ANNUAL STAG FULL OF SPIRIT

ATHLTIC STUNTS PREPARED WAY FOR ROUSING EVENING AT ARMORY

Speeches By Members of Faculty and Others Lining up Features For Year

big crowd of several hundred ull of the old Iowa spirit hered at last night at the armory ttend the annual stagg reception n by he Y. M. C. A. The meet- was a big success in every way, for the attendance was a record-breaker, the program was varied and interesting, and all the men showed a surprising amount of "pepp" for so earyl in the year. Yell-master Gearhart was on the job with all his usual stunts, leading the big crowd in all the Iowa yells.

The affair opened with a novel stunt in the form of snappy gymnastic exhibition by Gearhart and Hermann on the horizontal bar. Following this were two hotly contested wrestling matches in which Gran proved himself the champion of the evening. In the first match he threw Cockshoot after eleven minutes of hot work, and then came up strong in the second bout, pinning "Chug" Corey's shoulders to the mat after a mill lasting nine minutes.

Secretary Howard Y. Williams presided, opening the speech-making with a few introductory remarks. Registrar F. C. Ensign, in his address of welcome, included the erlassmen as the freshmen in his arks, telling them how glad the niversity and Iowa City were to them here. The next speaker s one who is as yet not very well nown to Iowa men, but he was ven a rousing reception. Lieuenant Mars spoke of the value of tting into the different activities college life while in the univerty and of the associations formed ere.

In the absence of Captain Hanson, e football squad was represented Murray Baird, who issued an rnest call for candidates to try out r the team when the first practice held next Friday. The new itor of the Daily Iowan, Ralph G. assfield, told the men of the new n on which the university daily being run; J. H. Anderson, as sident of the forensic league, ineveryone to interest themselves literary and forensic activities; Louis Penningroth, president of M. C. A. Cabinet, spoke of the ue and scope of the association's rk and of the program mapped out the year.

RUSHING ENDS FOR SORORITIES

Girls May Now Rest in Peace For Another Year—Pledges are Announced

Sorority "rushing" is over, that is as far as it is governed by the Girls Pan-Hellenic rules, and the girls may now rest in peace for another year, and recuperate from one of the most strenuous seasons in the history of Iowa sororities. The rules as agreed to by the four sororities were to the effect that "rushing" was to be confined to certain hours,and under the direction of the Dean of Women, a series of party dates were arranged so as not to conflict. This gave every a girl a chance to meet and be with the members of each sorority and the system has proved very successful.

Monday was "pledge day" and at five o'clock the pledges to the sororities put on the ribbons of her chosen "sisters" and the season's "rushing" was at an end. The pledges to the sororities, as announced, on Tuesday are:

DUNN DUE TO ARRIVE IN THIS CITY TONIGHT

Hon. E. G. Dunn of Mason City Will Speak Here

Hon. E. G. Dunn, democratic candidate for governor of Iowa, will arrive here this evening on the 8:15 train from Columbus Junction, where he speaks today. He will be taken at once to the courthouse where he will deliver an address to the voters of Iowa City on the political issues of the day. A large delegation of democrats as well as those of other faith will greet the candidate, and many students will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear the honored guest.

CLASSES ARE SET FOR BIBLE STUDY

CAMPAIGN IS TO BE CARRIED ON DURING NEXT FEW DAYS—CLASSES SUNDAY

Large Number of Classes From Which To Choose—Fine Courses Offered

Last evening at five o'clock, the Bible study committee of the Y. M. C. A. met at Close hall to discuss plans of the campaign that is to be carried on during the course of the next few days. The idea will be to persuade every man in the university to join some Bible class. The campaign will be carried on systematically and it is believed that every man can be seen within a week. This is all the more imperative, as the classes begin Sunday in the different churches of the city, and with a good beginning, it is believed that a greater interest will be taken in the work.

There will be a large number of classes from which to choose, the courses offered embodying nearly every subject usually taught in Bible study classes. In addition to those that are offered, classes will be formed to meet the demands of those desiring them. The following courses are offered:

1. The Life of Christ. Mr. Milton Remley, Baptist church, Sunday, 9:30.

2. Biblical Geography and History, Prof. C. F. Kent. Rev. C. C. Rowlinson, Christian church, Sunday, 9:30.

3. The Will of God and a Man's Life Work, Prof. Henry Wright. Mr. Howard Y. Williams, Congregational church, Sunday, 9:45.

