UNPOPULAR RULING WILL BE ABOLISHED

TWO SPORT RULE THAT HAS BEEN IN VOGUE FOR FOUR YEARS TO BE REVOKED

Rule Has Played Havoc With Basketball Teams—Elimination of the Edict Will Strengthen Next Year's Team—No More Games This Week

The two sport rule which has been in vogue in Iowa for the past four years will in all probability be revoked at the close of the present basketball season. This famous edict was put into effect in the fall of 1909 after a majority of the athletes in the university were conditioned or failed at the end of the first semester's work. This played havoc with the basketball team of that year for it lost three of the stars.

The rule was primarily passed to meet the local conditions which existed at that time here in the university. Since it has been in operation, the track and basketball teams have suffered to a great extent because of the inability of the men who take part in basketball and football to come out for the other branches of sport.

There are many candidates who would be out for the basketball team who prefer to take part in football in the fall and baseball in the spring rather than play basketball, which they do not consider to be as popular as the other branches of sport.

No other university in the west has adopted this "limitation policy," and under these conditions Iowa has been handicapped in the basketball games and in the track meets since this rule went into effect. At no time has it been so conspicuous as during the present season. In all of the games in which the Hawkeyes have played, they have been up against a team composed of from three to four gridiron stars. There are from ten to fifteen men who were on the football squad last fall who refused to come out for basketball for the reason that they would be barred from the favorite pastime of baseball next spring.

The rule was necessary at the time that it was passed, but now it has outgrown its usefulness. The track team will profit by its abolition, not to say the good it will do for the basketball team next year.

This being examination week, there will be little of interest in the world of sports in the university. There will be no basketball games during the time of mental anxiety, and the next appearance of the local five will be on next Monday evening when the strong Lewis Institute team from Chicago comes to Iowa City to contest their supremacy with the Iowa aggregation.

Luther E. Widen, a fellow in the psychology department, is able to be about again after undergoing an operation in the university hospital.

PAUL S. PIERCE HIGHLY HONORED

Professor Peirce Appointed Chairman of Iowa State Child Labor Committee Last Week

Mr. Owen R. Lovejoy of New York City, general secretary of the national child labor committee, has recently announced the appointment of Professor Paul S. Peirce as chairman of the Iowa State Child Labor committee. In this position Professor Peirce succeeds Professor Isaac A. Loos, who has served as chairman for some years and who was active in securing the first child labor law for Iowa, but who asked some time ago to be relieved of the responsibilities of the chairmanship.

The purpose of this state committee is the promotion of child welfare particularly in our own state. To this end, it seeks, in co-operation with the national committee and other agencies, to secure fuller and more accurate knowledge of existing conditions, to help on the enactment of good child labor laws, and to develop an intelligent and general interest in their enforcement.

NEW PROFESSOR ARRIVES

Professor J. L. Deming, the new professor in the department of political economy, arrived yesterday morning. Professor Deming came here from New Haven. His work will be along the line of sociology. In this work courses sixteen, American Social Conditions, and twenty-six, Principles of Sociology, are open to juniors and seniors. Course fifty-four, which is also under his direction, is more especially for graduate students.

Today Professor Deming will have his office hours in room 205 from ten to twelve. During the remainder of the week his hours will be from eleven to twelve in room 205. At these hours the professor wishes to consult with any student desiring work under him.

JUDGES FOR STORY CONTEST

The judges for the Hawkeye short story contest have just been selected and are as follows:

Professor Hunt of the English department, Walter L. Myers instructor in English in the college of engineering and Miss Beryl Hart, instructor in the English department.

The rules for the contest have been published in a former issue of The Iowan. For any information regarding the contest, call at the Hawkeye office.

LIEUT. KEPPLER PROMOTED

Friends of Lieut. Chester H. J. Keppler, S. U. I., C. E. '06, and U. S. N. A. '07, will be pleased to learn of his recent promotion in the navy. He was one of the twelve officers chosen from the classes of 1906 to 1910 to take the post graduate work recently established at the U. S. naval academy, and will specialize in steam and electrical engineering and machine design.

PHILOS PLANNING BIG ORGANIZATION

ALL PHILOMATHEAN LITERARY SOCIETIES OF STATE TO COMBINE

Announced Last Night That the Move Would Probably Carry—16 Societies in the State Concerned in the Big Move Organization.

If present plans and arrangements do not fail, all the Philomathean literary societies of the state will soon be joined together in one big organization. Ever since last year, this movement has been going on, and the culmination of the ideals of the founders of the plan will on doubt soon be realized.

