GRINNELL PLAYS HERE TONIGHT

THESE TEAMS HAVE FOUNDED FOR STATE CHAMPIONSHIP FOR SEVERAL YEARS

GRINNELL JOHNSON Has Scored

The Iowa basketball team will meet Grinnell on the local floor at 7:30 o'clock and this game should be a certain decided favorite of the fans of the black and gold team and should make a good job of disposing of the University of Nebraska team, a well-organized outfit, which is expected to excel with over confidence existing in the minds of the Cornhuskers.

There are a number of key men on the Iowa team, and the Grinnell team has been able to use an excellent one of its players, however, worn out to play the forward. It has been decided advantage over the Hawkeyes. Captain Egan is a player for the University, and a captain for the team, and as captain he is being one of the best players, for they are the star, and great, which are the captors of the fans, is playing an unbroken game at forward.

With a well balanced team, having stars like Egan and Forster, with the piano recital which he gave last year, and a splendid sense of humor and nonsense, along with the entire for a. m., well known to Iowa the subject of the University of Pennsylvania team, which has been their principal interests, and has been their principal interests.

In the Scottish and American and the American, the University of Pennsylvania team, which has been their principal interests, and has been their principal interests.

REVIEW

Soon to play with the examinations on for an hour to come The instructor's mind is occupied with thoughts concerning the mass of detecting and punishing the offender and the idea that the instructor or the instructor's act or the students might be handicapped.

School High Meet Closed

The state high school basketball tournament, which formerly scheduled for the 22 and 23 of March, has been changed to being caught where this will be done. The ball on the other hand looks nice and thinks. "Catch me if you can." With such a practice as this, driving football right in the presence of the detective. The main reason for this is the way we live, the law and the power that dictates to the will. This force instead of coming from without should be personal. It should rest upon the man who has to take the examination. We do not argue for an honor sys- tem at Iowa, but we do maintain that if all the students were put upon their own honor as men and women who are to succeed, cobbling and its attendant evils would be minimized at Iowa.

BASKETBALL

Iowa meets Grinnell on the local floor tonight in that game that will be played in December, the basketball title for 1913-14. Both teams have prepared carefully for this contest because they both are real amateurs to win. Iowa wants to bring the basket ball championship here this year. The team, disregarding the loss in the championship, has been determined to fight for success of the season. Just how fruitful this determination to play up every minute of the game will be, depends upon the support given the team by the student body. The students are out for the Grin neel, it is certain the team will be the first which to the final call of the game.

All those who enjoy basketball I think is really played should see the game tonight. These old rivals are out for the long run of the season, and will employ every bit of knowl edge that they have about the game.

The three things that we can't en capse.

Are Death, Taxes and Exams.

We can close our eyes to pleading

And hear not the orphan's wail;

We can blot our public school

And keep peaceful out of jail.

But we can't

We can ward off age and wrinkles,

From the tears that never cease;

We can go to church right off

And appear to be "at home.

We can keep ourselves in condition;

And enjoy the wolf at the door.

We can even escape our relations

If we go to a foreign shore.

But no matter how we escape

We must flunk that final exam.

THOUSANDS HAVE EXAMINATIONS MADE

Dr. Henry Albert Issues Report of the Bacteriological Laboratory

Over 3,000 Examinations were Made for Impediments—Three Premises Given with Pasteur Treatment—Epidemics Were Stopped.

Examinations tend to promote good health and prevent disease among the citizens of Iowa, as evidenced by reports. An examination was held in November and December, and 2,800 examinations were made under the direction of Dr. Henry Albert of the Bacteriological Laboratory of the State Board of Health.

During the past three months more examinations were made in the laboratory than during any previous quarter. About 800 examinations were registered and preventive treatments given under the direction of Dr. Albert. Over 2,000 examinations were made for diplhtiasis alone.

Many Vaccinated

The number of those vaccinated against diphtiasis has increased. The percentage of success is about ten per cent greater than in previous years.

Find Little Tuberculosis

Examinations of the laboratory specimens of diphtiasis patients were made, and some of these were found to consist of many small germs. It is believed that these germs are carried by persons suffering from tuberculosis in their throat, but not actually afflicted with the disease. These germs are called "carriers." The position of these "carriers" has not been found in any of the offices of the department.

Almost 200 examinations were made to determine the presence of the disease. Of this number, 98 specimens were found to contain tubercle bacilli. Miscellaneous examinations were made including 161 examinations of water, 22 of milk, and 183 of miscellaneous specimens.

What Poisies You Edit.

An advertisement in the Iowa Press has been written by a man who claims to have lived in the state for twenty-five years. A two-cent piece was found in his pocket, but it is not known whether it was taken from Iowa or from another state.

Atomic Vibration Is Demonstrated

Exhibition of Brownian Movement Theory Given by Professor Stewart

The atomic theory of matter has always been an interesting one. Until recent years it has been regarded merely as a theory. Many and varied experiments of physicists have convinced the scientific world that the atomic theory is worthy of as much confidence as the existence of matter itself. Some of the experiments have been performed with the Brownian movement.

Some particles of solid matter suspended in a liquid are seen, when magnified, to move violently agitated. In point of fact, these particles have the same mean kinetic energy as the molecules of the liquid. With microscope magnifications these particles can be distinctly seen in rapid vibration through the liquid itself in what is ordinarily termed "at rest." The Brownian movement renders visible to the eye the agitation of the molecules of a liquid, which is otherwise apparently at rest.

The Brownian movement was demonstrated on Wednesday evening by Prof. G. W. Stewart, head of the physics department. Those who have never seen enough to write about the rain were simply amazed by the excellent demonstration and the interesting lectures which accompanied it.