Enrollment in All Colleges Shows Result of Better High School Training

At eight o'clock Monday morning the liberal arts college of the state university of Iowa opened its fifty-seventh year. The enrollment points to the most successful year in history, while a large freshman class entering and a great number of former students are enrolled. Everyone is enthusiastic over Iowa's prospects and sure that this is just a beginning of Iowa's prosperity and popularity.

It has been a noticeable fact that the high school graduates throughout the state have not considered Iowa as ranking with the other state universities throughout the country. Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and oth-

LIEUT. MARS IS MUCH PLEASED

Men Show Great Interest in the Drill —To Follow Up-to-Date Plans

"From the way the men have been coming down to meet me and talk on their work," said Lieutenant Jas. A. Mars, commandant of the cadet corps, "I am led to believe that the men of Iowa university are really interested in their military work, and not, as they are at so many other schools, the kind that are doing it simply because they are supposed to. It is very encouraging to me and I am sure that, with the cooperation of the men, we are going to have a most successful and pleasant year.

"It is my opinion that military work can be made as interesting as athletics or school work by varying the routine and not having the cadets looking forward to nothing but drill, drill, drill. So far the men have been very enthuiastic and I am sure it is the right kind of enthusiasm and not the kind that will die out in the first few weeks.

It is my plan to have both the bugle and signal corps that my predecessor, Captain Mumma, instituted, but that will have to be later in the year, for I must get acquainted with the men and straightened out here before that is started.

"I am sure that we are entering upon a most successful year and one that we may look back upon with pride, for we are going to put Iowa up among the very first in every department, and are going to endeavor to keep our rifle team at the top."

Smith is Banqueted

While Professor and Mrs. A. G. Smith were on their way back to Iowa City from their summer home in northern Illinois, the Iowa alumni association of Minneapolis honored them by an informal dinner at the commercial club rooms in the Redisson hotel in Minneapolis last Wednesday evening. About twenty were present.

Miss Bour Plans Big Year for Association—Outlook is Good

Wednesday evening at seven o'clock, the first association meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held. This meeting will open the year's activities of the organization, and will be the first of the usual mid-week gatherings that will be held regularly during the year. Miss Louise Barr will lead the meeting.

ANNUAL CONVOCATION TOMORROW MORNING

PRESIDENT JOHN G. BOWMAN TO MAKE THE ADDRESS OF THE DAY

An Unusually Large Attendance is Anticipated— Special Music to Be a Feature

Tomorrow morning at 10:10, the fifty-fourth annual convocation will be held in the natural science auditorium. This will be the first opportunity the freshmen will have to hear President John G. Bowman, who is to give the address, and for this reason it is expected that an unusually large number will avail themselves of the privilege. It will also be the first time that they will assemble in a body with the faculty and the students of the universiy. The auditorium will probably be packed.

The custom in the past has usually been to have some outsider come to give the address, but this year a departure will be made, and President Bowman will give the convocation address. The president has not given out the subject of the speech, but it will probably be in the nature of an introduction of the new students to the university and its activities.

As a speaker, Presiden Bowman needs no commendation. The several addresses that he has given here in the past year show him to be a deep thinker, and one who knows how to deal with the difficulties of students. Many people from the city will be there to hear the address. The entire faculty will also be present.

A feature of the hour will be a solo by Professor Fullerton, the new head of the vocal department of the school of music.

Joint Reception at Armory

The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. will hold their annual reception to all new students at the university armory on next Friday evening, at 8 o'clock.

Many novel stunts for entertainment will be provided among which will be an outline for conversation. The first person you meet you will have to talk with on the new woman's dormitory or some other topic of universal university interest.

The chairmen of the social committees of the two associations will introduce the freshmen and the receiving line will include the following well known people:

President and Mrs. Bowman.

The presidents of the two associations.

The chairmen of the advisory boards and their wives.

The two general secretaries.

Speeches will be made by persons prominent in university life.

EDITORIAL

Of late years the college and universities throughout the country have been uniting and fighting the traditional custom of greeting freshmen with a rough and tumble fight and subsequent immersion in the icy water of a lake or river. A long time apo it was more than a vreeting, it was a tradition of the college. Did the class of '82 chase Hapkine, '83, up the street clad in a wooden suit of Pillsbury's xxx, the class of '92 improved upon their methods and, discarding the barrell, pursued Smith '93, through the business district, he being clad mostly in the evening. Smith, '93, immediately swore revenge and spent the whole of his freshman year planning the "greeting" to some unknown, still in the high school of his home town.

