenty and one-half minutes and the second in twelve minutes.

The most interesting match of the evening was that between Cockshoot and Hobbett. These men are roommates, and each was thoroughly acquainted with the other's style. Hobbett appeared slightly the stronger, and got behind oftener when the men went to the mat, but Cockshoot's superior science and experience saved him, and he never stayed down long. He took the first fall after thirty-eight minutes with a flying mare followed by a headlock, and the second in twenty-five minutes with a half-Nelson and body hold.

Short Story Contest Continued

The stress of other university activities on the students who intend to compete for the annual prize offered by the Hawkeye for the best short story contributed has led Editor-in-chief Seydel to fix the date for the close of the contest on March 15 instead of March 1 as was announced. Should there be any who intend to compete but have not as yet announced their intentions to the judges, Professors Bush, Hunt, and Laner, they should do so at once. Thus far sixteen are entered. The Hawkeye places no restrictions on the stories contributed, except that they should deal with some phase of university life and should be limited to 2500 words. Stories should be typewritten, unsigned, enclosed in envelopes bearing the authors' names, and handed to Editor Seydel at the Hawkeye office on the second floor of the Old Capitol building.

HAWLEY EXPRESSES HIMSELF FAVORING FOOTBALL RULES

Many of the Innovations Were Advocated by Himself Last Year

In a letter to Captain H. D. Hanson of the 1912-13 football squad, Coach Hawley expressed himself, generally speaking, to be in favor of the changes in the football rules. It will be remembered by all that Hawley advocated last fall many of the important changes that were made by the rules committee recently. He said:

"The committee has greatly strengthened the offense while they have weakened the defense, making a greater scoring power possible and at the same time making the forward pass a scoring play. I do not think that because four downs are given to make the required ten yards, the game will change into a line plunging affair. There will be too many other possibilities for the team in possession of the ball to take advantage of, and that they will turn to the old style game only after every other means of gaining ground has failed. The abolition of the on-side kick has my heartiest approval and will eliminate the greater per cent of luck which was in last year's games. I think that next year's rules will favor a stronger team and make teamwork much more effective than it has been for the past two seasons. The greatest problem for the coaches next fall will be the developing of a defense that can meet the scoring possibilities offered by the changes."

Lent Is With Us

In spite of the mild festivities planned for Washington's birthday, the spirit of Lent is slowly and surely settling down upon a large number of Iowa's students.

According to many complainants, the smell of frying fish is strongly mingled with the Lenten spirit in the near vicinity of many a boarding house. Some complain bitterly that they can no longer entice their beloved co-eds into the mad, worldly swing of Punch Dunkle's orchestra. More are embracing the season of long needed rest from the stirring festivities of the past few weeks.

It is noticeable that even in this period of social peace, preparations are being made for that bright Easter morning. In the midst of Grecian concentration, an idea of the quaint little toque bonnet, etc. The darkest spot is just before the dawn.

Reports from Game

No paper will be published Friday morning, the staff intends to observe the holiday. A report of the Iowa-Grinnell game at Grinnell will be received immediately after the game, and phone calls will be answered at the office until 11 o'clock.

DOUGLASS IS COMING AND SO ARE OTHERS

PLANS FOR MARCH Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN UNDER WAY

Many Prominent Y. M. C. A. and College Men Will Be Here to Address Students

Plans are being pushed along in earnest for the big five day "campaign of friendship," which the Y. M. C. A. will hold March 5 to 10. The association has secured several important men to help in the campaign here, to lead meetings and to give addresses, etc., bringing them from far and near. The man who will be leader of the entire campaign is Lloyd C. Douglass, of Champaign, Ill.

One of the prominent men who are coming here is Frank W. West, who comes from the University of Wisconsin. He is now general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. He has been city secretary of the association at Grand Rapids, Mich., and in his work in that position became very popular. He is a graduate of Northwestern University, where he was prominent in various activities, especially athletics, and he is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Wm. M. Parsons, of Des Moines, is another of the big men coming here. He is state secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and has been college secretary of the northwest. He is a graduate of Grinnell. Mr. Parsons is a noted speaker, and has been prominent in the Men and Religion campaigns throughout the state, appearing here in this connection recently.

