THE DAILY IOWAN

Juvenile Prom Is Speaking Friday Very interesting Talk on the New Political Development of China Friday afternoons at 4:30 a very interesting talk will be given by Paul Corbin at Cosi hall, who is just back from the Shang mission to north China. He will speak on the band in rapidly becoming profited and his address will treat of the in- the Chinese students of the country on the formation of the new republic. This will no doubt be a very interesting talk as Mr. Corbin was very instrumental in the re- movement. His experiences in north China and as he is reported as an exceptionally fine speaker it will be an interesting lecture. For two years the band has been at an associa- tion secretary in this country. Every member of the faculty and every stu- they desire to come out and hear this talk. At 7:30 Friday evening Mr. Corbin will speak at the Congregational church on the significance of the Chinese revolution. All the people of the city are invited to this ad- dress.

BAND IS PREPARING FOR ANNUAL CONCERT

University Organization Will Give Memorial Treat Some Time Next Month

Under the able direction of Mr. E. W. Van Deren, the university instrumental band is preparing for another one of its programs. In preparation for the concert the band is being arranged to show the best local organization can do when it gets forth the effort.

The place that their program is being arranged for the concert is varied and will consist of both popular songs and selections from the greatest operas. The band has been made wonders the past two months and those who have heard it say that it will be better this year than it was last year, and they are justified in their faith. The concert will be held at the general auditorium and at the regular weekly concerts.

Miss Ethel Spokes Speaks Today Miss Katherine Corbin will speak to the women of the freshmen class today at 2:30 in the science and art auditorium. The public is invited to this talk and there will be reserved for the class.

CONCERT CANCELLED

Owing to the unavoidable ab- sence of two basins, the men's ' varsity team will not be able to pose their home concert instead. They have been scheduled to play the club felt that they could not hold the game without their full membership. Hence the notes our bands. The high school relay meet was held on last night. They were given the baseball. They feel that it would not be fair to con- tests for their friends and the general public to proceed with the concert.

LOMAX SPEAKS ON NEGRO BALLADS

Professor Lomax Delivers Address on Cowboy Songs and Negro Ballads to Large Audience

A real treat for song lovers of the city and university was given by Professor John A. Lomax of the University of Texas yesterday. At 8:15 in the afternoon, he delivered a lecture entitled "Negro Ballads and Ballad Singer Boys", and last night he spoke on the subject of "Negro Ballads of the Plantation." Both lectures were well and attended and heard with great in- terest.

Prof. Lomax is the foremost song and ballad collector in the United States. Coming from the west, he early became acquainted with various kinds of ballads while traveling in the war. When studying at Harvard under a professor, he began a systematic investigation of ballad poetry and mo- noral. He has published a volume entitled "Cowboy Songs and Ballads," which contains over a hundred songs sung by the cowboys. He is also president of the American Folklore association, a devoted to the investigation of American traditions in poetry and music and song.

In his lecture yesterday afternoon, Prof. Lomax spoke in great of cowboy songs and ballads, and talked doubly interesting by giving ex- tractions from the ballads and by sing- ing for one of their selection. His talk on Negro songs gave interesting in- formation regarding many of the folk melodies and words relater- ing to negro slave life and intro- ducement of the negro ballad in Na- tional life history known to them. Both lectures have stimulated among stu- of English a real interest in ballad poetry, and it is obvious to America while Professor Pifer has long been a collector of this class of poems.

DEBATES ON NEW PLAN

The inter-academic debates will be held at the northeast college next year. When the teams are chosen in the fall, the better of the championships will lose for sites in the final contest. This will be the best way to get ready for the advantage of another team in which they have a most challenging game.

As was stated the other day, for this plan the 1926 for the winner in the preliminary to come sides of the question for the final, this get- ting another team in the advantage of knowing which side of the question the will have the best.

NEW BUILDING FOR UNIVERSITY

BUT NOBODY KNOWS WHAT IT IS GOING TO BE.

For Sale Changes are to be Made Giving the Geology and Botany Department Greater Facilities—Y. M. C. A. May Have Look In, Also.

Building committee of the state board of education meets at Des Moines today to recommend new buildings for the various state institutions and members of the faculty here are now conjecturing on what shape the structures will be added in the campus as a result. The first and foremost rumor is that a magniificent addition to the university library building is to be constructed,
but, however, as an addition to the natural science hall, but an addition to the law building and fronting to ward Clinton street in the spring

Then along with this rumor comes the conjecture that the geology department is going to be favored, but whether or not the old science hall is to be replaced by a new structure is not known. More probable it seems that the committee will recommend extensive changes in the natural science auditorium and hall
so as to furnish rooms for the geoly and botany departments from their already much over crowded quarters.

There is another egocentric that the committee will recommend a new Y. M. C. A. building for the university, the aim to take care of the various literary societies and student organizations as well as a rest room
in general for Iowa students.

The date for the debate has not been named.

Dr. E. Reoseheph has just returned from Dayton, Iowa, where he attended the funeral of his father, Mr. Emily Reoseheph. Mrs. Reoseheph will be well remembered by Iowa City people, having lived here a number of times. The deceased has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Anderson, at Madrid. Two grandchildren, Paul and Agnes Anderson, are also attending school there.

Keda to Give Social

The Illinois society will give a social at the Iowa campus on Saturday night. The Keda society is chiefly a Scandinavian society, but Swedes are elected to membership also. The Swedes are known for their good deeds and all societies of the university take a great interest in these societies that come together.