Accident and injury, oftentimes resulting in death, soon began to play a part in the barbarous treatment of the "fresh." Then the universities and colleges began to recognize the conditions and a reform wave was started. In most of the large universities the cane rush, or pushball contest, have taken the place of the "class scrap" and a freshman is at least safe on the streets.

Several years ago Iowa adopted the pushball contest and it has supplanted the "rush" of former years, but only in the liberal arts college. The engineers have abolished their "scrap" and now tender the incoming class a reception. Now comes the news that through the efforts of Dean Hosford, the annual "mill" between the freshmen and junior classes of the dentistry college has been abolished and will be supplanted by something of a more sane nature.

This is indeed a step in the right direction and we congratulate Dean Hosford heartily on his accomplishment., er schools farther east, have reduced Iowa's enrollment by appealing to the high school graduate while Iowa has practically, sat back and let them do it. The past few years, however, have wakened Iowa to the fact that Iowa men are attending every other university in the United States, taking work that they could just as well get at their own state university. Iowa has "found herself" and learned the lesson that a state university in a business and must be advertised.

The enrollment in all colleges has begun to show the effect of this work and there is no doubt but what it will be only a few years until Iowa will rank up with the other state universities of the middle west, in the place she rightfully belongs.

O. E. Van Doren to Lead Band

Lovers of real music were much pleased yesterday when it was learned that Mr. O. E. Van Doren, who led the band last year will again direct it for the coming year. The band has lost none of its members by graduation, many new men are trying out. However, there is still a good opening for men in the cornet and bass sections. Mr. Van Doren hopes to get started soon. It is anticipated that this year's band will be the best ever.

Some Valuable Geologic Research Work

During the past summer Prof. Kay and his assistants have done some valuable research work for the university studying the rocks, rivers, and soils of Iowa, South Dakota and Wisconsin, in order that they may improve farther the department of geology.

Prof. Kay is head of the Iowa state geological survey and has put in all of his time doing research work in Lucas county and directing and more thorough survey of that part of the state. He also spent a week as a guest of the American Geological Society of New York, who, with a company of noted European geologists, are touring the United States. Prof. Trowbridge (ably assisted by Messrs. Leighton and Patrick) has been conducting a field class in geology among the rivers and lakes of Wisconsin, studying river action, the glacial and non-glacial lake, and this history as told by what they reveal.

Mr. Thomas, under direction of the state survey, has been in Floyd county, working on a more exact geological report for that section.

Mr. Van Tyle has been under the Iowa survey, making a more extensive study of glades and concretions, and Mr. Stewart St. Claire has been connected with the U. S. geological survey in South Dakota.

Mr. Minlenburg has been studying the rocks of the Lake Okeboji district and Mr. Dick has been mapping the coal mines of southern Iowa together with stratigraphical relations to clay deposits above.

ful year is anticipated. During the summer she has been attending the national training school at New York City, arriving last week to take up her duties here. At Nebraska university, from which she was graduated last June, she was specially active in the Christian association work there. With the experience obtained at the university and with the training received at New York, she will enter the work here fullyp repared.

Yesterday the secretary's office was moved from the liberal arts building to Close hall. Here Miss Barr may be found during the day, and will be ready to assist the young women of the university at any time. The association rooms are always open, and the first year girls are urged to take advantage of the opportunities thus afforded.

Last year under the leadership of Miss Ina Scherrebeck, the association experienced a successful year. With the added inspiration of the new secretary, and enthusiasm of the new cabinet, even greater things are looked for this year.

The Zets will have a business meeting this afternoon at 4:30 at the hall.

MacBride Memorial

W. O. Finkbine of Des Moines brought news to the alumni bureau that Hon. James G. Barryhill of Des Moines has pledged $100 toward the MacBride memorial fund. This fund is being raised to get out a book of letters written by graduates of Iowa in appreciation of the work done by Professor MacBride in the large number of years which the latter has been connected with the university, over a quarter of a century. This work will be in the hands of the alumni bureau, which is conducted this year by Herbert M. Harwood, recently editor of the Daily Iowan.

Harwood Writes Article

Mr. Herbert M. Harwood, of the alumni bureau, has written an article entitled "Library Advertising that Pays," which will appear in the October number of the magazine "Judicious Advertising," which is pub'ished in Chicago.