Guy V. Aldrich, of Des Moines, is state student secretary, which position was formerly held by J. W. Pontius, so well known in Christian work. Mr. Aldrich is a graduate of an eastern college. He has been secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at the University of Pennsylvania, and he has traveled among the colleges of the United States for a number of years as student volunteer secretary. He is a man of pleasing personality, and comes highly recommended.

J. J. McConnell, Jr., of Cedar Rapids, who is now general secretary at the University of Oklahoma, is an Iowa alumnus of '10. He is a member of S. A. E., and while here was very prominent in the various activities of the university, among them athletics. He is said to be one of the most popular men at the University of Oklahoma, being liked by all who know him.

Carl T. Kirkpatrick, who graduated from Iowa last year, is well and favorably known here. He was for a time president of the local association. At present he is director of the boys' department of the association at Cedar Rapids.

Iowa Quartette Gives Concert

DECADENCE

Three men have entered orations in the freshman oratorical contest.

In that statement is the story of the decadence of one of the university's worthiest institutions. It is profitless to attempt to conceal the fact that the literary societies are not what they used to be. It is not many years since twenty men appeared in every class contest in oratory. It is not more than a decade since the societies were the strongest forces in the school. A variety of other interests have intervened and taken away much of the enthusiasm for this work, and there have been a number of discouraging elements. The decrease in spirit and influence of these societies is the deplorable element in the growth of the university.

This is recognized by the authorities at the head of the university, and plans are on foot to do what is possible to put the societies on their former footing. Probably they can never regain their former place in student life; but there are many ways in which they may be strengthened, and any effort looking toward this end will meet with the prompt and earnest support of the student body.

PRESIDENT DINES AT UNION; BUILDING IDEA DISCUSSED
OTHER COLLEGES

Attempt Will Be Made to Strengthen Iowa Organization

President John G. Bowman took dinner at the Iowa Union recently and later held an informal meeting in the reading room, with a view to effect some sort of student organization for the Commons. After some discussion it was agreed to form an executive committee, composed of one man from each table, which should have power to put into effect any improvement thought feasible. G. K. Thompson was elected president. Suggestions were received for several social gatherings to be held at the Union in the near future.

President Bowman stated that if sufficient interest was taken in the Commons, Iowa would possess in a few years a Union building costing between $100,000 and $200,000. It was proposed to equip the basement as a restaurant and the second story with reading rooms, billiard tables and similar amusements, and to place halls for the literary societies upon the third. He pointed out the influence a Commons has in bringing men from the various colleges together and thus unifying the university.

With such an end in view, the student body should take advantage of the boarding facilities of the Union. An ardent campaign for new boarders will be undertaken soon.

Of the 400 men enrolled during the past year in the college of arts and sciences of Oberlin, only seventy were not earning any part of their expenses. Their earnings totaled $41,076 for the school year, and $28,000 for the summer, a total of $69,076.

Wisconsin will play the University of Arkansas in football at Camp Randall on October 12, of this year, unless unforeseen developments arise during the next few weeks. Negotiations are now being carried on with the Razorbacks by the Wisconsin authorities. The date of October 12 has been practically decided upon, being acceptable to both Wisconsin and Arkansas. The Badger-Razorback game will be the first contest between a northern and southern university since 1094, when the University of Texas played Chicago at Chicago, resulting in an overwhelming victory over the Longhorns.

A new honorary journalistic society, called the "Fourth Estate," has been organized at the University of Illinois. It is composed of men from the senior and junior classes, and its purpose is to bring the journalistic students of the university in closer touch with each other and to promote interest in journalism by bringing newspaper men to the university.

Play Grinnell Today

The Iowa basketball team leaves at 3:08 this afternoon for Grinnell to battle for the state title. If the Hawkeyes win today, they will be tied with Grinnell and Ames for first honors; if defeated, the two latter teams will be left in the running.

Iowa has not won from Grinnell on the latter's floor for several years. The Scarlet and Black plays a strong game at home, and no college team has defeated them for a long time on their own stamping grounds.

The Iowa team ought to have a good chance to turn the trick today. The men outplayed the Grinnellians in the recent game, and with the proper combination working should have at least an even chance. What line-up will start for Iowa is uncertain. After Maiden went out in the former game, Leo played high-class ball, and repeated in the Cornell contest Tuesday. Maiden proved too short to guard Slut, and it is possible that Schmidt will go back to guard today in his place, leaving Leo at center.

