LAWRENCE ASKS FOR RECONSIDERATION

Peter Lawson of Cedar Falls, member of the state board of education, has a bill aforesaid that the members of the board recommendation the action to give to the bill. 'They would necessarily do that,' he said, it is a mistake in the bill to do so. The State Board of Education has been notified by the attorneys to that effect. The action will be taken to show the bill to do away with the natural science auditorium. Every play will be reported by telephone, which makes a good deal of the natural science auditorium. Also, the method used in designing the position of the ball is a fascinating feature which is made for the various branches of the | Telephone branch. The athletic association will charge ten cents admission in all places. This is a normal fee for the ball. It does not begin the service offered.

PIPE ORGAN FOR N. S. AUDITORIUM

Board of Education will be asked to consider the appointment of a Pipe Organist for N. S. Auditorium.

On November 4th, the state Board of Education will hold a meeting to discuss the appointments of the budget which were acted on at the session of Anson last Thursday. It was found impossible to transact the business as it was expected that the Board would, regard to the budget at the time of its disposal at Anson, and for this reason it will be taken up at the next meeting and acted upon.

President John Bowman did not present an approximate estimate of the university's financial needs, but asked for several important appropriations. A $40,000 support fund increase will be asked. As several measures in the university will be to facilities in carry on instruction of the student body to discover its strength in keeping with the demands of the institution. The budget also calls for a pipe organ that is to be in the national guard. The budget, as well as the report of the general manager, has been adopted for some time, and the organ will be a valuable addition to the university's services.

Some difficulty has been experienced in arranging the budgets on account of the recent move of the instructional board. The budget has not been adopted until the action is definite. For instance, the large amount asked for improvements in the home economics departments will be cancelled if the girls are taken to Iowa City. These appropriations will probably be left over till the action has been passed upon for certain.

Big Tooth Soup Here

An exceedingly large manatee tooth has been found in one of the Signal Corps offices. The tooth of the same name has been found in the national guard. The tooth is approximately the size of a walnut.

THE FIGHT IS PROGRESSING

We are gratified to note the stand taken by Mr. Lovett concerning the action of the state board. We feel that the state board of education has erred at a vital part of the state university of Iowa. After due consideration of the action taken by the state board we feel it underlines the principles laid down by the framers of our constitution and they provided for a state university. We believe that it is unjust to remove the college of applied science to Ames. The most careful consideration here has suggestedly increased in rank through the past few years until it holds a foremost place. It is a new profession, its graduates are holding positions of rank and honor all over the country. Liberal education is necessary to the development of efficient men in this profession and that education must be needed at the university.

When the people of the state of Iowa have been apprised of all the facts we feel that they will support us in our endeavor to retain the college of applied science at Iowa City.

URBANIA ARE LENDING SUPPORT AGAINST ACTION

In evidence of the fact that the protest against the action of the State Board of Education is not limited to the immediate confines of the university, the Associated Students of Applied Science will publish at every opportunity suggestions as are most indicative of the feeling of alumni and friends of the university.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 17, 1912

A. E. H. A. E.

Iowa City, Iowa.

If there is a move on foot to discontinue the engineering college at the university, I wish to submit a protest immediately and to offer my influence to the utmost to prevent any such unwi s e move. To detach the state school of engineering from the state university would be to make it a trade school, and all men concerned in the profession know that successful school cannot be deprived of educational advantages offered in the other departments of a university. Engineering education in Iowa has always been handicapped by the decision of appropriation between two schools and in consequence Iowa has not stood well in relation to other states in this respect. The present move would further tend to lower the character of engineering education in Iowa. All effort should be made by the alumni and students of the U. I. and by the profession in general, to maintain an engineering school at the university.

Here is hoping that you may succeed in securing such a protest as cannot be disregarded.

Very respectfully,

Iowa's victory over Nebraska has strengthened the belief here that the Gophers will not be in reality much weaker than in the past by the time the Hawkeyes get to Northrup Field. There is a general belief that Coach Williams has hisafternoon to build up a great team, and that he needs only time to develop it. The Hawkeyes are sure to be highly outweighed, worse even that was the case at Chicago, when too much beef were the light bowmen down in the last quarter. Hawley will in all probably de- pend upon speed and dash to win for the Hawkeyes. Practice will be secret all week; the games are being carefully guarded.

AXELSON PRAISES HAWKYE ELEVEN

IOWA'S DEFEAT ATTRIBUTED TO PHYSICAL WEAKNESS OF TEAM

G. W. Axelson, President of Chicago Sports Writers' Pay-Off, Tributes To Old Gold Team In Fight With Chicago

G. W. Axelson, perhaps the finest of the Chicago sports writers is in treatment of visiting teams, attributes the defeat of Iowa in the last game of the eleven to physical weaknesses. The lighter Haw- keyes, after a desperate struggle in which they were fairly outplayed by their Northwestern opponents have three-quarters of the game, were unable to check the onslaught of the heavy Chicago team. Every paper in Chi- cago, however, pays tribute to the Hawkeyes for their gallant and desperate fighting spirit of the Old Gold team.

It is something to be beheld, when after a defeat, a team that was outplayed, is able to come back and play a game that is more than passing notice. Iowa put up a game that is not to be forgotten.

Fighting spirit such as the Iowa team showed Saturday is worthy of more than passing notice. Iowa students should remember that struggle through the games to come, and be proud that they are represented by such an eleven. They may also be comforted by the assurance that the team will fight, just as hard, and probably more effectively against Minnesota, Indiana, Ames and Wisconsin than they ever have. It is a game team with a great coach, and it deserves everything that the students can do for it.

Student Becomes Pastor

Another Iowa student has re- ceived a pastorate in one of the towns adjoining Iowa City. Friday, Mr. Rubenstein preached at a non- denominational church at Less Tree, and the same evening received a call to the church at Debuque where he will serve every other Sunday beginning Nov. 1. Mr. Rubenstein is a native of Lodz, Poland, and came to this country four years ago. He took a four years' course at the German Presbyterian college in Debkose, and entered the college of liberal arts this fall. Last summer he had charge of two churches in Lancaster, Wis- comin, one a German and the other an English Presbyterian.

Mr. Starringer, who is a senior in the law school there, has also been honored by being given one of the senior scholarships of the law school. Mr. Starringer will be a real honor学者 while in the university.

At Brown's American
On next Wednesday and Thursday at Brown's American, Miss Letta Carey and her all star company will appear in one of the greatest spectacular photoplays, "Queen Elizabeth". This is a play with the time and money spent to see it. Many of the greatest actors and companies are casting their work to become immortal or the medium of the motion pictures. The "Queen Elizabeth" which is to be played next Wednesday and Thursday is one of the best pictures shown today and is a beautiful example of the wonderful art.

Miss Letta Carey gets Position
Miss Letta Carey, who was graduated from the university last June, has been given the department of modern languages in Bishop College at Marshall, Texas. Miss Carey's home is in Des Moines. While there, she was exceedingly popular among the colored members of the school, distinguishing herself in club and literary work. Her many friends are congratulating her on her suc-
