MISS EVERTS IS CHARMINGREADER

English Instructor Writes Fine Appreciation of Noted Woman Who Appears Here

A deserved tribute to the merit of Miss Katherine Jewett Everts, who has just returned here from a tour in Europe, has been written by one of her many admirers. The appreciation follows:

The many people of Iowa City who had the pleasure, a few years ago, of hearing Miss Katherine Jewett Everts read, are glad that she is once again coming to the university. Her worth has made her absence seem a long one, and the fact that she has been secured for another appearance here is good cause for rejoicing.

Miss Jewett differs from most of her sex in general, she has equably faced her responsibilities as an interpreter of great literature and she has cleverly and thoughtfully out a way in a procedure toward the realization of her art as she believes it. Among her in her relation to her audence, the obligation of truth-sharing, she grasps both the intellectual and the grasps both the intellectual and the emotional side of her subject, with keen understanding as the background of her feeling, she Miss Jewett herself, through a fire and a sense of the lyric or the character of the drama which she reads.

Miss Everts' emotion is never lost, she feels. A voice of remarkably musical sweetness and a personality of magnetic attraction are her magic instruments for communicating her thoughts and feeling. Her voice is beautiful; her manner, charming and infections. Consequently, this Miss Newman, has collected at first hand the most interesting facts concerning his lecture, and the praise of the public speaking department, which is devoting itself to the coaching of the play, said today that she was much pleased with the program that had been made. The director thinks that this special treat will be given the public on the night of January 22.

One of the main features of the performance will be the radio debuts of the play, in which 12 girls and that an evening with her will be announced, and yet will be before the end of the work.

Commencement, 1866-1871

The commencement of 1866-1871 was started July 14, 1870, when a sum of $500 was set aside for that purpose. The chair is being spared to show The Cowboy's Lament, Hard Times, and Cotton Fields. This was a great surprise. The çek had a large audience, and the fact that the program that had been made. A PECULIAR SITUATION

At the meeting of alumni of the university in Cedar Rapids last week the arguments of the state board on the engineering situation were presented by J. W. Boyd, of the financial committee. Mr. Boyd made several interesting statements, among other things that the colleges of law and medicine as well as the department of engineering at the college of liberal arts had been starved to support engineers at Iowa.

Perhaps Mr. Boyd did not pick these colleges merely because they came to his mind first yet anyone who had studied the situation would be led to believe that he had probed some such aspect.

The day after Mr. Boyd spoke at Cedar Rapids the university gave out the announcement that the medical college here was named by the education committee of the American Medical association as in class “A.” This is the highest rating that it is possible to give to a medical college.

It would naturally follow that the medical college at least “had no idea showing” from its starvation.

As to the law college we were always led to believe that the university had one of the finest law colleges in the middle west. In fact, the university has gone to great length to prove the fact to prospective students. Also a large per cent of the prominent men in both state and national politics in Iowa have degrees from this “starved” institution.

As to the English department, it is a branch of the college of liberal arts and could scarcely be starved without affecting that college in some way. Still the effectiveness of the liberal arts college can scarcely be questioned, even by Mr. Boyd.

HEAR KATHERINE EVENTS

Once and only once this year will there be noted talent before the students of the state university of Iowa and the public of Iowa City Katherine Jewel Events will read at the natural history auditorium this evening. It is the duty of every loyal supporter of the university to be present, and for charity purposes not to do so in any sentimental, but for his or her own good. Not many of the students realize that this is the one opportunity of the year to receive inspirations from a wonderful mind. The women’s literary societies have requested together and are bringing this interesting reader here; if they are supported as they should be, there will be other great men and women here in succeeding years.

FOR ALL STUDENTS

The Junior Prom is a Junior Prom only in name. In fact, it is a party held by the juniors of the liberal arts department. Unlike the junior parties of other universities it is not a real university function in which all juniors from all departments take a part.

Now, it would be an advance toward a better university autonomy if the Junior Prom and other class parties were general university functions. Then each department would have a real interest in the big parties. As it is, all the men are in charge of the prom, the hop and the cotillion are liberal arts men.

HINDUSTAN ASSOCIATION
ELECT YEAR OFFICERS
At the last meeting of the Hindustan Association the following officers were elected: President, B. Chatterjea; vice-president, N. M. Hare; secretary, R. Ahmed; treasurer, B. Mukherjee; editor, Mrs. V. Chatterjea. Four persons were elected in honorary membership, viz: Prof. G. W. Stewart, Prof. A. G. Smith, Miss Louise Herr and Miss Alexandra C. Waer. The society will give a program some time in the first part of February. A paper on the subject of interest to Hindus will be read and be opened to discussion by the members.

Although the Iowa club is comparatively new, yet it promises to be one of the strongest chapters in the United States, both in point of number and gaining of honors. It has already been noted that Brindabala Bose, one of the members, was elected to the presidency of the national association during the holiday season.

Lecture Tonight at Close Hall
Tonight at Close hall the first of three lectures will be given. The subjects for these lectures are "The Debt We Remember," "The Debt We Forget," and "The Debt We Pay." The first of the series is to be given tonight by Mrs. Bassford. The other two will be given by Mr. Arner and Mrs. Willson.

All the girls who have the books for systematic giving toward the support of Miss Kueh in China, are asked to bring them in tonight with the amount they have pledged for these first twelve weeks, as part of the amount pledged is to be sent to her before the first of February.

The meeting will be over promptly at 7:45.

Graduate Student Will Speak on Russian Topics
Will Be Heard at Midweek Meeting of Y. M. C. A. to Be Held at Close Hall Tonight

"The Bearing of the Russian Revolution Upon the Minds of the Russian Student," will be the subject of an address which will be given by E. Rodman at the noon meeting of the Y. M. C. A. this evening.

This is a topic of special interest at this time because of the new Duma which is meeting at this time. The proceedings of it and of several of the other institutions of Russia will be treated in the address tonight. Mr. Rodman is especially well qualified to speak upon his subject, as he is a native of Russia and belongs to that race which has won the sympathy of the world because of its terrific treatment by the Russians. He has travelled extensively and has gone around the world once. At present he is taking graduate work in the university here and preaching at a large country church near Lone Tree.

The meeting which will be held at Close hall will start promptly at 7 o'clock. Special music has been provided and every man in the university is invited to attend.
