The meeting was full of the red - street but the board may ever meet to discuss the question and said that with the matter. with numbers of men and women and their friends will come to Iowa City next Friday.

and as pitcher on the baseball team, and later with the Brooklyn team of the National League, also known as the Robins, won many games for his team, and at the practice and lost a hand with the coaching. Kent is again in college, and as a member of the University baseball team, is expected to help the team during the rest of the year. Mark Hyland is also expected to be in condition by September 4, in season, and this undoubtedly will give the Iowa team a lead in the first few games. The first few games will be very important.

The Iowa team will be fighting hard and eager for the 1909 season. The team is in great form, and all of the students and professors are extremely interested.

A few new players were acquired on the football team to replace the old ones who were graduated and left for business schools. The new players were by no means ordinary, and the team is expected to do well this year.
