POORLY MONGER. ORDER IT?

SUPPORT THE BAND

The band is going to Minnesota. The question is, are we going to meet the deficit? A subscription for this purpose will, we doubt, mean a sacrifice to many of you. There have never been any stringy with their music, nor have they ever failed to be present at a mass meeting or other similar when asked to do so. The least we can do in appreciation for all these favors is to go down into our purses and help them out now.

This help to Minnesota will not be a pleasant sight to any sense of the word, for we will be raised upon them, thus making the deficit made by the absence of many of our loyal friends. We cannot expect the merchants of Iowa City to come to our support, for they are winter workers many times during the winter to add to a substantial way the various activities of the university. They have already contributed very materially to the fund.

Let us consider the University of Minnesota, who, a week ago, sent us word that half the band to Minnesota has been down the road to duplicate their action, except in sending a full representation.

VARSITY LEAVES FOR LAND OF GOPHERS
MAKE POOR SHOWING AGAINST FRESHMEN IN THE FINAL SCrimmage

Twenty-Two Men Taken on Trip—Left Last Night for Minneapolis Going Over Rock Island—Look for Hard Game Tomorrow.

If there's anything in the idea that early clean-up practice means a driving game, Iowa ought to best Minnesota by a large majority tomorrow. Not since the first week of the season has the varsity shown worth poor form as it did last evening in the final scrimmage with the freshmen. The practices worked forward passes and trick plays, using Minnesota shifts and formations, for three touchdowns, and returned punts and got away for two more. Meanwhile, the regulars struggled to little avail getting but one touchdown, when McInnis fumbled and Kirk, who started it, got the fair to the end zone.

Poor passing by Houghton accounted for much of the varsity's troubles, while the whole line was neglected. Coach Tomlin's buckies tore through regularly and stopped plays before they got started.

Parsons was not in the line up being left out to favor an injured arm, Trickey was not sent into the scrimmage, and Kirk, who started at left tackle, got another new one on his bad knee which sent him to the sidelines. Gunderson was at left end, where Hough has been stopped, and now seems likely to start the game at that position.

The Iowa line up at the kick of tomorrow will probably be: Partono, right end; Kirk or Eddy, right tackle; Chunn, right guard; Houghton, center; Captain Hansen, left guard; Trickey, left tackle; Gunderson or Yordy, left end; Melby, quarter; Parsons, right half; Dink, left half; McGinnis, full back. The team, with Coach Tomlin and Bill, Manager Kellogg, 1315

F. Thome and Les Bell have for the Clinton School where they will act a "Thriller" for the Clinton-Cedar Falls football game.

Dean Raymond Speed—Have Some Talent Talk on Engineering Problems of a City

Yesterday afternoon Dean Ruad-

Speed gave a lecture on "Engineering Problems of the Municipal Chief Engineer in a Large City." The first problem discussed was the problem of building the city subways. The final point discussed was the problem of a clean city water supply.

FROM OTHER COLLEGES

Three freshmen women were selected for the freshman, dramatic society for women at the University of Illinois.

The university chorus of the University of Chicago recently held a concert meeting.

Coup Jackson of Wisconsin held a practice with the graduates of the full moon.

Following the action of the university this regulation the women's chorus was dissolved with the warning of several offers of partial offers at the University of California.

Think it Over

Last Saturday when the game was over, a large crowd, which was caught up in the spirit of the week, was made up of several women, who may have been too important elsewhere, but who insisted that they should have a chance to go against Iowa. Several men were stopped by the yells of the men around them, but others sneaked away anyway.

If we hope those lads that haven't enough loyalty to stay when the band is up and left, they may have to go anywhere. These lads have many important business elsewhere, but they insist that they should have a chance to go against Iowa. Several men were stopped by the yells of the men around them, but others sneaked away anyway.