Philosophical Club Notice

The Philosophical club has been fortunate enough to secure Professor James R. Angell, head of the department of psychology in the University of Chicago, to deliver an address before the club on Tuesday afternoon, February 27, at 4:30 o'clock in room 213 L. A. Professor Angell has chosen for his subject, "The Evolution of the Mind," which he will discuss partially from the standpoint of the animal world and partially in its bearing on human evolution.

Professor Angell's reputation as one of the leading psychologists in the world will make it immensely worth while for everyone to hear him. The lecture will be open to the public and the club invites the thoughtful people to come and hear the gifted man.

Last Department Games

What will probably be the last games in the inter-department league will be played Friday, beginning at 2 o'clock. At this time the medic and liberal arts will clash, and an hour later the dents and engineers will play the decisive battle for the university title. If the dents win this game, they will have a clear title to the university championship, while an engineer victory will mean a three-cornered tie between the medics, engineers and dents, unless the medics should lose to the liberal arts. An admission fee of fifteen cents will be charged in order to buy a banner for the winning team.

Freshmen Play Waterloo Saturday

The freshman basketball team plays the fast Waterloo five in the local gym Saturday evening at 7:30. The Waterloo team is one of the strongest in the state this year, and will probably be one of the four which will contest for the state title here. So far it has won both at home and on opposing floors from Cedar Rapids, Dubuque, Marshalltown and several of the smaller teams of the northern part of the state, and has not been defeated. It has only Grundy Center to defeat to insure it a place in the state tourney.

The girls of Minnesota, Vassar and Smith have each formed anti-fat clubs.

Indoor Baseball League Organized

Immediately after the championship has been decided in the inter-department basketball league, there will be a series of indoor baseball games played between the same teams. These games will continue until the weather permits the teams to play out of doors. Two games will be played each Saturday afternoon and whichever team is ahead when the spring schedule starts, will be declared the winner and awarded the pennant. The purpose of this league is to keep all men working and in the habit of coming to the gymnasium. It also makes the organization of the outdoor league in the spring much easier. Last season the indoor baseball league created more excitement than any other winter sport and the same should be true this year.

RUMOR OF VACATION FRIDAY DENIED BY AUTHORITIES

Many Parties and Other Festivities in Brief Holiday

According to an authoritative statement from the president's office yesterday there will be no vacation Friday. A rumor had been circulated about the school to the effect that the powers had seen fit to include Friday as a day of rest and Lenten contemplation.

Many and varied are the amusements planned for the famous birthday. The Rock Island ticket office has lately been beseged by hordes of basketball fans, seeking train times to and from Grinnell, where many hope to celebrate the holiday, and wax boisterous over the Iowa five. "The Other Fellow" has attracted a large assortment of "first nighters" and will play to a crowded house this evening. A number of dances occurred last night and more are scheduled for today.

The professional fussers are in a large state of glee. For today no university rule shall hold. For one happy evening, at least, they will not be forced out into the chilly night air from the midst of a whole-souled tete-a-tete, by the relentless ten bells. For once, after theatr supper may be nibbled without fear of being called to the much touted "carpet."

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Philo-Octave Play

"Chercher la Femme" is the name of the Philo-Octave play which is to be given at the Children, on Monday, March 11. The play is one of R. M. Barrier's productions, being one of a number of successful pieces from his pen, among which are "The Little Minister" and "Peter Pan." However, "Chercher la Femme" is said to be one of his most successful plays.

Miss Carolyn Bradley, a well known coach among amateur players of the university, has entire charge of the coaching of the young actors. Work has been progressing daily for several weeks on the rehearsals, and with two more weeks of daily work some excellent results are expected.

Verne Foley, who is already well known in dramatic circles here, has the leading role.

Will O'Rieley has charge of the heavy end of the affair, and he announces that in the line of costumes and scenery, something good is being arranged.

"THE OTHER FELLOW"

Ames Wants Match

Ames has written Physical Director Schroeder for a wrestling match to be held here on the evening of the 29th of this month. From all probabilities this match will be arranged satisfactorily and a return match will be held at Ames next year. Wrestling is a new sport at Iowa but from the interest shown this winter, it is becoming as popular as the other branches of athletics.
