More Members Are Added to Y. M. C. A.

First Two Days of Campaign Prove Successful to Association

One Man Gained Twenty New Members; Most Students Sign Membership Cards Willingly—400 Goal Set for Week.

The Y. M. C. A. membership campaign is far easier than the most enthusiastic supporter of the association ever dreamed. In the near future, the whole membership cards will be signed by every student who is asked to sign the membership card does so.

The percentage of students who are members of some church or who choose some church preference is high here. Throughout the Y. M. C. A. work in this city, very few of the members to be done are to see the men in school who have not yet been asked. Of course the men who have must sign those who yet fail to appreciate the work that the Y. M. C. A. is doing for the men of the university.

Second One High.

On the opening day of the contest one team gained 52 new members. The individual honors so far for the men who gained twenty members have been especially good. Of course the men who have turned in as high a score are not new on the first 100 men. A high score is for the men who have not yet been asked. To see those who have not had the chance of being asked is very simple. Students should be ready at any time to talk on the Y. M. C. A., as he is an enthusiastic supporter of the effort that is being done to see the men in school who have not yet been asked. Of course the men who have must sign those who yet fail to appreciate the great work that the Y. M. C. A. is doing for the men of the university.

ProfessorPalmer Speaks at Liberal Arts Assembly Hall Next Monday Evening

A lecture of special interest will be given in the liberal arts assembly hall on Monday evening, February 27, by Daniel Hall Palmer on the subject "The Roman Campaign." This lecture will be under the auspices of the Iowa State Society of the Archaeological Institute of America.

Prof. Palmer received his B. A. from Yale in 1871, and his LL. B. in 1872. In 1885 he was instructor in Western Reserve university, in 1890, professor in 1899-1900; since 1894 has been professor, and is now chairman of the American School of Classical Studies in Rome in 1899-1904; and author of "The History and Monuments of Ancient Rome," now in the third edition.

Dr. Palmer is especially well qualified to talk on this little corner of the subject as he has an intimate knowledge of it arising from several years study in Rome and vicinity and also in France and Italy. This lecture will cover a long period of years in the chosen field. His work on "Topography and Monuments of Ancient Rome," has won him wide recognition both in this country and in Europe.

He will first discuss the origin and history of the Roman Campaigns, and then go on to describe the extent of the territory involved, the formation of the army, the battles, and the character and influence of the River Tiber and of the harbor.

He will describe the inhabitants of the different part of the district the Roman Campaigns brought about, the great changes in the country, and will outline its essential history.

Lastly he will take up at some length three characteristic features of the Campagna, namely, the roads with their tombs, the aqueducts, and the most important towns, such as Gaeta and Praeneste. The lecture is richly illustrated with engravings of special interest.

Lecture to Students

Prof. Wm. E. Ransome, of the German department delivered a very interesting lecture on the "Passage of the Po" for a meeting of the club, M. C. A. and W. V. C. A. at Cloon hall last evening. Prof. Ransome viewed the play in 1913, and thus was able to present a general interpretation of it.

His lecture was profusely illustrated with fine line drawings, views of the town and the passes, and the actual position of the players. Out of the largest crowds that ever attended a meeting of this kind hearts were in this instance, the hall to its im-

Hawley to Come Back Next Fall

Popular Coach Will Again Lead Iowa Football Men on to Victory

Jesse B. Hawley, Iowa's popular football coach for the past three years, has accepted the position for another season. His contract was renewed by Manager Kellogg yesterday and this came as good news to the following statement made several weeks ago that it would be impossible to come back. When his acceptance message arrived it was a surprise to everybody to say the least.

Hawley's success as football coach during the three years that he has been here has been remarkable. Twice he has won the bold boasted state championship and in both cases the men have ranked higher in the Big Nine than they have in any time since the great team in 1904. The records of the green and white are a measure of Hawley's ability to come back to hand on the future in the competition of assistant coach in the next fall to succeed him. Hawley's ability to come back to hand on the future in the competition of assistant coach in the next fall to succeed him.

Dr. Hawley's successor will be given in the liberal arts assembly hall on Monday evening, February 27, by Daniel Hall Palmer on the subject "The Roman Campaign." This lecture will be under the auspices of the Iowa State Society of the Archaeological Institute of America.

The lecture was profusely illustrated with fine line drawings, views of the town and the passes, and the actual position of the players. Out of the largest crowds that ever attended a meeting of this kind hearts were in this instance, the hall to its im-

HARWOOD GIVEN AN APPOINTMENT

Alumni Secretary Put on Committee By Newly Organized Association

H. M. Harwood, secretary of the alumni bureau, was honored by being appointed a member of a committee set up by pans and topics of the National Intercollegiate Alumni association of Alumni Secretaries. This is a distinct honor, not only for Mr. Harwood but also for the university.

The association will meet at the University of Ohio at Columbus, Ohio on the 22 and 23 of February. At least fifteen alumni secretaries representing the leading universities across the United States, have promised that they will be present.

NEWLY ORGANIZED

This is the initial meeting of the association. It was organized but a short time ago. The purpose of the organization is to discuss many problems that confront the men who try to organize the alumni or any school. Most of these problems are brought about by the alumni themselves, and many times neglect to keep in touch with their alma mater.

The committee on which Iowa is represented is one of the important committees for upon its work depends the success of the newly formed association.

Shine on Trees

Prof. Bohumil Shimk, acting head of the department of botany at the State University of Iowa, yesterday afternoon spoke before the Farmers' Institute having for his subject "Beautifying the Roadside." This was one of the most valuable talks made before the Institute yesterday as the subject is one of the vital conditions with which the farmers have to deal.

He was a plea to a people of the country to protect the woods and trees as a new and to make every one of us realize the beautifying the country and the roadways with trees of beauty and durability. He did not urge extravagance in his talk but presented a very sensible plan whereby much could be done in this way.