Sixteen societies in the state colleges and universities are concerned in the organization into a fraternity. It is the plan to extend the boundaries of the organization as soon as possible, and it is not improbable that in a few years practically every literary society in the country will be a member of the fraternity.

The pin to be worn by members will likely be the Greek letter Phi. This is the first letter of the word Philomathean which means "love of learning." On the Phi will be inscribed whatever is deemed appropriate, the exact nature of which is yet unknown.

At present it is mere conjecture, but many who are acquainted with the movement assert that such a state and national organization will revolutionize literary society work in colleges and universities. Especially in the large schools has this decline been noticed. The organization of the societies on a large scale, it is said, will stimulate interest in the work.

M. H. TEEUWEN INJURES FINGER

Mechanician for Department of Physics and Psychology Has Hand Injured in Shops

In a very regrettable accident last evening at 5 o'clock, Marinus H. Teeuwen had the misfortune to lose a part of the forefinger of the left hand. He was busily engaged in his duties as mechanician for the department of physics when the accident occurred.

A late report last evening was to the effect that the injury would not incapacitate him for the continuance of his work here except for a week or two. Only a small portion of the finger was removed, about one-half of the first joint. The second finger also was slightly bruised.

Mr. Teeuwen will be greatly missed during his absence the next few days. He has become known as one of the best men of his profession, and his services are invaluable to the physics department of the university.

WHAT UNIVERSITIES COST

The U. S. Bureau of Education compiled statistics for the school year of 1909-10 showing the per capita cost to the state of maintaining the state universities which presented the following facts:

Wisconsin	$311
Michigan	204
Nebraska	143
Missouri	200
Cornell	364
Columbia	274
Yale	293
Iowa	181
Ohio State	191
Chicago	246
Stanford	283
California	330
Minnesota	163
Illinois	194
Texas	169
Kansas (1911-12)	157

OFFICERS ELECTED

Besides the election of the national president of the A. C. C. Saturday night, the Cosmopolitan club elected the following officers for the local chapter:

President, L. T. Jones; vice-president, Marguerite Rohret; secretary, R. Ahmed! treasurer, Carrie Noteboom; assistant treasurer, S. M. Sanyal; business representative, Carl Jordan; press representative, Ival McPeak; sergeant-at-arms, A. K. Watanabe.

POWERS TO RETURN

Ambrose Powers, the well known cartoonist, who was compelled to leave the university last fall, will return Thursday to take up his studies again. He was active in many things about the campus, being president of the sophomore class and taking part in many other activities that will require his presence this coming semester. His work as cartoonist on The Iowan last fall was the source of general comment.

ENGINEERING MIX UP TO THE LEGISLATURE

QUESTION OF REMOVAL OF ENGINEERS TO AMES TO COME UP THIS WEEK

Senate Seems to Be Divided Upon the Question—House Will Probably Oppose Action of Board by a Large Majority.

The Register and Leader in yesterday's issue says:

A fight, which it has been predicted will be the bitterest and most unrelenting before the legislature in years, probably will be begun in assembly this week. It will come when an effort is made either to sanction or reject the shift made in the state schools by the board of education.

Rumor about the hotel lobbies yesterday indicated that a start is to be made soon. Whether those favoring the changes or those opposing the changes will begin it is a question. It is more likely that the latter will make the first move in order to insure a full airing of the different opinions.

The manner in which the fight is to be carried on has not been made public. The question might be placed before the legislature in the form of a joint resolution or a bill restricting the powers of the board of education and declaring void the action already taken.

Alumni of the three schools involved are taking a hand in the movement. The university at Iowa City probably has more representatives discussing the situation with the legislators than either of the other schools. Several members of both branches of the assembly are graduates of the university and those who do not approve of taking the engineering school away from the university believe they will get the solid support of these legislators.

The senate, it is understood, is almost evenly divided upon the question. In the preliminary school skirmish in that body Friday, a roll call disclosed that neither side is certain of its ground. This skirmish was over new normal schools, but under the surface it was declared by some to represent the sentiment on the other proposition.

Those who are opposed to the board of education are placing their hopes in the house. They feel sure that this body will defeat and attempt to indorse the board's action.

The fact that the board of education has asked an appropriation for work on the women's dormitory at Ames, indicates that the board is losing hope of the acceptance of its plan. The plan contemplates the moving of students in domestic science to Iowa City. If this is to be done, there will be no need for additional accommodations for women.

