of secondary importances. He freely criticized the board and the financial committees for their action. He argued extended over hours.

After the debate literature concerns, the situation was passed among the crowd. Pamphlets were upholding and criticizing the actions were distributed. Before the meeting was over every point of the situation from the standpoint of both sides had been thoroughly gone over and all facts concerning both Iowa and Ames were discussed.

Mr. Randall was very prominent in debate while in the university and has much influence in the practice of law at Cedar Rapids, since graduation. He was amply fitted to uphold the university.

Some Orations Can Not Be Used in
N. G. L. and Hamilton Contests

The N. G. L. orations are due Saturday, Feb. 1, at nine o'clock, and should be filed with Professor Merry in S. A. 214, at that hour, when judges will be selected for the preliminaries.

The N. G. L. contest this year comes on February 28, instead of 19, as has been announced before. The date has been changed on account of a conflict with the date of the Sigma Xi lectures.

The usual requirement is for orations not for making a place in the preliminaries, but no credit shall be given to the order of an oration unless does not receive a passing grade in the department of English. Orations once used in any contest or preliminary must also be excluded from the N. G. L. or the Hamilton preliminaries.

The Forensic League has made an important change in the matter of second place in the preliminaries. Hereafter, the winner of second place shall be a trip to the final contest, which will be paid for by the league. The year the custom will be done away with, and the money will be used to pay the expenses of our representative in the Hamilton Oratorical contest which is to be held in Chicago, April 4. The winner of the N. G. L. preliminary will receive the usual credit, and his expenses to the final contest will be paid by the league. The final N. G. L. contest is to be held at Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, May 3.

Those who are interested in the matters pertaining to oratory or debate may obtain further information from the Forensic League, which is on distribution at the libraries and at Prof. Merry's office.

STEFANSSON AND ANDERSON

The men are the real stars today that have more for the course of science in the far north than any other lives ever, in actual discoveries and exploration. What is more, they are Iowa men, both belong to our school. They are leaving dates in both Europe and America to come back and talk to the men and women of our alma mater. They have more dates for lectures in Europe than they can say anything that is notable, however they are, Iowa has not come alone here because they have that love for the old university which many students sent. They too are saving their own received them here. held in Chicago, April 21, at that hour, when judges will be selected for the preliminaries. The N. G. HARTMANN PLAYS MAYS WITH VIOLEN LAST NIGHT

His Third Tour of America Brought With Great Success

Hartmann, the noted violinist, proved last night, at the recital in the natural science auditorium, that he was as good and better than the advance reports indicated. The audience was not so large as was expected, perhaps on account of the weather.

The announcements of violin playing in Iowa City had their taste and judgment perfectly satisfied, not less dissenting word having been heard concerning his ability as an artist on this favorite instrument. He produced a tone of peculiar beauty and expressiveness due to his accompaniment in the violin of the instrument. The virtuosity of his technique is something remarkable, and always tends to elicit wonder and commendation from all who hear him. The great nobility of his tone had its magic charm on the audience last night, and everyone went away pleased.

This is the third American tour that Hartmann is making, each time with increasing success. The present tour will close in October.

William Redick, the pianist who accompanied the great artist, is an excellent pianist, as was shown last year by Hartmann may be attributed to the playing of Redick.

PERSONAL

Willis J. Griffin, '18, has returned from Nebraska, where he spent the Christmas holidays attending the national convention of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Alice Willard, L. A. '16, has gone to her home in Marshalltown for a few days owing to illness. She will doubtless be able to resume her work by the first of the week.

The Inquisitive dancing club is to entertain at a party Saturday evening at Majestic hall.

Floyd Word has been received from Cedar Rapids that a number of people from that city will come to attend the reading by Katherine Jewell Everts.

On January 19, 1913, the Bannock Club will attend the lecture given by Drs. Stefansson and Anderson at the natural science auditorium. The scientific importance of this address is sufficiently in keeping with the purpose and scope of the club that the change in place of meeting for the evening is warranted.

Y. M. C. A. Notice

It is asked that all those who are working in the Mccollum fund give to the Y. M. C. A. budget who have not yet paid up their subscriptions will do so at once.

There are about a million square miles of unsettled country lying northeast of Alaska which has never been entered by man. The proposed expedition will be made upon a vastly larger scale than the last one. Already $75,000 has been secured for the undertaking. Dr. Stefansson, with a staff of at least six scientists, will sail from Boston in May and expect to be gone for at least three years. Between now and next May, Dr. Stefansson will be a very busy man. Leaving Iowa City next Monday he will go to Sioux Falls, North Dakota where he will be a guest of the state university for a day or so. He will then return to New York and make preparations for his expedition in the spring. About March first he will leave for England where he will appear before the Royal Geographical Society in London following which he will near Europe ending in Rome the last of March.