In this article Mr. Harwood takes up the methods used by Professor H. G. Wier, the university librarian, in his advertising the university library and shows wherein they have been a success in getting certain books before the students and people of Iowa City.

Economics Department Suffers Loss

Students who have registered for those courses in the economics department which last year were offered by Professor Gillin have found themselves somewhat at sea. As many will recall, Professor Gillin left the university last year to go to the university of Wisconsin. In spite of all the efforts of the department of economics to secure a successor to his position, they were unable to make arrangements with a new man, and as a consequence several courses will not be given this semester. A new man to take the place of Professor Gillin is expected to arrive at the beginning of the second semester, however, and the work will be continued as in the past.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE TO START FRIDAY

FOOTBALL PRACTICE TO START FRIDAY

COACH HAWLEY HAS NOT YET ARRIVED IN TOWN

No Work Out Until He Comes—All Old Men Have Reported for Duty--Some Work in Gym

Nothing doing in the line of football practice, and no chance for anything before Friday. Whether the university authorities opened the 1912 season too early, or the Big Nine solons set the date for practice too late, depends on the point of view, but the fact remains that some four days of first-class practice must be wasted in idleness, while the rambunctious Aggies up at Pumpkinhurst are making hay while the sun shines and in rain. Dull days, these, for the local pigskin experts.

No more definite word has been received from Coach Hawley concerning the time of his arrival, but Captain Hanson is expecting him today or tomorrow. There is nothing much the coach can do except look over the ground and give a bit of advice as to the proper treatment of scholastic difficulties, and Captain Hanson has pretty well attended to those details.

Some of the men took impromptu workouts in the gym yesterday by way of getting into condition, but there was nothing which in any way resembled organized practice.

The day was featured by the arrival of Von Lackum, last year's end, who announced himself as ready for the fray. Gunderson, the big tackle of whom much is expected, also put in an appearance, completing the list of men who are expected to perform this fall. The veterans on hand now include Captain Hanson, Clemens, Trickey, Penningroth, Von Lackum, Meloy, Curry, McGinnis and Patterson. Recruits must be found for the two tackle positions, and the place at full left vacant by Captain Murphy. There is also a good chance of some of the old men losing the places held by them last year, as the incoming material is strong.

Professor Thompson of the English department, who spent the summer in Germany studying, returned last week from Munich, Germany.

Luther E. Widen, a former Iowa student, has returned to take up his work in the graduate college.

Alice Wilkinson has returned to take up her work as the girls' physical instructor. She spent the summer at New York City studying.

Max Houghton, a former Iowa student, has returned to take up his work in the university.

Katherine Sims of Dannison, ex-Liberal Arts, '12, resumes her work in the university this year.

Charles B. Kauffman of Wilton Junction, who has been attending Harvard Law school the past two years, spent last week in the city visiting old university friends. He leaves this week for Harvard to finish his course after which he will return to Iowa to practice his profession.

Floyd Thomas, one of Iowa's best athletes, who studied law at Harvard during the past year, returned this week to resume his law course here. He will probably coach the freshmen football team.

Professor A. G. Smith, head of the mathematics department, has returned to take up his school duties after spending the summer in Wisconsin.

Miss Maud Walz, an Iowa alumnus of 1912, who is teaching this year at West Liberty, was in town over Sunday. She was accompanied by Miss Murphy, who is also teaching at West Liberty.

Miss Grace Wormer of the university library force spent the week-end at Cedar Rapids.

Mr. Clarence Parker, former principal of schools at Anita, has entered the law college and will resume his work with the senior class.

Professor Percy Bordwell, who spent the summer in Calfornia, has returned and taken up his duties.

The attendance at the law college threatens to equal or surpass that of last year. The freshman class will be larger and the new students in the senior class will keep its membership about the same as last year. The junior class has lost a few of its members, but the grand total will probably surpass the 1911-12 n

MADE-FOR-YOU SUITS

If we had a million customers, we couldn't make your clothes for anyone of them---except yourself. Nature does not repeat. So your tailor, to fit YOU, must measure YOU.

We have at the present time in stock, innumerable patterns and weaves that will make up into the finest kind of Suits for YOU---and we make them up right. Satisfaction and PERFECT FIT guaranteed in every detail. Prices are little if any higher than the average made-for-anybody suit. Mere words cannot express the unlimited satisfaction you will derive from our Made-For-You Suits iu comparison with these others.

You will be doing yourself an injustice by not seeing us before selecting your Fall Suit.

We have a department exclasively for Ladies Fine Tailoring.