THE PROPOSED CHANGE

The mischief done to Iowa athletics by the "limitation policy" which prohibits athletes from competing in more than two intercollegiate sports affords good cause for the abolition of such a limitation.

Iowa track and basketball men can not fairly compete with track and basketball men from neighboring institutions which allow athletes to enter as many sports as they choose. The only limitation upon men from Minnesota and Chicago is the one of scholarship. As long as a Chicago athlete can get by the faculty he can enter intercollegiate sports. No such freedom exists at Iowa. Limited to two sports, the Iowa athlete is constrained to choose football and baseball, the more popular games, while he allows basketball and track to go begging.

Our present season of basketball with its chain of defeats, pleads eloquently for a broader and more generous limitation policy. The present rule has a marked tendency to starve out two branches of intercollegiate sport. If we are to maintain basketball and track at Iowa, our athletes must be given greater freedom in the number of sports that they can enter.

ANOTHER PROGRAM

ENGLERT THEATRE

"Billy" Englert has a classy little show at his pretty playhouse this week. From beginning to end the audience was in wrapped attention at both performances yesterday. The bill is headed by Whittier-Intz and Company in a comedy sketch entitled "A Doctor's Dilemma," which is well worth a place in a classy bill. Vance and Vance are novelty entertainers, as their act is headed, giving the theatregoers a variety of comedy and songs, which is well received.

Pollard is a comedy juggling comedian of the average class and helps to fill out the bill admirably.

Betty Hendricks has a line of songs which gets her in well with the crowd from the start; she has a winning personality which would appeal to the most conservative critic.

The Bigneys in their aquatic feat ends the bill with a novel stunt that brings the show to a fitting end.

ST. CLAIR DECLINES POSITION

Mr. Stuart St. Clair, assistant in the department of geology and a student in the graduate college, has received an offer to go to Mexico. His services are sought by a large oil syndicate. Mr. St. Clair has declined the position and will remain here to continue his graduate work.

IOWA'S GREATST PREACHER WILL BE HERE SOON

Doctor Titus Lowe of Cedar Falls to be Here February 5 to Give Interesting Talk

Iowa's greatest preacher will come to the university Feb. 5 to open up a mission study campaign for the second semester. Titus Lowe is pastor of the Methodist church at Cedar Falls, previously coming from the largest English speaking church in Calcutta, India. He is the most widely sought speaker among the ministers of the state, and will give a great address on "The World Around."

Following up this big meeting there will be an enrollment for the classes in the study of missions which are to be offered for eight weeks. Mr. Ling, a capable Chinese student who has done similar work at the University of Missouri and at Syracuse, will lead a course on the "Chinese Revolution." Discussion of the formation of this new republic ought to be a very interesting study. "Day Break in Turkey" will take up a discussion of this country which has attracted such wide interest and continues to attract at the present moment the attention of the whole world. Louis Mounts, who has spent some time in this country as a teacher in the Central Turkey College, will lead. Other courses will be offered on "The Challenge of the City," and "The Challenge of the Country." All the courses will last just eight weeks and will meet in the association building at times suitable to the class.

Showing the interest of the men in this work, four hundred dollars has already been paid in on the pledge to the partial support of J. J. McConnell, Jr., Iowa's representative in India. It is hoped that funds will be forthcoming within a few weeks to pay the balance. McConnell landed in India January 1st, and has already begun his work among the students of that country.

HEP MEETING POSTPONED

The Hesperian literary society has postponed its regular meeting that was to have taken place this evening to February 4. This was done on account of the examinations that are playing havoc among students. The following is the program that will be given next week:

- Reading, Maude Britton.
- Current Events, Esther Paulus.
- Discussion, Mary Lee versus Helen Baldwin.
- Novel review, Lenore Rhyno.

A defective flue caused a fire at the Phi Gamma Delta house at Columbia university January 17. The loss was small, however, as the chief of the fire department did not have to complain of "low pressure" as in some smaller college towns.

The first forestry course ever given at the University of Wisconsin was inaugurated January 17. Students in the course will study in the university at Madison until April 16. After that date they will work in the state forest reserves in the northern part of the state. The course will last two years.

The swimming club of McGill university of Montreal will compete with several of the large universities of the United States this season. The club will leave Montreal this week to swim against Pennsylvania and Yale. Arrangements with Columbia university, New York City, and several other large schools have not been completed.
